

ANNUAL Y. W. C. A. MEMBERSHIP FEED SET FOR FRIDAY

Business Ahead for Year to Be planned and Discussed by Guests.

The annual membership dinner and meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held Friday night in Hollenback Hall. Mrs. F. W. Wood, chairman of the membership committee, is in charge of the program. Mrs. Brandt C. Downey, vice president of the board of directors, will preside at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Fred Hoke, president. Dinner will be served at 6 p. m.

The regular business session will follow the dinner. The program will begin with a ceremonial. There will be brief reports of the year's work in all of the departments and the results of the election of directors for the board will be announced. Miss Pearl B. Forsyth, general secretary, will make a short address on "The Work and Purpose of the Association." Another short ceremonial will close the program. Special music will be furnished by a sextet from the secretarial staff.

Mrs. Clyde M. Roach is planning decorations and Mrs. H. R. Goens, chairman of the church division of the membership committee, is in charge of invitations to representatives from churches. Mrs. Goens is being assisted by Mrs. C. W. Askman of the Reformed Church, Mrs. W. R. Griffith of the Presbyterian churches, Mrs. Charles Nabel of the Methodist Protestant churches, Mrs. F. M. Hosenfelder of the Evangelical churches, Mrs. John A. Straub of the Christian churches, Mrs. A. G. Woodmansee of the Baptist churches, Mrs. John B. Cooper of the Methodists, Miss Grace Michael of the Moravian and Mrs. Albert Weiss of the United Brethren.

Reservations for the dinner must be made by Wednesday. The nominating committee: Mrs. Maurice J. Moore, Mrs. Henry Beck, Miss Helen Gwynn, Mrs. G. Quinley Dunlop.

Candidates for re-election: Mrs. C. W. Dicks, Mrs. Brandt Downey, Mrs. F. D. Hitz, Mrs. F. W. Wood, Mrs. Francis Hill, Mrs. Clyde M. Roach; new candidates: Mrs. Hugh McGibben, Mrs. Charles R. Yoke, Miss Laura Nard, Mrs. Charles Hall, Miss Elizabeth Cowan, Mrs. Felix M. McWhorter, Mrs. Charles F. Remy, Mrs. Gavin Payne. Ten are to be elected from this number. A ballot box will be open in the lobby Friday from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m. Those who will find it inconvenient to vote at the building may mail their signed ballots.

Y. M. C. A. Notes
A class in self-expression and interpretation was organized Thursday. Curry's "Fundamentals of Expression" is the text used. Mrs. Leo K. Fesler is the instructor.

The students council of the educational department will be in session at the open house program Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock in the lounge. Mr. Pruden, director of the W. C. T. U. neighborhood house, 225 Bright St., will talk about her work among foreign people in the city. Music and readings will be furnished by Thelma and Dorothy Furschman. Mrs. Emma Garrett is in charge of the program.

"The Beginnings," will be the subject discussed by the business women's Bible class Tuesday at 7 p. m. This will be a discussion of the historical background and setting of the Pentateuch. The leader is Miss Alice E. Newman.

A class in beginning French will hold its first meeting Tuesday night from 7 to 8. Miss Marie Cousin will be the instructor and the text book used will be "The New Chadenet."

A class in show card lettering will be organized Wednesday night with W. L. Winning, advertising manager of the House of Crane, as instructor. The entire course requires two terms of ten lessons each.

The classes which are taking Bible courses for high school credit will take final examinations Feb. 9. Three of these classes are being held under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. one at the association building, for Shortridge girls; one at the Woodruff Place Baptist Church for Technical girls, and one at the Second Reformed Church for Manual Training students.

Boys and girls under 12 years old may take lessons at 4 o'clock Tuesdays. Children of this same age may also swim at night if accompanied by an adult.

The student industrial cooperation will have a supper meeting at the Delta Delta house in Irvington Monday at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Walter Lewis will talk on the "National Democratic Platform."

A conference for business girls will be held Jan. 24 at 7 p. m. Wayne, Ind., with Miss Dorothy Bean, industrial secretary, Miss Mary Majors of the industrial department, Miss Mary Folger of the educational department, and Miss Lulu Harbison of the health education department, are attending as delegates from the Indianapolis association.

A children's dancing class will be organized this week for girls under 14 years of age. The class will meet every Saturday morning at 9:30.

Miss Dorothy Essex has finished the five-mile swim contest, with Mrs. Douglas Wheeler and Mrs. Schumeyer taking second and third places. At the regular Federation dinner held Wednesday night, the employees of the various places of business will be entertained. The program is in charge of Lydia Roebke, chairman, Clara Vincent, Lena Fortney, Juanita Watkins, and Helen Gwynn.

The Pepper Club will have a skating party in the gymnasium Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The Zippers will play the Red Hot in a game of basketball Monday at 7:30 o'clock.

Sick-Room Light
For a sick-room a very adequate light is provided by putting a bit of camphor gum in a saucer of water, where it will float, and then lighting it. The camphor will burn slowly with a pleasant odor.

