

SELIG DRY GOODS COMPANY TO PUT UP NEW BUILDING

Seven-Story Structure to Be on Site of Present Home.

A seven-story building will be erected by the Selig Dry Goods Company on the site of its present store, 20-22 W. Washington St., Sam L. Hahn, president and treasurer, announced today.

Work will begin Aug. 1, Hahn said. It is expected the building will be completed about March 1, 1925. Architects are Vonnegut, Bohn & Mueller.

During the erection of the new building the Selig store will be housed in the building at 43-45 S. Meridian St., now occupied by the Shaw-Walker Company, which will move into the new Meyer-Kiser Bank building.

The new building will be financed by the Meyer-Kiser Bank through a $300,000 preferred stock issue, 6 per cent, tax exempt, to be offered to the public soon, Hahn said. With equipment, the new store will represent an investment of between $400,000 and $500,000, according to Hahn.

The front of the new building will be of terra cotta and marble. The building will include a basement store, with a sub-basement for machinery.

Several new departments will be added, including shoes, jewelry, toilet goods, a sports shop and a beauty and French barber shop.

On the first floor will be dress accessories, including blouses, lingerie, shoes, hosiery, jewelry and toilettries; second, gowns and dresses; third, millinery and beauty and barber shop; fourth, coats, suits and furs; fifth, sports shop and children's and flapper departments; sixth, general offices, delivery and fitting rooms; seventh, modern cold storage rooms for furs and fur workroom.

Leases in connection with the new building were negotiated through the Albert E. Uhl and George W. Klein companies.

Associated with Hahn in the Selig Company are Mrs. Moses Selig, vice president; Herbert S. Selig, secretary; and Max L. Dessau and G. A. Millet, who, with the other officers, form the board of directors.

The Selig Dry Goods Company, formed in 1890 by the late Moses Selig, first operated a dry goods store at 211 S. Illinois St.

In 1908 the store was moved to 20 W. Washington St. In 1915 property at 22 W. Washington St. was added and a 99-year lease was taken on the entire property.

Although dry goods departments of the store were taken out in 1900, the firm name never changed. It was incorporated in 1919. Hahn, who joined the firm in 1895, has been president since the death of Moses Selig in 1920.

Original plans to build the new store in 1920 were changed because of rapid increase in business, Hahn said.

Times Change! So Do Names

Even names aren't what they used to be.

City birth returns for the past forty years show how quickly names evolve from stiff, hard-named times to compound affairs of the Twentieth Century that rip off the tongue with perfect rhythm.

How many proud parents in these days attach the name of Elisha, Elijah, Solomon, or Ephraim to their baby boys? But back in 1880, such names were common.

And in those good old days, girls were bestowed such names as Ferdinandina, Azalia, Lizzie and Eliza.

Fathers and mothers of today evidently desire their children to labor under handicaps other than old-fashioned names. The modern era has its modern names.
