'BUSINESS HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF,' SAYS ALVIN DODD

U. S. C. of C. Manager Talks to Hardware Men in Convention Session.

Rise and fall of prices as an aftermath of war were traced today before the twenty-fifth anniversary convention of the Indiana Retail Hardware Association, at the Claypool, by Alvin E. Dodd, manager of the domestic distribution department of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Dodd displayed a chart showing the trend of wholesale prices for the past 115 years, calling attention to the fact that the period between the War of 1812 and the Civil War was almost exactly the same as the period between the Civil War and the World War.

HERE'S SOLON IN CONGRESS WHO'S MUM ON POLITICS

Dr. Copeland, New York, Saves Energy to Talk on Healthfulness.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—A United States Senator who thinks it is a waste of time to talk politics and longs to raise his voice on a very different subject is a figure entirely unique in this town.

But such a one has arrived. He is Dr. Royal S. Copeland of New York, and the message he wants to shout from the house steps every hour of the day is health.

The other day he addressed an audience of 15,000 persons on political questions, and afterward he said it seemed a shame to talk politics to them when what they needed was better health.

In his office they discuss flesh and food, beauty and bad colds, rather than committee assignments and the soldier bonus. And while he talks to you, Dr. Copeland will pace up and down the room practicing what he preaches by getting his daily quota of exercise.

No Laughing Matter

"Seriously," he said, "flesh is no laughing matter. A man 50 years of age who is 50 pounds over weight has 50 per cent less chance of life than a fit man."

"We eat too much. We don't exercise enough."

"It is a great temptation for Congressmen to neglect exercise and to eat too heavily. If they do, their lives will undoubtedly be shortened."

"Judge for yourself whether that will be a benefit or a loss to the country."

"Everything depends on health. Personality and beauty can't be secured without it. Woman's winsomeness, her clear skin, her sparkling eyes, all must have health for their foundation. They can't be painted on."

"The Government must aid the States in educating people. The average man doesn't know how to live. He doesn't know what is good for him and what is not."

"The other day, out near my farm, I met an old man doubled over with rheumatism. I asked him what his trouble was. He told me the cold had crippled him."

Flu Disasters

"I looked in his mouth and told him to go to a dentist if he wanted to get rid of his ailment. He looked at me as if he thought I was crazy."

"Education is the only way to stamp out the coming cold, companion of the flu, which has killed more people than all the wars in history."

Trained Crow Shows McCray a Few Tricks.

Jocko, super-crow appearing at Keith's Theater, paid a friendly call on Governor McCray today.

Jocko strutted around, said "hello," juggled balls and did other tricks for his trainer.

Jocko had little to say, however.

WATER CAUSES DAMAGE

Pipe Bursts in Tank on Roof of Capitol Paper Company.

Damage estimated at $150 was caused at the Capitol Paper Company, 225 W. South St., Monday night when a down pipe from the water tank on the roof burst, reports showed today.

The water rushed into the sixth floor which, according to Charles Kahn, sales manager, is vacant. The damage was done by water that ran down to the fifth floor. The building is of concrete, which saved a heavy loss, according to Kahn.

Mrs. C. H. Jochum is pointing to the spot where the concrete block was found. Lincoln is charged with killing the pair, burning their dismembered bodies in his greenhouse furnace and disposing of the heads in this manner.

FUNDAMENTALIST IS WINNER IN DEBATE

Dr. Potter, Modernist, Declares If There Is Personal God, He Failed to Intervene During World War.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Dr. John H. Straton, fundamentalist, won the second of a series of debates with Dr. Charles F. Potter, modernist, last night.

The debates are on the subject of fundamentalism versus modernism. Dr. Potter won the first of the series. Dr. Straton took the negative in last night's debate—"Did the earth and man come by evolution or from a living God?"

The judges were Frank P. Walsh, former justice; F. S. Jenks and Justice Philip J. McCook.

Dr. Potter's opening was a statement of the scientific theory of the universe.

"The best answer to William Jennings Bryan's argument against evolution," he said, "would be an X-ray picture of the lower end of his spine. It would show a few bones forming a rudimentary tail and four muscles for wagging it."

PROTEST AGAINST STREET WIDENING PROPOSAL FILED

Resident Objects to Leaving Filling Station in Altering Delaware St. Jog.

County commissioners today received a letter from J. S. Ferris, 2209 N. Delaware St., who lives across the street from the site of the proposed straightening of the jog at Twenty-Second and Delaware Sts., commending the board on its stand in the matter of leaving a filling station in the middle of the street.

Commissioners said they would not sign a contract for the Fall Creek bridge at Delaware St., unless the city, in straightening the jog, orders the filling station, owned by the Sinclair Oil Company, removed. The station is on the northwest corner of the jog, and City Engineer John I. Elliott said it would remain standing, the street to run on both sides. The street is to be widened and straightened by the city in an agreement with the county concerning the county's construction of the bridge.

