

'PROHIBITION CANNOT BE ENFORCED UNDER VOLSTEAD ACT'

EDWARD C. TONER TOSSES HAT INTO G. O. P. STATE RING

Blue, Sky Law Changes and Lower Utility Rates Are Advocated.

Edward C. Toner, Anderson, today threw his hat in the ring as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. He is the first candidate to make a formal announcement.

Toner, who is editor of the Anderson Herald, was a candidate in 1920 and was defeated for the nomination by Governor McCray. He was formerly Progressive State chairman.

In his announcement, Toner advocated strengthening the "blue sky" law.

"A blue sky" law that doesn't accomplish what it professes to accomplish is worse than no law of the kind," he said. "The present law, however, can be amended and can be made efficient. In discussing taxes and utility rates, he said:

"I want to lower taxes in Indiana and I want to help lower utility rates in Indiana. I believe I can do both. At any rate, my unrelenting effort during the four years of the administration would be along these lines."

"Strict Economy," Is Promised
He said his method of tax reduction would be the "strictest economy" in Government and a partial "letting up" of road improvements. He advocated the assessment of personal property at its full value, the same as land is assessed. He said this would aid the farmers.

"I favor strongly law enforcement and I favor the rigid enforcement of law against men in high position as well as against men in low estate," he said. "The safety and perpetuity of our institutions can be maintained only by keeping all men on the same level."

"The enforcement of law should know no favorites. I believe a marked improvement in the enforcement of laws in Indiana would be possible if there were a closer cooperation among the various law-enforcing agencies in the State."

Primary Election Advocate
Toner is a strong advocate of the primary election system. He was one of the leaders in the fight against primary law repeal in the last Legislature.

While Toner is the first candidate to announce, there are numerous other potential candidates among Republicans.

They include Edgar D. Bush, Salem, former Lieutenant Governor; Mayor Shank of Indianapolis; Ed Jackson, secretary of State; Orin Davis, mayor of Terre Haute, and Winfield Miller, State fire marshal.

RATE REDUCTIONS ORDERED BY STATE

Gas Consumers in Northern Indiana Benefit.

Consumers of gas will be saved approximately $100,000 annually in Ft. Wayne, South Bend, Mishawaka and the town of River Park, through a rate reduction order which will be passed by the public service commission Friday.

The reduction comes as a result of a special investigation by the commission of the rates, service and operating expenses in nearly 100 cities and towns in the State.

The Northern Indiana Gas and Electric Company, serving the cities in which the reductions will be effected, was one of the larger utilities under investigation. As a result of the investigation the commission has ordered utility rate reductions in Richmond, Gary, Milltown, Whiting, Elkhart, East Chicago, Attica and Hammond. Commissioner Oscar Ratts, in charge of the investigations, said reductions would be made in other cities later.

FOREIGN FOOD IS HARD ON HEALTH

Dietetic Expert Speaks at Convention.

Food as prepared in some foreign countries is against the health and is conducive of poor health, according to Miss Gertrude Gates Mudge of Huntington, W. Va., who presided and spoke at the national convention of the American Dietetic Association at the Claypool today.

Hospital clinics are coming to realize the value of scientific food preparation, said Miss Fairfax Proudt of the Memphis General Hospital, in a talk, "The Dietitian and the Hospital Clinic."

The convention will close with two speeches tonight, "Recent Development in Dietetics," by Miss Lydia Roberts of the University of Chicago, and "The Problems of Feeding University Student Bodies," by Miss Mabel Littleton of the University of Wisconsin.

A tea and business session was held this afternoon.

Parent-Teacher Leader
Says Children Are Sound as Ever.

THE natural place to go to find out what parents are to do about the "moral laxity" of the "younger generation," their sons and daughters, is to a mother.

One representative of all American mothers is in Indianapolis. She is Mrs. A. H. Reeve of Philadelphia, president of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Association, here to attend the convention of the Indiana Parent-Teacher Association, Tuesday through Thursday.

Pre-War Conditions
So The Times asked her about the matter.

Parents must keep up with their children, as they have returned to pre-war conditions," she said.

"They must get a new high standard in the homes. They must be ready to go out and have good times with their children—not wild times at roadhouses, but wholesome fun. Boys and girls are fundamentally as sound as ever. They are going a fast pace, just as every one else is in these times. There are as many good ones as ever."

"They are beginning to realize, too, that it is no more fun to get drunk than it is to go any other disgusting thing. The thrill of going sixty miles an hour is wearing off. They see that they must pay the price, and they don't think it's worth while."

Golden Wedding Anniversary Happy Though in a Hospital

A golden wedding anniversary in hospital gloomy? Not at all, in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Unversaw.

Plans for a real celebration at their home in Franklin, Ind., had been made. But the husband had to go to St. Vincent's Hospital here for an operation. He is recovering rapidly, so the anniversary Monday was happy, after all.

Unversaw was born in Lexington, Ky., May 20, 1847, and Mrs. Unversaw in Madison, Ind., July 30, 1858. They were married in the Presbyterian Church at Southport, Ind., Oct. 15, 1873.

