ELECTIONS PLEASE STATE DEMOCRATS

Kentucky Result Is Hailed as
'Victory.'

Indiana Democrats today expressed themselves as pleased over results of elections Tuesday, particularly that in Kentucky.

"The results of yesterday's elections are most gratifying from the Democratic point of view," Charles A. Greathouse, secretary of the Democratic national committee, said.

"Especially is this true of the Kentucky result, which indicates that the people engaged in agricultural pursuits are very much opposed to the Fordney-McCumber tariff law."

Walter S. Chambers, Democratic State chairman, said:

"Returns of yesterday's elections in Kentucky and Maryland show that gains made in 1922 have been sustained and the trend of the voter is toward the Democratic party."

No Republican party officials were in the city.

POLICE OFFICERS ASK COURT ORDER TO RECOVER JOBS

Mayor Shank Is Charged
With 'Intimidating' Board
During Trial.

Charging that Mayor Shank "acted as judge and witness without being sworn" and that he intimidated the board of public safety during their trial, Lieut. Arthur B. McGee and Patrolman Harvey W. Bedford, dismissed Sept. 25 because of an alleged unauthorized investigation of the Robert Watson murder mystery, have filed suit asking that Circuit Judge H. O. Chamberlain mandate the safety board to reinstate them with full rank and pay.

Their counsel is City Councilman Lloyd D. Claycomb who defended them in the safety board trial.

"The dismissal was part of a systematic policy by the mayor and chief of police to remove certain classes of officers," it is charged by the complaint.

Mayor Interrupted Trial, Charge

"During the hearing the mayor sat with the two members of the board, and commented on the evidence, thus interrupting the orderly progress of the trial," it was said.

"He (the mayor) displayed great anger toward the relator pouncing the trial with his fiat and shouting there would not hear any more evidence but would dismiss the relators at once," it is alleged.

Watson was stabbed to death Aug. 16.

Bedford and McGee went to Colfax, Ind., with a warrant from city court for Carl Roseberry, a youth there, who proved to be the wrong man. In the stir that ensued, the two were charged with neglect of duty and insubordination and were dismissed.

Klan Influence Is Alleged

McGee and Bedford state they were given the boy's picture at the Y. M. C. A. They refused to divulge the names of the informants. Mayor Shank and police officials declared the two officers and their informant were members of the Klan, trying to "show up" certain high officials.

Watson was buried at Brownsburg, Ind., where Klansmen stood watch over his grave for a while.

The officers in their petition allege they had permission to leave the city, that the mayor at the hearing demanded they be tried on charges of being Klansmen, which was not a part of the trial and for which they had not prepared a defense, and that the board was coerced.

Ernest L. Kingston, president of the board, asserted the men had been tried according to law. The board was not influenced by the mayor, he said.

The statement says that educational efforts against the "white plague" in Indiana counties has reduced the total number of deaths from 3,950 in 1917 to 2,553 in 1922.

"The actual cost of tuberculosis to communities through losing their wage earners still is tremendous each year," said Murray A. Auerbach, executive secretary of the State Association.

5,000 THROUG AT PURE FOOD SHOW TO VIEW BOOTHS

'Exhibitors' Night' to Be Observed at Grocers' Exposition.

Tonight will be "Exhibitors' Night" at the Pure Food Show which opened Tuesday night at Tomlinson Hall for ten days under the auspices of the Indianapolis Retail Grocers' Association. The show is held from 2 to 5 in the afternoon and 7 to 10:30 at night.

The hall was much too small to accommodate the crowds that surged around the gayly decorated booths at the grand opening of the show, Tuesday night. An attendance of 5,000 was estimated.

Smiling ladies dressed in Dutch costumes or arrayed in neat gingham gowns added to the already attractive booths. Pumpkin pie, toast, crackers, canned cherries, peaches, plums, and what not distributed freely. Many mothers brought their shopping bags.

The six Keith sisters provided musical entertainment while dancing was permitted on the stage. Much interest was centered around the booth taking votes for the most popular grocer, demonstrator, salesman and stenographer.

HEALTH FOR WORKING WOMEN

Let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Help You to Become Well.

Thousands of girls have to work in homes, offices, stores, mills or factories who are physically unfit for work, with often an aged or invalid father or mother dependent upon them for support. Standing all day week in and week out, or sitting in cramped positions a girl often contracts some deranged condition of her organic system which calls a halt to her progress and demands restoration to health before she can be of use to herself or anyone else.

