

FATHER, SON HELD AS KIDNAPERS OF ALLEGED DEBTOR

Pair Are Arrested on Second Attempt to Abduct Chicago Man.

United Press
CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Everett P. Leonard, president of the Servette Company, Chattanooga, Tenn., and his son, Willard, 18, were held by police today on charge of kidnapping Roger Naylor, president of the Sante Products Company, Chicago, and holding him prisoner for twenty-six days in an effort to collect an alleged debt of $3,000.

Leonard and his son were arrested while attempting to kidnap Naylor a second time, police said.

Naylor told police of the kidnapping when he was "lipped" his abductors were on their way to "get him again."

Naylor returned to Chicago six days ago after being held captive in the Leonard home at Chattanooga, he told police. He signed contracts and agreements to pay certain sums before the Leonards would release him, he declared.

After being questioned, the elder Leonard declared:

"That man robbed me and my Chattanooga friends of $9,000. My company is about to go into bankruptcy as the result. And now I'm in jail and he is a free man. Is that justice?"

BURNT MATCHES IN THEFT ONLY CLEWS

Thirty-Cent Burglar Leaves "Calling Cards."

The burn-match burglar is only 30 cents richer today, although his trail was found in two homes. Ada Matthe, 424 California St., said she found burnt matches strewn over the house and 30 cents gone. Charles Griffin, colored, 518 Indiana Ave., as he went to the home of Charles J. Brown, 848 California St., to fire a furnace, saw a man in long overcoat disappear through a rear door as he entered he told police. Burnt matches were strewn over the floor. Nothing was missing.

Other thefts were reported by Orval Simon, 205 N. Davidson St., $35 cash, revolver, $10; William C. Rogers, 635 West drive, Woodruff Pl., watch, $25, stamps, $2 and cash, $13. Ike Collier, 410 N. Senate Ave., clothes, $57.50.

PRESBYTERIANS VOTE ON CHURCH MERGER

Grace and Fourth Congregations May Erect New Building.

Members of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, Nineteenth and Alabama Sts., will vote tonight on merging with the congregation of the Grace Presbyterian Church, Thirtieth St. and Capitol Ave. in the formation of a new church at Forty-Sixth St. and Capitol Ave.

The congregation of the Grace Church voted favorably Wednesday night. The Indianapolis Presbyterians have endorsed the move.

If the Fourth church votes favorably tonight, the congregations will start joint meetings about Jan. 1, alternating between the two churches until the new church is built.

The Rev. N. S. Sichterman is pastor of the Grace Church and the Rev. Edward H. Kistler is pastor of the Fourth church.

ATTORNEYS FOR CAREY SAY HE IS 'GOAT'

Embezzlement Case Expected to Last Two More Days.

With the third day of the trial of George W. Carey, 321 E. Thirteenth St., former chairman of the Eighth ward, in full swing today in Criminal Court on embezzlement charges, it was expected to last two more days. Attorneys Eph Inman and Harvey A. Trabill, for Carey, have made exhaustive cross-examination of State witnesses in an attempt to prove that Carey is the "goat" of others connected with the Indianapolis Oil Syndicate. Carey is accused of embezzeling $1,500 from the company while trustee of $13,000 raised to exploit oil leases near Franklin, Ky.

"The wrong man is on trial here," Inman told the jurors in an argument with William H. Remy, deputy prosecutor.

BANK DENIES CHARGES

Brownstown Suit Allegations on McCray Note Case Reply

The Meyer-Kiser bank of Indianapolis has filed a general denial of charges contained in a suit on $2,500 note of Warren T. McCray brought in Circuit Court by the Brownstown Loan and Trust Company.

The Brownstown bank sued the local bank on charges of fraud, alleging that the local bank sold them the note, payable to McCray by A. Messman and Company, where the Meyer-Kiser bank knew that McCray was insolvent, an effort the Governor forged the signature, "A. Messman and Company."