Winter Bride Much Entertained

MISS HELEN BRATTAIN

Miss Helen Brattain, whose engagement to Clifford W. Ferguson has been announced, is being entertained at many parties and showers. Her wedding will take place early in February. She was entertained this afternoon at the home of Miss Mildred Stiltz, 450 N. Audubon Rd.

—Photo by Dexheimer.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

MISS BETTY SMITH, 2063 N. Meridian St., entertained with a luncheon-bridge at the Spink Arms today in honor of Miss Helen Mendenhall, who is to be married to George M. Perry in February. Decorations were in the bride's colors, coral and green.

The guests, with Miss Mendenhall and her hostess, were Misses Inez Klepper, Helen Cox, Irene Bingham, Elizabeth Harris, Elizabeth Holley, Delmo Atkins, and Mrs. Raymond Doud.

A house-warming tea will be given Sunday afternoon in the new sorority rooms of the Sigma Alpha Iota musical sorority at the College of Music and Fine Arts, Sixteenth and N. Meridian Sts. Mrs. Bernard Ditty, president of the sorority, will receive, with Mrs. Henry Schumann, Mrs. LaFayette Page and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Whitehouse.

The guest of honor will be Miss Frieda Hempel, an honorary member of the sorority.

Mrs. Edmund Rosenberg, 4451 Broadway, will entertain Monday with a luncheon bridge at the Indianapolis Athletic Club in honor of her guest, Mrs. Walter Astrup of Cleveland.

MISS HELEN BRATTAIN, whose marriage to Clifford Ferguson will take place in February, was the honor guest at a bridge and miscellaneous shower this afternoon at the home of Miss Mildred Stiltz, 450 N. Audubon Rd., given by Miss Stiltz, Miss Katherine Lennox and Miss Gwendolyn Dorey.

There were eight tables of bridge. The decorations were in gold, blue and rose.

The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. P. B. Stiltz.

Miss Hope Carter, 318 Campbell Ave., entertained the Tau Gamma Tau Sorority with a bridge party this afternoon. Assisting Miss Carter were Misses Pearl Bartley, Bertha Reinhardt and Louise Rundell.

Eight tables of bridge were arranged with the sorority colors, rose and green.

Mrs. James P. Goodrich will entertain the Phillips Schoff chapter of the United States Daughters of 1812 Monday afternoon at the Spink-Arms. Prof. H. M. Whisler, vice president of the Central Indiana Normal College, will speak on "The Treaty of Ghent."

Indianapolis Alumna Association of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority will entertain with a benefit card party Feb. 2 at the Spink-Arms in the interest of the student aid fund. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Delois Allg, 1608 Park Ave., or Mrs. William H. Remy, 1713 N. New Jersey St.

Eighth grade pupils of school No. 5 will present a "Naturalization Court" at a luncheon of the community welfare section of the Woman's Department Club Tuesday. Thirty-five children who will take part will be guests of the club for luncheon.

Lieut. Perry Faulkner, former State commander of the American Legion, will speak in place of Mrs. Richard Brown of Peru, on "Citizens in Name Only."

Reservations for the luncheon may be made with Mrs. John Connor. Mrs. G. Quinley Dunlop, chairman of the community welfare section, will preside. Mrs. George A. VanDyke has charge of arrangements.

The Saturday Afternoon Literary Club celebrated its twentieth anniversary this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hiram Raffensperger, 4240 Washington Blvd.

The club was organized at Manual Training High School. Membership is limited to graduates of this school. Pictures of the members, taken when they were in school, were flashed on a screen. A "Who's Who" contest was a feature.

Mrs. Glen Howe read the minutes of the first meeting and called the roll. Mrs. Elmer Vahl gave piano numbers. Miss Anna Gaston, Mrs. Harry Lloyd, Miss Edith Huggins and Miss Fay Banta, in their graduating dresses, sang "Auld Lang Syne," with words written for the occasion.

Mrs. Willard Boyle, a charter member, was presented with a silver spoon. The committee in charge: Mrs. Henry Ziff, chairman; Mrs. David Hadley, Mrs. Glen Howe, Mrs. Frank E. Long, Mrs. Willard Boyle, Mrs. Cecil Badger, Mrs. Harry Lloyd, Miss Fay Banta, Mrs. Louis Bruck, Mrs. Forrest Chenoweth, Miss Anna Gaston, Miss Hulda Hansen, Mrs. Earl Hicks, Miss Bertha Hoss, Miss Edith Huggins, Mrs. Fred Lorenz, Mr. Joseph T. Markey, Mrs. Albert L. McCollum, Miss Anna Meier, Mrs. Hollis Noy, Mrs. J. W. Pendergrass, Mrs. Henry Prescott, Mrs. Hiram Raffensperger, Mrs. Chris Schumeyer, Mrs. Theodore Weesner, Mrs. Orrin Yeaton, Miss Helen Shannon, Mrs. Lyman Whitcomb Spray and Mrs. C. B. Talmadge.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

DEMOCRAT WOMEN STAGE BRILLIANT SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

Fair Sex Meets Day in Advance of National Committee at Washington.

By SOCIETY HOSTESS (Copyright, 1924, by United News) WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The band that rocks the cradle and pours the tea undoubtedly swayed the movements of the Democratic party when its national committee met in Washington this week.