For these distressing weaknesses and derangements these girls have found health to do their work in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"Like many girls, I had troubles every month," says Carolyn Mangels. "and they interfered with my work as I could never be sure of my time. My mother often suggested that I take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I never did until lately. I have had very good results, and am now a private secretary and do my work without missing a day. I recommend your medicine to every girl who speaks of having troubles."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

"Cooperative marketing is the one safe avenue out of the distressing situation confronting the farmer," he declared.

SPENCER CITIZENS REMAIN THRILLED

and bullets. Bandits who tied up the night watchman gently and assured him they didn't want to hurt anyone. Bandits who told residents to keep their heads indoors and promised them that nothing would happen to anything but the banks if orders were obeyed.

These were some of the things peacefully sleeping Spencer citizens faced when awakened by the sound of explosions and gunfire while bank vaults were being blown by two gangs of men at the same time.

Jack, the Wise Dog

Today all Spencer voted Herbert Runyon the luckiest resident of Spencer, and Jack, the dog of Night Policeman Manderville Baugh, the wisest.

Runyon was the only person who made money out of the bandits. He had spent the early part of the night looking for excitement fox hunting in the Owen County hills, only to return and find a waiting for him in the form of three bandits at his own back door. He lives in the same building that houses the First National Bank and the two telephone exchanges. He walked right into the center of all wire cutting and safe blowing activity.

The robbers tied him up awhile, conversed with him in a friendly tone, told him there were twenty in their party, that they were going to rob the two banks, drank up a quart of milk they found on his steps, and then sent him indoors after paying him $1 for it.

"I guess I am the one man who made money out of their visit," Runyon said as he proudly showed the dollar bill he is saving as a souvenir of the greatest day in the history of Spencer.

Robbers Are "Giants"

Jack, the wise 14-year-old dog of Baugh, the night watchman, played a lurch and guessed right. Every night, without fail for years, Jack has made the rounds with his master. Monday night he began to act uneasy about midnight and finally beat his boss, despite all whistlings of his fore. A little more than an hour later Baugh was tied to a chair in Firman's Hall, attempting to convince two bandits it would be impossible to blow the safe of the First National Bank.

The robbers were a race of young giants, according to all stories of persons who met them and their heavy artillery, face to face. Not one of them was less than six feet in height and some of them were almost seven feet, so the stories went. Apparently the size of their guns was a factor in determining their size.

Spencer kids suffered a bad attack of bandititis immediately after the robbery. Every tree hid a diminutive robber armed with broomstick guns or lath revolvers. Youthful bank robbers peered over every back fence and from every woodshed. Even the kiddie cars bore desperate bank robbers, safely after highly successful raids on ash barrel banks.

Meantime the robbers have gone and all that remains as clues are twenty sticks of dynamite, one pint of nitroglycerin, an old automobile tail light, and a brand new hammer with several blood spots on the handle and a pencil case marked "O-4."

NEW PRESIDENT OF C. I. & W. RISES FROM OFFICE BOY

Fred Zimmerman, Chicago, to Succeed Local Man, Retiring.

From office boy to president of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis & Western Railroad—that is the story of Fred Zimmerman, Chicago, successor to B. A. Worthington, who has resigned to retire. Appointment of Zimmerman, although not yet officially confirmed by the directors, has been definitely made, officials said. Worthington left early in December.

Zimmerman began his railroad career with the Rock Island & Louisville Southern Railroad. He was formerly general freight agent of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad. In 1914 he was elected vice president of the Monon Railroad.

Other positions held by Zimmerman include general freight agent of the Chicago, Indiana & Southern and a similar position with the Lake Shore and Southern Michigan.

Zimmerman will come to Indianapolis Sunday. Monday and Tuesday he will make a tour of the lines. Zimmerman is expected to take charge of his new office about Dec. 1.

Worthington, 62, will make his home in California. He was an active member of the Chamber of Commerce, acting as a member of the board of directors for seven years and as chairman of the industries committee.

"The announcement of Mr. B. A. Worthington's departure from Indianapolis will be the source of great regret to all citizens of Indianapolis who have kept themselves informed of what is going on," John B. Reynolds, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said today, commenting on the resignation of Worthington, for eight years president of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis & Western railroad.

Elks Birthday Nov. 11

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that faded, faded appearance, she used a simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.—Advertisement.