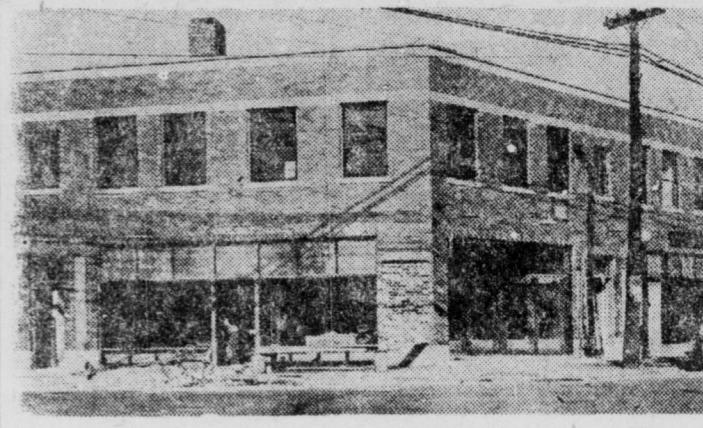

SIX MASKERS NAMED

Georgia Woman Names Kellar Hasty, Athletic Pitcher, as Flogger.

United Press
MARIETTA, Ga., Nov. 22.—Mrs. Bertha Holcomb today named six men which she claimed participated in the flogging of herself and a companion by a masked mob a week ago.

The men under indictment by the Cobb County grand jury included Kellar Hasty, pitcher for the Philadelphia Americans, and his two brothers.

$15,000 FOR STATE LAND

La Porte Company Bids on Tract With Game Refuge Provision

The State land commission today was considering an offer of $15,000, made by the Tuesberg Land Company, La Porte, for 2,600 acres of meander land in Starke and La Porte Counties, 1,500 acres of which the company agreed to turn over to the conservation department for a game refuge.

Ownership of the land has been in question several years. The land company, believing it's owner, contracted to sell a tract. To protect itself against suit and to make good its sale guarantee, the company made the offer. The State would receive land for payment of ditch assessments.

Other acts on the bill are: McCarthy and Sternard in "Courtship, Marriage and Divorce," a comedy offering with songs and dances; June and Irene Melva, instrumentalists and entertainers, who are still in their teens; Ralph Kitner and Jim Rea.

Mme. Homer Will Be Remembered for "Mother Goose" and "How's My Boy?"

Indianapolis Actress in New Comedy Cast

By WALTER D. HICKMAN
In my memory box today is tucked away a simple little gem.

When a youngster I arrived at the conclusion that the Mother Goose rhymes were really music.

Last night hundreds of people who filled every inch of space at Caleb Mills Hall applauded "Mother Goose" in song as rendered by Mme. Louise Homer.

Sidney Homer, the husband of the singer, is responsible for the melody. I will remember this Homer concert because of "Mother Goose" and a dramatic bit in song, "How's My Boy?" also by Sidney Homer.

It was during this dramatic heat number that Mme. Homer carried her audience to that realm of dramatic musical delight which one dreams about but seldom reaches.

The "boy" number received the greatest ovation of an exquisite evening of song. "Les Larmes" from "Werther" stood out as a real accomplishment, but somehow or other the simple English songs were the outstanding features of a wonderful evening.

The aria from "Samson and Delilah" was another high spot of the recital, but give me "Pilgrim's Song," "The Lark Now Leaves His Wat'ry Nest," "The Day Is No More" and "Love Went a-Riding," and I will ask for no more.

Madame Homer is essentially dramatic. Years on the operatic stage has made her an actress as well as a great singer. She knows her concert stage would do well to study this woman's stage presence and observe her walk. So few women on the stage today know how to walk correctly.

The Federation of Indianapolis Public School Teachers had the honor of presenting Madame Homer as the first number of their course.

I must state that Madame Homer was most gracious in the number of encores. Even when the concert was concluded, the big audience lingered for more.

And they were not disappointed.

A glorious evening of song. Madame Homer.

Interesting Method of Presenting Opera in Recital

The Joseph B. Gordon Woman's Relief Corps, No. 43 of this city, was instrumental in bringing Hayav Hubbard, operologist, and his music accompanist, Homer Simmons, who gave a very interesting program last night at the assembly hall at the Claypool Hotel to a small and select audience, which appreciated to the full the two operas.

The cast includes Louise Fazande, Doris May, Hank Mann, Chester Conklin, Creighton Hale, Stuart Holmes, Rosemary Theby and Ralph Lewis. The short reels are the Pathé news, Screen Topics and two-reel comedy and an Aesop Fable.
