

EDUCATION LOANS FOR YOUTHS ARE O.K.D BY BANKERS

Kitterman, Cambridge City,
President of State Association.

Indorsed loans to enable young men and women in Indiana to attend school are now being planned by members of the Indiana Bankers' Association, following the adoption of a resolution Wednesday in the one-day convention here.

Adv is favored for those who meet the following conditions:

1. Maintain scholastic standings of not less than 85 per cent during commissioned high school.

2. Are indorsed by the high school faculty and the county superintendent of schools.

3. Are "insured" by three citizens who vouch for their success and security of the loan.

The association voted $100 to the Red Cross for Japanese relief.

One of the speakers Tuesday was A. E. Adams, president of the First National Bank of Youngstown, Ohio. Adams denounced the legislative device of "blocks" that endeavor to obtain special legislation in interests of certain classes.

Officers were elected in the closing session. They are:

Claude S. Kitterman, Cambridge City; Jas. V. Carpenter of Brazil, vice-president; R. A. McKinley, Jeffersonville, treasurer; Andrew Smith, vice-president of the Indiana National Bank, was re-elected secretary; and Dr. W. H. Baker, of the executive council of the association for a period of three years.

Friend of Indiana Poet to Film Poems of Riley in Exact Hoosier Locations

BY WALTER D. HICKMAN

THE beauty of James Whitcomb Riley's Indiana poems will be reflected on the screen as enacted in the exact locations where the poet placed his characters.

According to present plans, this will be done by a man who recalls many pleasant visits of the late poet to the office of H. F. Schoen, Indianapolis business man living at 5901 Lowell Ave.

Waldo Schoen, professionally known as Waldo Whitcomb, has returned from Hollywood to complete plans for the filming of Riley's poems in a simple and effective manner.

I can remember when Riley visited my father at his office," Waldo Schoen said today. "It is my plan to bring to the screen the beauty of Riley's poem in a simple and effective manner. I attempt not only to photograph as many scenes as possible in the exact locations where the poet found his characters, but a recognized cast of screen players will be assembled."

Schoen hopes to be able to complete arrangements which will make it possible to screen "Grigsby's Station," "The Raggedy Man" and others in the exact location where Riley placed his poems.

Some of Riley's poems have been screened before, but not on Hoosier soil.

Schoen's idea is to make two-reel features of the poems as a permanent contribution of the work of Indiana's greatest poet.

Schoen will remain here for several weeks before returning to Hollywood. While in Hollywood he has worked in such pictures as "Ashes of Vengeance," "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" and others.

Schoen has been both in vaudeville and on the legitimate stage.

Crank Case Oil May Be Turned Into Fuel.

By United Press

BOSTON, Sept. 13.—Heating one's house with the crank case oil that is periodically drawn from the family "flyer" and thrown away may soon be a means of helping to solve the fuel question.

Experiments now under way here promise to prove that millions of gallons of this refuse oil can be turned into valuable fuel for oil-burning heaters.

Fifteen million quarts of automobile crank-case oil are used and thrown away in Massachusetts alone each year. It is estimated. If it proves to have the fuel value that it promises, under the experiments being carried on, it is predicted it will mean the equivalent of 15,000 tons of coal.

DEMOCRATS ELECT R. H. SULLIVAN AS DISTRICT LEADER

Precinct Committeemen Open With Storm and End in Perfect Peace.

Reginald H. Sullivan is seventh district Democratic chairman today. He was named unanimously at a meeting of Marion County committeemen at the Indiana Democratic Club Wednesday night to succeed the late Joseph E. Bell.

The convention of precinct committeemen started with fireworks, but ended like a tea party. Russell J. Ryan, county chairman, had no more than called the meeting to order when the fun began. He named a committee to draft rules and then Frank P. Baker jumped to his feet.

Baker Makes Motion

"Mr. Chairman, I move—" he said. "You are out of order," said Ryan.

"I have a motion that is always in order," Baker shouted. "I move we adjourn for two weeks."

"Sit down," yelled Ryan.

"I won't sit down," Baker shouted. "I move to adjourn in order that we may give the candidates a square deal," Baker yelled above shouts of "No, no" and "sit down."

Ryan appointed two sergeants at arms and instructed them to make Baker sit down.

Ryan Shakes Gavel

Before they could get to him Ryan had run down the aisle and was shaking the gavel under Baker's nose.

"I'm going to have you put out of this hall, Frank," he said.

"A lot of others will go with him," some one in the crowd shouted.

"Let them go," some one else said.

At that moment Walter Myers, chairman of the rules committee, appeared and started reading the rules. Baker sat.

The demonstration by Baker was in behalf of the friends of Shipp. It was moved that Sullivan be elected unanimously. The motion carried.

Sullivan was not present.

Three Nominated

Then the roll was called for nominations. Sullivan was nominated by the First ward and C. C. Shipp by the Second. McGee, one of the candidates for district chairman, who objected to calling the meeting at this time.

Gee asked for the floor and withdrew his name. W. W. Spencer withdrew the name of Shipp. It was moved that Sullivan be elected unanimously.

The motion carried.

Sullivan was not present.

IT IS THE GREATEST SIGN OF UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY IN EXISTENCE TODAY—and wise indeed is he who thoroughly and constantly investigates what the Government has to offer for sale from its War Surplus Materials and what he can buy for BEFORE making his purchases.

No matter in what direction your needs may lie the probabilities are that the wanted materials or merchandise or something which will answer the purpose as well or better may be found in these War Surplus Materials.

And then comes your opportunity to buy at price considerations which are well worth while—with this too comes your big chance to make for yourself and the people in your community an economy of extraordinary merit.

Don't be short sighted. Learn what your Government has to sell and when it is to be sold. Investigate (it's easy) the actual offerings. Buy them at your price. Take the action which not only assures a fair and reasonable profit for you and economy for your customers, but which also aids your Government in disposing of its War Surplus Materials.

The Way to Investigate

Watch your Commercial Business Publication and the Metropolitan Dailies for announcements of specific auction or sealed bid sales.

Send for the Catalog mentioned in the announcement. Check off the items that interest you.

Send a representative to the sale to inspect the materials in advance, if possible.

To ensure you more leeway, send your name and address at once to Major J. L. Frink, Chief, Sales Promotion Section, Room 2515 Munitions Building, Washington, D. C. Advise him the character of materials you are interested in, and if such items are available in future sales your name will be placed upon the War Department mailing list and catalogs of such sales forwarded you as rapidly as sales are scheduled.