"It was somewhat of a trial to have to be in a hospital at such a time," said Unversaw. "But Mrs. Unversaw and our daughter, Mrs. Grace Stevenson of Franklin, were here with me and we were very happy."

"To look back upon fifty years of married life, successful because we always shared everything, is something to make any one happy, though in a hospital, these days."

N. D. BAKER DISCUSSES LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Former Secretary of War Speaks at South Bend

By United Press
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 17.—"When the time comes for the United States to decide whether or not she shall enter the League of Nations, let her decide on well grounded information and not on impulse," Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War said in a speech here last night.

"When we deal with the world we should wipe out party lines and present America as a unit," he said. The League of Nations controversy is not a political question.

"There are three ways to preserve peace," Baker asserted. "Two have been tried and failed. The Roman method of conquering the world and the method of forming two alliances among world powers of equal strength, lost out. The third is an alliance of all nations."

Other new officers are Fred E. Hines of Noblesville, great saganor; William A. Morris, Frankfort, great saganor; James R. Stocksdale, New Albany, great prophet; Arch H. Hobbs, Muncie, great chief of records; Ralph S. Baker, Sheridan, great keeper of wampum.

Assistant Attorney General Mabel Willebrandt Declares Teeth in Law Are Lacking—Cites Case of George Remus as Example.

By C. A. RANDAU
Times Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Prohibition cannot be enforced in the United States under the present Volstead act, Assistant Attorney General Mabel Walker Willebrandt says.

"Until Congress modifies the law to provide adequate punishment for the big commercial bootleggers the purposes of the eighteenth amendment cannot be satisfactorily attained," said Mrs. Willebrandt.

"No matter how great his illegal operations, the violator of the Volstead act faces a maximum of only six months in jail. To put him behind the bars for a longer period means charging him with the violation of some other law, or of conspiring to break the Volstead act."

CO-ED ELOPEMENT IS PROBED BY U. S.

Bridegroom-to-Be Disappears
Leaving Girl at Hotel.

While Federal authorities today investigated a story of a college elopement which began at DeKalb, Ill., and terminated with the disappearance of the about-to-be bridegroom here, Miss Edythe Hein, pretty co-ed left penniless in a local hotel, was back home in Chicago.

According to Miss Hein, she came here to be married to a DeKalb student and football player. The last she saw of him was when he departed, supposedly to obtain a wedding ring, marriage license, suit of clothes and to arrange for the honeymoon. She was Tuesday morning. Late Tuesday evening he had not returned.

Miss Hein, a co-ed at Northwestern University before her entrance at De Kalb, said they acted on an impulse Monday and eloped, sending brief telegrams announcing the marriage to the dean of women and her father, a Chicagoan.

Fear of parental wrath kept her from telegraphing her father, she said. "I didn't think I was taking a chance," she said. "He has been a perfect gentleman; he has made no undue advances, and was very attentive."

At the hotel where Miss Hein was registered until late Tuesday evening the clerk said he never saw her companion.

FACE POWDER AND HAIR

Waitresses Should Be Careful, Wrathful Citizen Writes.

Girl waitresses in restaurants should not ruffle their hair in the immediate vicinity of food, nor should they sprinkle face powder over the clothes of patrons, is the essence of an admonition from an anonymous writer, received today by Dr. William F. King, secretary of the State board of health.

The letter said waitresses in a restaurant patronized by Shortridge high school students and students of the Central Business College do these very things day after day.

Such girls ought to have an "old-fashioned spanking," the writer declared. The communication was signed, "American Citizen and Taxpayer of this State."

JACKIE AND DOUG LEADING HEROES OF HOOSIER KIDS

Report to Association Shows
That Young America Is Good Judge.

Young America is a good judge of moving pictures, according to the report submitted by Mrs. Francis Ake, chairman of the department of better films of Indiana Parent-Teacher Association to say at a convention of the association at the Severn.

During the State fair the department conducted a vote among rural school children to determine the child's favorite type of movie picture and hero.

Jackie Coogan in "Oliver Twist" and "Daddy" received the highest number of votes as most popular actor and movies. "Robin Hood," starring Douglas Fairbanks, ranked second.

The following players received the following number of votes: Jackie Coogan, 162; Tom Mix, 94; Douglas Fairbanks, 58; Thomas Meighan, 53; Mary Pickford, 53; Norma Talmadge, 53; Milton Sills, 52; Harold Lloyd, 49; Rudolph Valentino, 15; Baby Peggy, 12; Wesley Barry, 14; Charles Chaplin, 10; William S. Hart, 14, and Ruth Roland, 7.

Reports of the various committees were made during the morning session. Francis N. Maxfield, director bureau of special education of Pennsylvania, delivered an address in the afternoon on "Mental Hygiene in the Home." Round table discussions followed.

The annual banquet will be held tonight at the Severn. Mrs. G. G. Derbyshire, president, will act as toastmistress. Addresses will be made by George R. Grose, president of De Pauw University; Mrs. A. H. Reeve, president National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Association, Philadelphia, Pa.; Edward C. Elliott, president of Purdue University, and Benjamin J. Burris, State superintendent of public instruction.