Plans for dominating the choice of a convention city and enlarging the women's representation were made over gleaming luncheon tables, or between the flickering lights of many tall candles in stately rooms.

The Democratic women, some of the smartest women in American society, gathered for the committee meeting one day in advance, and were first entertained at luncheon at the Hamilton Hotel by the National Women's Press Club. Among those present were Mrs. John Blair, New York; Mrs. J. Borden Harlan, wife of the former Governor of Tennessee, one of the beauties as well as one of the most brilliant of the official Democratic women, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is a Roosevelt herself as well as married to one, and who has all the Roosevelt physical characteristics, and dainty Mrs. Bernice Pyke, of Cleveland.

Mrs. Wilson Is Guest
The same evening Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, vice chairman of the national committee, entertained the women at dinner. Guests of honor present were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, classic in white, and the handsome Mrs. Cordell Hull.

A certain shyness seemed to strike the ladies from the blue East when dainty cigarettes were passed for they looked at them with a mixture of western colleagues and heretically said, "No, thank you."

Clubhouse Is Opened
On Tuesday evening the new Democratic Women's Clubhouse on Connecticut Ave. was opened by a house-warming attended by a brilliant gathering. Mrs. J. Borden Harlan, with an unprecedented good humor and a striking blue velvet gown, greeted the guests.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, his pink whiskers turning a little grey, was on hand as usual, the gallant for every lady, steadily rising to please even the most plain.

Assisting her were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, regal as a queen in a straight black gown; Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, holding her inevitable cigarette in a chic Paris holder made of a ring and a little silver stick, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who insisted she was the most kissed woman in Washington—by women.

Drama Week to Be Observed

MRS. ELIZABETH W. HUGHES

Mrs. Elizabeth Waterson Hughes is president of direction of the Drama League which will observe "Drama Week," Jan. 20-25.

Mrs. Horace Mitchell, head of the dramatic department of the College of Music and Fine Arts, will read scenes from "Every Woman," by Walter Browne in which she played the leading role for several seasons.

The readings will be given at Manual High School Monday at 11 a. m.

Others to participate are Miss Flora Love, who will present students of Shortridge High School Junior Drama League in a play Wednesday; William Otto of the English department will talk on the drama; Arthur J. Berlout, reader and interpreter of plays, will appear before the Junior Drama League of Tech High School Tuesday.

In the interest of the occasion the Indianapolis center will bring Prof. E. G. Frazier of Indiana University Thursday evening in the Cropley auditorium of the public library. He will talk on "Rain," by Somerset Maugham.

Professor Frazier has seen the London production.

MRS. HORACE MITCHELL

The students of Mrs. Eugene Fife, head of the dramatic department of the Associated Artists, will give a recital of readings and pantomimes and a one-act play, "Finders Keepers," Saturday evening in Cropley Auditorium.

It is the plan of the Little Theatre Society to present two one-act plays in the Little Theatre Work Shop in the interest of the celebration.

The Drama League is supported in this movement by the American Library Association, the Church Federations, representatives from the Professional Actors' and Managers' Association, the National Federation of Women's Clubs and the year-round bookkeeping committee.

Other members of the board are Mrs. W. W. Woolen, honorary vice-president; William Otto, ex-officio; Prof. John Harrison, first vice president; Prof. Rolfe Talcott, second vice president; Mrs. George Phillip Meier, third vice president; Miss Anna Torrence, secretary and treasurer; Miss Margaret Orndorf, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John T. Wheeler, Miss Elizabeth Brayton, Mrs. James B. Steep, Mrs. Herbert Foltz, Miss Ruth Allee, Miss Alice O'Connell.

Wives Given Credit For Patience in Marriage

"A wife will take more abuse and continue to live with a man than a man would take and continue to live with his wife." Not a woman, defending her sex, but a man, makes that statement. He bases it on observation, evidently, as he says his own life has been ideally happy.

Many husbands are long-suffering, slaving day after day for wives who take all and give nothing, it is true. But, in many more cases, it is the wife who strives to keep her household together, to win back her husband's love when she sees it slipping.

That is natural. Even in this day of the new woman, to most wives the home is the center of the universe. A wife sees the slightest indication that her home is in danger, while a husband, occupied with business, may go on blindly until he suddenly finds himself without wife or home.

Because her home is her whole life, a wife sacrifices and suffers more for it, clinging to love and her husband as long as there is the slightest chance for happiness.

Man Defends Wives
Miss Martha Lee: I see where on wife writes that she is 26 and her husband 41 and she would her. I cannot understand how she can be so sure that she is a young wife. She is something to be proud of. If this man had a wife like her, he would not have so much to say.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

A wife will take more abuse and continue to live with a man than a man would take and continue to live with his wife. My wife does all her housework, but she keeps her home tidy, and that is a long way with a man.

That Triangle Again
Dear Miss Lee: I am 31. My wife is 21. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old. We were happy until today that I did when we were sweethearts. We have a 23-month-old baby boy and I never get too tired from business to have a kiss or loving word for my wife and baby.

I am 39. My wife is 32. We have been married five years and have a daughter 3 years old