

FACULTY CHANGES MADE AT BUTLER AS OPENING NEARS

1,200 Enrollment Expected;
Elaborate Housing
Plans Made.

Several changes have been made in the personnel of the Butler faculty for the coming semester in order to meet the needs of the enlarged student body and to fill the vacancies left by leaves of absence.

Assistant Professor R. B. Miller, graduate of Harvard University and master in education and economics, will take the place of Edward Funkay, economics department, who will teach in the Iowa Teachers' College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Miss Anita Stewart, graduate of Butler, '21, will be added to the staff of the English department.

Leave for Columbia

Miss Emily Helmung will occupy the place left vacant by the leave of absence of Assistant Professor Corinne Welling, who will attend Columbia University to complete her doctor's degree. Miss Helmung, '99, has been instructor in Manual Training High School.

Assistant Professor Joseph Fucilla, graduate of University of Wisconsin, will take the position left vacant by Dale Beeler, who will attend Columbia this fall. Fucilla will be a member of the French and Spanish departments. Other additions to this department are Miss Ester Renfrew of Butler and Miss Mary Agnes Shoswater, formerly of Butler and graduate of Illinois University.

Assistant Professor Juna Lutz will return to the mathematics department. Miss Lutz had a leave of absence last year in order to complete her master's degree at Chicago. Mrs. Bradley, who was substituting for Miss Lutz, will go to Radcliffe College for her master's degree.

1,200 Enrollment Expected

Plans are being completed for the housing of the enlarged student body at Butler. It is expected that the enrollment will reach 1,200.

To date the freshmen class numbers 245. Last year the increase in enrollment was 162.3 per cent; this year it is expected to reach 25 per cent over last year.

Several classrooms have been added, and the college is preparing every possible space in order to accommodate the overflow. Classes will be held from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Registration for the upper classmen will begin Sept. 18; freshmen, Sept. 19. Classes start Sept. 20.

SEVEN PRISONERS FROM COUNTY ASK TO BE PARDONED

Howard Cerf, Alleged Habitual Criminal, One of Cases to Appear.

Howard Cerf, a Marion County man, now serving a life term in the State prison for habitual criminality, is one of seven local persons whose cases will come before the State board of pardons at this month's session. Cerf, concurrently is serving a one-to-fourteen-year sentence for automobile theft. He was sentenced from Marion County March 3, 1920. In the petition it is alleged that no evidence was presented showing him to be an habitual criminal. Forty new cases from various counties of the State are on file.

Other local petitions for clemency: Henry Monroe, sentenced in juvenile court Nov. 1, 1922, to 180 days in the State farm and fined $500 for child neglect; Henry Schoenrock, sentenced from Marion County in 1919 to 10 years to four terms in the State prison for embezzlement; Jessie Provine, sentenced from Marion County Feb. 19, 1922, to 10 years to four terms in the State prison; Charles Barratt, sentenced from Marion County March 31, 1923, to one to three years in State prison for wife desertion; and Fred W. Weller, sentenced Dec. 28, 1920, to five to fourteen years in State prison for robbery; William Beville, sentenced to ten to twenty-one years in State prison for robbery. Later transferred to State prison; Benjie Herndon, sentenced Oct. 20, 1917, to ten to twenty-year term. State prison; Harry L. Johnson, sentenced to State prison, later transferred to State prison, is among the five persons reopening their cases.

Trini Just Is Her Own Sweet, Natural Self

By WALTER D. HICKMAN.

"LOVE" real people. Blessed are he or she who are just themselves in their dressing rooms between acts.

I went back stage at the Murat the other night to meet Trini, that flash of sparkling personality which aids "The Dancing Girl" to be so pleasing.

She was just entering her dressing room, the "star" one after the first act when I arrived back stage. This little woman (she reminds me of just a slip of a girl) didn't explode any fireworks.

She introduced me to an elderly woman who was waiting for her. Trini explained that the woman in question was her chaperon.

"As my mother come not across the tour, so I have my chaperon," Trini explained.

Trini is making her first American tour as she played in the show during its long New York run, but went back to Spain when the show opened in Chicago. She returned in time to play the last week in Chicago, coming direct to the Murat.

"You remind me of Ethelred Terry," I remarked with caution, as I know some people of the stage do not like comparisons.

Did Trini explode? She did not. She is real, I tell you. "Yes, many people think so," she said. "We wear our hair the same way and we both do the Spanish dance numbers in our shows. I met her in London."

Isn't that too nice for words? Miss Terry made us "love" her in "Honey Dew" and "The Music Box Revue." Of course you remember.

I asked Trini concerning certain things on her dressing tables. Now, I tell you it takes a real person not to get offended when a mere man desires to look at the pretty things on a girl's dressing table.

Together we approached the table of mystery. I saw more beautiful back combs and earrings than I ever have seen in my life. The combs are marvelous and the earrings, Oh, la la. "I am not superstitious," she said. "Look at these."

I noticed she was wearing some strange looking ear ornaments.

They looked like a half dollar with the middle taken out. The rim was lined with diamonds and in the center was a large "13" set in diamonds.

"I was born on the thirteenth of the month," she told me.

Scientific Starch Discovery Banishes Ironing Troubles

* * *

EVERY woman knows that one of the greatest annoyances is working with starch that forms a thick, sticky jelly the moment it is cool. This heavy, pasty starch cloths and smears your fabrics, and often causes your iron to stick.

All

trouble has now been overcome with Linit, the new scientific starch.

New Starch Discovery

remarkable starch is made by an improved process that keeps it fluid after it cools. You are never troubled with clotting, smearing or "blistering." Linit penetrates every thread of the fabric, helps prevent wear, and strengthens the material.

Linit gives ordinary cotton goods an attractive linen finish and your Linit-starched garments remain clean and fresh much longer.

Important to you

AFTER Linit is thoroughly dissolved according to directions, and ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and FREE-RUNNING LIKE WATER—with a "milky" appearance. Be sure to use Linit according to directions, and, unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is one reason why Linit goes much further than the old-fashioned kind of starches and is easier to iron with.

Linit costs 10c at all grocers

Get a package and begin the modern way of starching your fabrics. Perfection in starching guaranteed or your money refunded.

Linit is made by the Corn Products Refining Company—makers of the famous Argo Starch—Karo Syrup and Mazola Salad and Cooking Oil.
