

STATE UTILIZING ITS WATER POWER FOR DOMESTIC USE

Farm, Village and City Profiting by Projects on Indiana Rivers.

Utilization of water power in Indiana to bring electricity to farm, village and city is being undertaken in Indiana on a gigantic scale, records of the public service commission showed today.

A hearing will be held Wednesday by the commission on the petition of the Hoosier Hydro-Electric Corporation for authority to issue and to sell $600,000 preferred stock and $400,000 stock. The corporation plans to construct a power plant at St. Paul on the Flat Rock River.

The Indiana Hydro-Electric Power Company constructed in 1923 a 8,500 K. W. A. unit on the Tippecanoe River at Norway near Monticello.

The Indiana Electric Corporation is building two 20,000 K. W. A. units on the Wabash River at Dresser, near Terre Haute.

The Indiana and Michigan Electric Company has completed plans for a plant at Twin Branch on the St. Joseph River near Mishawaka.

SOCIAL DISEASES COSTING MILLIONS

Insane Asylum and Epileptic
Village House Victims.

Results of social diseases are costing Indiana millions of dollars annually, J. G. Royce, division director of the State board of health, declared today.

"According to information given me by Max Bahr, superintendent of the Central Insane Hospital in Indianapolis, from 22 to 25 per cent of all insanity there has been caused by syphilis," Dr. Royce said.

"Dr. Van Nuyt at the Indiana Village for Epileptics estimates 67 per cent of his unfortunates have been sent there through social diseases."

"There are thousands and thousands of cases in Indianapolis despite the vigilance of public health officials and the public clinic."

The division maintains sixteen clinics in Indiana.

COUNCIL CREATES THREE NEW JOBS ON CITY PAY ROLL

Partial Appropriation Made for Salary of Smoke Inspector.

New jobs in the city administration were results today of a city council meeting at which administration measures were passed with little protest Monday night.

Last barrier to enforcement of the new smoke abatement ordinance was removed when council amended the $3,000 salary measure to $1,400 and passed it, 7 to 1. Councilman Heydon Buchanan cast the opposing vote.

Ordinance abolishing the office of smoke abatement officer, now held by Fred S. Beck, at $1,500 a year, was introduced. It is expected to take care of the balance of Hubert F. Templeton's salary as present smoke inspector.

Despite motion of Councilman Lloyd D. Claycombe that consideration be postponed, an ordinance creating the position of inspector of traffic, at $3,100 a year, was passed, 5 to 3. The ordinance increases the salary of Traffic Captain Michael J. Glenn. Councilmen Theodore J. Bernd, Claycombe and Buchanan opposed it.

A temporary loan of $300,000 to finance the city until the spring payment of taxes was indorsed when the council passed a measure authorizing Joseph L. Hogue, city controller, to negotiate the loan.

A few minutes later council rejected an ordinance to appropriate $28,500 to pay interest on park bonds of the park board. An amendment of Councilman Claycombe to make the amount $10,000 failed.

Safety Measure

Position of assistant Barrett law clerk, at $1,400 a year, was created, over protests of Councilmen Ben H. Thompson and Bernd. A measure providing an assistant secretary to the athletic commission, at $400 annually and $50 for minor expenses, was passed under suspension of rules.

An ordinance requiring garages of over six-car capacity to install automatic sprinkler system was introduced. Another measure requiring persons hanging awnings extending over streets to take out city license of $100 annually also was introduced.

Other ordinances introduced:

Changing territory at Twenty-Sixth St. and Sherman Ave., from residential to business.

Creating $800 fund in police department to be known as "addressograph and typewriter fund."

Changing McKinley St. from Shelby St. to Stanley Ave., to Yoke Ave., and Holiday St., from Shelby to Dietz St., to Nelson Ave.

Permitting Gulf Refining Company to lay switch from Belt railroad across State Ave. 100 feet north of Van Buren St.

Street Names Changed

Ordinances passed:

Granting Polar Ice and Fuel Company right to lay switch at Twenty-First St. and Big Four tracks.

Granting Otis D. Maurer right to lay switch at Dakota St., in vicinity of Jones and Thomas Sts.

Changing name of Gemmer St., from Draper St. to State Ave. to E. Iowa St.

Extending business district at College and Fairfield Aves.

Requiring C., C. & St. L. Railroad to keep watchman at Golay St.
