

JACKIE COOGAN ROMPS IN 'CIRCUS DAYS' AT CIRCLE

Tom Mix Appears in First of
New Fox Movie Specials
at Apollo Sunday.

COMEDY reigns supreme on the local screen next week.

Most of the theaters will offer photoplays which are scheduled to make one happy.

Jackie Coogan, the grand little fellow, will frolic to his heart's content at the Circle next week in "Circus Days."

Tom Mix, a Fox star, will be at the Apollo in the first of a new series of special productions. The first one is called "Soft Boiled."

Booth Tarkington's "The Flirt," a comedy of a small town, will be the featured offering at Mister Smith's. The Isla will present Gladys Walton in a satirical movie, "The Town Scandal."

The Ohio will hold up the dramatic interest of the city by presenting a new movie version of Robert W. Chambers' novel, "The Common Law." Corinne Griffith, Conway Tearle and Elliott Dexter are in the cast.

"Circus Days" With Jackie
In New Feature at Circle.

Jackie Coogan comes to the Circle Sunday in "Circus Days," adapted from James Otis' well known story of Circus life, "Toby Tyler."

Jackie is seen as Toby, who runs away from the farm where he has lived with his widowed mother as the unwelcome guests of his aunt and uncle, to join a circus. Here he becomes the lemonade and peanut vendor and though his harsh employer makes him work very hard, he is happy in the friendship of old Luigi, the clown, and Luigi's little niece, Jeanette, the equestrienne. He works for one dollar a week, which he sends home to his mother every week, depriving himself of many things he wants in order that his mother may have a "steady income."

His big chance comes when Jeanette sprains her ankle and he offers to substitute for her, and accidentally becomes the star clown of the circus, and it is a triumphant young business man who returns to his uncle's farm to rescue his mother from the uncle's cruelties, and bears her away to a more happy and prosperous life.

Peaches Jackson appears in support of the small star, and she offers to substitute for her, and accidentally becomes the star clown of the circus, and it is a triumphant young business man who returns to his uncle's farm to rescue his mother from the uncle's cruelties, and bears her away to a more happy and prosperous life.

The usual short novelty films and the orchestra overture, "Merry Melodies" by Keler Bela, complete the program.

Chambers' "Common Law" at Ohio Next Week

"The Common Law," which is a screen adaptation of Robert W. Chambers' novel of the same name, comes to the Ohio next week. Co-starred are Corinne Griffith, Conway Tearle and Elliott Dexter, while an exceptional supporting cast includes Doris May, Hobart Bosworth, Miss DuPont, Bryant Washburn, Phyllis Haver, Harry Myers and Wally Van.

The story of "The Common Law" is really that of Valerie West a sweet and rather unsophisticated young girl who, suddenly thrown upon her own resources, sets out to earn her own living, but with no tangible idea as to what she is best fitted to undertake. During her search for work she calls at the studio of Louis Neville, an artist who, seeing her great possibilities as a model, persuades her to pose for him in the nude.

She achieves great success as a model but retains her sweetness and charm in spite of her environment. Neville and she finally returns his love. But the artist's family is furious at what they deem an undesirable union, and influence Valerie to give him up by convincing her that the marriage will wreck his career.

She tries desperately to kill his love and nearly succeeds, but in the end their attachment is too strong and Valerie finally offers to live with him as his common law wife. Neville first refuses, but is finally on the point of accepting Valerie's sacrifice of honor when unexpected forces intervene which rush the story to its dramatic climax.

Tom Mix, king of action, who is to be starred this season in a series of new Fox special productions, at the Apollo next week in the first of these, "Soft Boiled," a jazzy comedy drama in which Mix, as the hero, has a hot time trying to keep from being "hard boiled" in all that the slang phrase implies. Everything that the lover of thrill delights in is to be found in this picture, as well as a very unusual romance, and comedy of a highly refreshing nature.

The story, written by Edward Moran, is a unique recital of the adventures of one Tom Steele, a young man possessed of an ungovernable temper which, when out of bounds, made him feared and avoided by his associates in the Western cattle country. He chances to be the only living relative of a wealthy uncle who resides in the East, and who determines that the will not leave his fortune to his nephew unless the latter learns to hold a check rein on his temper.

With this end in view he arranges for Tom to make his home with him and prepares a series of tests to try out his temperament. The results make an entertaining film play noted for its many complicated and extraordinary situations.

Tom's famous horse "Tony" lends invaluable assistance to the star in several of his new stunt feats. In the cast are Billie Dove, Joseph Gerard, Harry Dunkinson and many others. The program will also contain a Hall Room Boys comedy, "Holy Smoke," the Fox news weekly, organ selections by Lester Hulme and music by Virgil Moore's Apollo orchestra.
