

THOMPSON WOULD ASK DEPARTMENTS TO MAKE OWN CUT

Officials and Councilmen Are Marking Time Until Return of Shank.

City department heads and councilmen today were marking time in the budget squabble until the return of Mayor Shank Saturday from Detroit.
A scheduled meeting Thursday night between councilmen and administration heads failed to take place when Councilman Thompson notified Joseph Hogue, city controller, late Thursday that the council had ordered the 4.5-cent cut in the budget, and would allow one week for departments to cut their own requests.

Hogue maintains that the budget was introduced as an ordinance and changes must come from the council.
Meanwhile department heads continued their protests against the 3-cent cut in the general fund. They are planning hope on a conference scheduled between the council finance committee, Mayor Shank and Hogue at 3 p. m. Monday that differences will be adjusted.
Chamber of Commerce officials notified Hogue Thursday that changes in the budget were not the result of their suggestion.
Hogue again warned today that the proposed cuts of the council would seriously cripple operation of city government next year. A reduction of $279,000 was ordered, including a cut of $188,000 in the general fund.

Love

Love means happiness—and misery. Love means success—and failure. Love means great adventure—and tragic boredom. Love means everything—or nothing, as Robert Hichens, Gene Stratton-Porter, I. A. R. Wylie, Coningsby Dawson and others, show you in September Good Housekeeping.

The need for love

There are times when love is needed more than anything else in the world. Clive Baratrie needed it. He was on trial for the murder of a woman whose life became entangled with his. More than reputation, more than freedom, more than vindication in the eyes of the world, he needed love. Without love, he could have none of these—not even life itself. And so, his greatest hunger, his greatest need was the love of his mother and his fiancée. An extraordinary new novel by Robert Hichens—"After the Verdict." Read the first long installment in September Good Housekeeping.

Can love survive suspicion?

Jealousy, doubt, suspicion—these things can make love bitter and heartbreaking. Mahala felt them creep into her life when, in its darkest moment, the man she loved believed her to be dishonest. Suspicion gave way to conviction, and in the most dramatic story she has ever written, Gene Stratton-Porter bares the soul-torturing spectacle of love as it affects a whole town. Read "The White Flag" in September Good Housekeeping.

The failure of mother-love

It isn't only necessary for a mother to love her daughter. There must be something else. Joyce's mother had met with shipwreck on the coast of folly and now Joyce herself was in the grip of scandal. Read Coningsby Dawson's significant novel—"The Coast of Folly"—in September Good Housekeeping.

Robert Hichens

author of "Bella Donna"
"The Garden of Allah"

Suppose your son, your fiancé were on trial for murder? Innocent or guilty, what will be the life of a man who has been tried for murder? Read "After the Verdict" in September Good Housekeeping.

In the same issue:

Stories by Gene Stratton-Porter, Coningsby Dawson, Dana Burnet, I. A. R. Wylie, Mary Synon, and Adela Rogers St. Johns. 7 stories and 54 features.

Traps set for women

There are traps set for every woman who has money. How she can save it, what pitfalls to avoid, are told by Edward Mott Woolley.

And... "On Being Presented to the Queen of England," by Frances P. Keyes; Winter Fashions Fore-casted; Interior Decoration; Cookery; Home Management; Dr. Wylie;