"It is useless to go to city officials on a proposition of this kind," wrote Ferris. "Because they will not even listen to an ordinary taxpayer when a large corporation like the oil company is interested."

"Elliott says the company paid $28,000 for the lot on the corner and will give the city the back end of it if Delaware St. is relocated in the rear of their station. He doesn't state that to take advantage of this offer the city will have to buy four more lots at a cost of $100,000."

"Why is it necessary to make an improvement at Twenty-Second St., that will cost ten times as much as what it cost at Sixteenth?"

The city cut the corner off a dangerous "jog" at the corner of Sixteenth and Delaware Sts., to reduce accidents.

Highlights in Naval Reserve Lease Scandal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Here is the story in skeleton of the Teapot and other naval reserve leases.

ON MAY 31, 1921, President Harding, urged by Secretary of the Navy Denby and Secretary of the Interior Fall, transferred the navy oil reserves from the navy to Interior Department.

JULY 21, Fall and Denby signed contracts with E. L. Doheny for exploitation of reserves One and Two in California.

APRIL 7, 1923, Fall and Denby signed leases with Harry F. Sinclair for Teapot Dome in Natrona County, Wyoming, containing 22,000,000 barrels of oil.

APRIL 15, the Senate, having heard of the Teapot Dome lease, which was not officially announced, asked for a full investigation.

APRIL 21, Senator La Follette, in a resolution, called for a complete investigation.

APRIL 29, Senate ordered investigation.

JAN. 30, 1923, Senate Public Lands Committee hired experts to see whether it true oil was draining out of Teapot Dome.

MARCH 4, Fall resigned from Cabinet.

OCT. 22, Senate committee began hearings following report of expert.

OCT. 23, Fall, before committee, said he was proud of leases.

OCT. 25, Denby told committee leasing was "a routing detail." He knew little about it.

DEC. 27, Fall wrote committee he believed the oil was not there.

JAN. 17, 1924, McLean at Palm Beach testified Fall got checks for $100,000, but returned them uncashed, saying he had arranged to get money elsewhere.

JAN. 21, Archie Roosevelt and G. D. Wahlberg, Sinclair's personal secretary, told of suspicions Teapot Dome lease was obtained by corruption.

JAN. 25, J. W. Zevely, Sinclair's man, said he loaned Fall $25,000 and advanced $100,000, expenses of trip to Russia.

JAN. 26, President Coolidge announced he would appoint special counsel to investigate and to prosecute civilly and criminally any wrong doing. Doheny offered to cancel leases on California reserves.

JAN. 29, Senate prepared to demand immediate cancellation of leases.

HOLD-UP IS REPORTED

William Johnson, 1134 Kentucky Ave., is in city prison today charged with assault and battery with intent to rob Angelo Barnes, colored, 546 N. Senate Ave. According to police, Barnes said he was held up by Johnson, Sam Burge, 1134 Kentucky Ave., and Charles Larison, 842 S. Tremont St., at Senate Ave. and Market St. Monday night. The trio got nothing, he said. Burge and Larison are held on vagrancy charges.

Forty Years Ago Doheny Was Penniless Prospector

By United Press

L PASO, Jan. 29.—Forty years ago Ed Doheny, intimate pal of Al Fall, could not have loaned him the price of a bag of flour—88 cents in those days—much less $100,000.

But Ed could, and did, tangle with a tin oven and bake Al the finest pan of biscuits in New Mexico, for Ed Doheny, the cook, was as famous in the silver country as Ed Doheny, unluckiest of prospectors.

Doheny's bad luck faded, and he is now Edward L. Doheny, multimillionaire oil magnate, who told a group of Senators he could give away $100,000 as easily as an aver-

Secretary of Charities Board Confers With Head of State Institution on Care of 1,000 Patients Now in Crowded Quarters.

Advisability of erecting a separate State hospital near Indianapolis to take care of the insane in Marion County was considered today by State charity officials, J. A. Brown, secretary of the State Board of Charities, declared.

Brown conferred with Max Bahr, superintendent of the Central State Hospital for insane, and discussed the condition in the county.

Marion County has approximately 1,000 insane patients dependent upon State and county care. It was pointed out by Bahr. That the Julietta hospital is little more than an institution providing facilities for poor farm inmates is the belief of the State authorities.

The State of Illinois has adopted a policy similar to the one now under consideration. A hospital, located at Chicago, was built by the State to take care of urgent condition developing in that city.

If the Indianapolis institution is specially recommended by the board, a special appropriation from the 1925 General Assembly will be necessary.

"The Julietta institution could be easily converted into a poorhouse," Brown suggested, intimating that the county hospital would then be abandoned in event of the new State project.

"It was founded originally to take care of senile cases, feeble-minded and defective persons. Since then, however, chronic insane patients have been admitted."

Brown further advocated the building in the near future of a State psychopathic hospital for which cases would be sent for examination and study.

Placing of the senile harmless cases in home was also favored in order to provide additional room in State hospitals.

Helpless veterans are all allowed $50 per month for an attendant.

Compensation to insane veterans, who have rather wife, children nor dependent parent and who are maintained free of charge in a Veterans Bureau hospital, is reduced to $20 per month.

A veteran in hospitals will be required to allot no more than 4 of his monthly compensation to his dependents.

Partial reinstatement of lapsed war risk insurance is permitted.

Vocational training is limited to those who suffered a disability in line of duty and not the result of their own misconduct between April 6, 1917, and July 2, 1921.

Pay of the director is increased from $10,000 to $12,000.

SHORTRIDGE HIGH SPACE DECREASES

It is necessary to have pupils study in rooms in which recitations are also going on. This, high school officials say, is particularly undesirable, as it is almost impossible for a pupil to concentrate wholly upon a study and not have his attention distracted by recitations which are under way at the same time. Due to this overcrowding it is not possible for pupils in many instances to have access to the library during study periods.

Only 50 per cent of the students are forced to go outside the building for lunch, so cramped is the lunch room space.

The lunchroom, with the kitchen in one corner, is crowded far beyond capacity every noon hour and the overflow pours out to drug stores and cafeterias. In cold and rainy weather this occasions endless inconvenience, to say nothing of the economic loss to the students as the school lunchrooms in all high schools are operated on a very narrow margin of profit for the benefit of students.

Plans Are Blocked

In December the school board employed architects to prepare plans for a new and modern Shortridge at Pennsylvania and Thirty-Fourth St. The actions were taken over the vote of Charles L. Barry, a former Shortridge graduate, who in the past when other high school projects were being pushed always pleaded for adequate facilities for Shortridge. He also voted against the employment of architects and purchase of ground for new west side and colored high schools.

On Jan. 1, two new board members, Charles R. Yoke and Fred Bates Johnson, succeeded Bert S. Gadd and W. D. Allison. They joined with Barry at the last board meeting and ordered all high school extension work stopped.

Since then civic league and the Shortridge Parent-Teacher Association have held meetings and appointed committees to demand that the high school program go through. The Shortridge committee expects to call upon the board at its meeting Tuesday night and demand an explanation of the last delay in relieving conditions which fast are becoming intolerable at the north side school.

Cathedral May Be Bought by Chamber

SCOTTISH RITE CATHEDRAL.

The Scottish Rite cathedral, 39 S. Pennsylvania St., may be purchased by the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce. This became known today, following a meeting of the Scottish Rite Monday night, at which the board of trustees was authorized to sell the building.

The Chamber of Commerce has been looking for new quarters and has considered the Scottish Rite site, among others, John Reynolds, secretary, said today.

"Charles F. Coffin, chairman of the committee in charge of this matter, is out of the city," Reynolds said. "However, I do not believe a definite offer has been made."

John Sauter, chairman of the Scottish Rite trustees, said that, at the meeting Monday night was a lodge affair, he was not at liberty to give out information.

MOTION TO OUST SANITATION BOARD EMPLOYEE BEATEN

John Elliott, President, Loses in Attack on Truly Nolen.

Efforts of the sanitary board to remove Truly Nolen, superintendent of sanitation, failed today when a motion of John Elliott, president, was tabled, 2 to 1.

Elliott's motion asked Nolen's resignation, effective Feb. 10. Russell T. McFall seconded the motion to get it before the board, and then moved to table it. Jay A. Craven voted with McFall.

Nolen has been the target of Elliott for some time, but the move today came as a surprise to the board. McFall explained that he had not been a member long enough to judge Nolen's ability.

Elliott proposed Tom Bowser, now employed in the controller's office, to succeed Nolen. He said that he wanted cooperation in the department as long as he was head of the sanitary board and that Nolen's presence made that impossible. Craven declined to make a statement after the meeting.

BOARD EXPECTED TO RESUME WORK ON BUILDING PLAN

Protests May Force Majority Faction to Reverse Attitude.

The majority faction of the school board probably will reverse itself and authorize resumption of the high school building program tonight, it was indicated today.

At the last board meeting, this faction, composed of Charles L. Barry, Charles R. Yoke, and Fred Bates Johnson, over the protests of the other members, Dr. Marie Haslep and Adolph Emhardt, ordered all activity toward carrying out plans for erection of a new Shortridge, a west side and a colored high school stopped.

Since then, public opinion has made itself felt and resolutions have been adopted by civic organizations protesting against the board's action.

Resumption of the program, so far as Shortridge and the west side high school are concerned, will be authorized tonight, according to stories in circulation in school circles. It is believed plans for a colored high school will be held up further, possibly abandoned.

It is understood strenuous efforts will be made to change architects for Shortridge and the west side buildings. Kopf and Wooling were selected
