

CITY CALLED ON TO HONOR LABOR DAY HERE MONDAY

Mayor, in Proclamation,
Cites Advantages of Indianapolis.

Mayor Shank today called upon people of Indianapolis to cooperate in observance of Labor day, Monday.

Labor leaders are planning an elaborate program at State fairground starting at 10 a. m. and ending with a fireworks display, depicting history of unions, at night.

E. J. Henning, first assistant secretary of labor, and W. B. Wilson, ex-secretary of labor, will speak. Henning will represent Secretary of Labor John J. Davis.

Smith in Charge

The program will be in charge of John E. Smith, president of Central Labor Union.

Following mass meeting in the grand stand, group meetings will be held throughout the afternoon. There will be a special exhibit of union label products in Manufacturers' building. One of the afternoon harness races will be named the Labor day committee's stake.

The Proclamation

Mayor Shank's Labor day proclamation:

"Today it takes just six hours for labor to convert a growing forest tree into a paper, printed and sold on the street. Formerly it took months for labor to do this very thing. Labor is progressing.

"Within a short time a national child labor law will be enacted. Labor is developing.

"We have come to an industrial consciousness so that capital and labor are now joining hands in service of a country which they both love and which they recognize as their sovereign. Capital and labor are talking more to one another and a little less about one another. They mutually condemn acts of hostility. Labor is moving forward.

Labor's Inspiration

"Labor has taken such a prominent position in our national life that the first Monday in September has been dedicated to its honor. So I proclaim, Monday, Sept. 1, 1924, a legal holiday in the city of Indianapolis.

"This wonderful city of ours, covering more than 150 square miles, has become noted for its lack of unemployment, and on account of its diversified industries has the name of a panic-proof city. Indianapolis has more homes per 1,000 people than any city in the United States, for it has been calculated that in every working hour of every working day work is begun on one or more new homes. Sixty-five per cent of our people own their homes and our city is heralded as a city of contented, home-owning, working people. Statistics show Indianapolis is high in the list of cities in per capita wealth, as the wealth here is widely distributed. All of these things are an inspiration to labor.

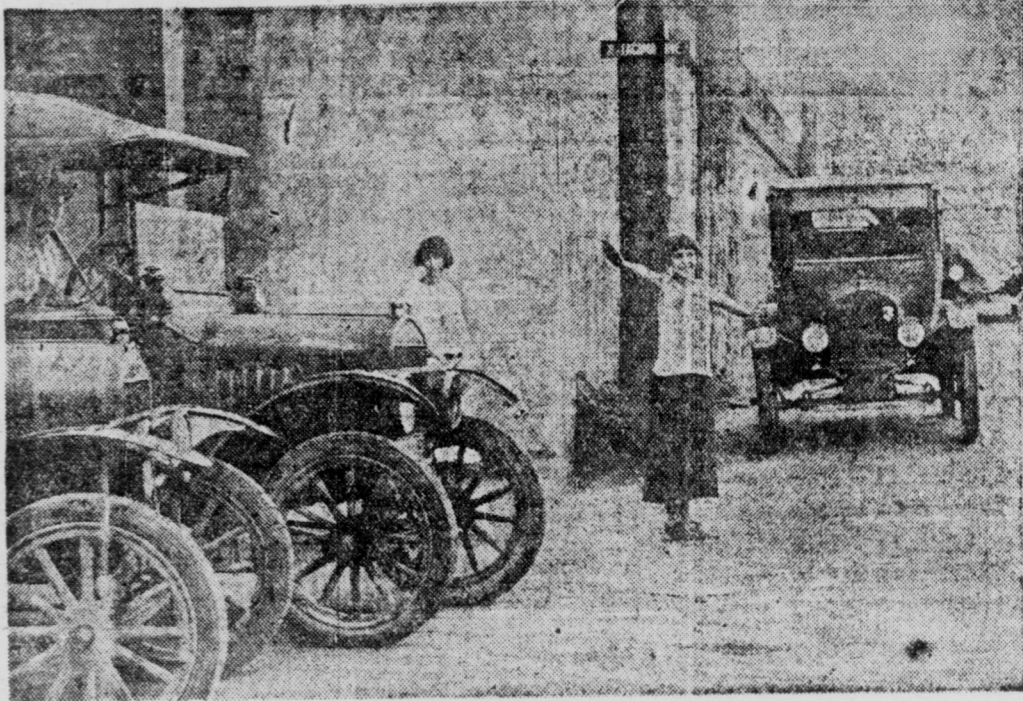

"In honor of this Labor Day, let us remember as the poet has said: 'This is the gospel of labor—Ring it, ye bells of the kirk, The Lord of Love came down from above'

To live with the men who work. This is the rose that he planted here. In the thorn-cursed soil—Heaven is blest with perfect rest. But the blessing of earth is toil. 'Let each of us faithfully give our support and our personal help to this day and what it stands for.'

RELIEVES BABIES, helps grown-ups, comforts elderly people. For summer complaint, weakening diarrhoea—use CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY

Take in a little sweetened water. Never fails.

REALTORS HEAR TAX BOARD HEAD

Convention Will Close With Election.

By United Press
HAMMOND, Ind., Aug. 29.—The total cost of township, city, county and State government in Indiana has increased more than six times since 1900, John J. Brown, chairman of the State tax board, declared today in a speech on "Some Tax Problems" before the eleventh annual convention of the Indiana Real Estate Association here.

In 1900, the total cost of government in Indiana was approximately $22,000,000, while during 1924 the cost will total approximately $124,000,000, Brown declared.

Brown said it is important the public be educated to the tax problem, which is one of the greatest problems the public has to face today. The increase in the cost of government cannot be attributed so much to extravagance on the part of public officials, although, he said, there is some extravagance, as much as to the necessity of public officials to keep up with rapid pace of progress in making expenditures for modern improvements.

Highways and common schools are two of the largest items in governmental costs, he declared. Money paid in taxes for common schools was multiplied over six times from 1900 to the first of this year, while during the same period the cost of highways was multiplied more than eight times.

In 1900 the cost of State government was 12 per cent of the total cost of government in Indiana, while in 1922 it was reduced to 9 per cent.

The convention of realtors was to close today with election of officers.

TRAFFIC ON N. Tacoma Ave.

shoots in under a railroad viaduct onto Massachusetts Ave.—one of the most hazardous corners in the city.

Motorists' breath easier nowadays as they approach it. There's a traffic cop, or rather a cop-ess.

It's this way.

Miss Dorothy White, 2229 N. Keystone Ave., and Miss Mildred Frances, 2167 Tacoma Ave., live near the corner and saw the many near-accidents. It was Miss White's idea to play traffic cop. Miss Frances agreed to be her assistant.

Dorothy stands just outside the viaduct in view of motorists on both avenues. She keeps traffic going smoothly. Signals are proper, too, and they are obeyed. Brakes squeal when she puts up her hand.

"How old are you girls?" they were asked.

"Sweet sixteen," smiled the fair cop-ess with a dimple, "and we've never been cussed."

Woman's Greatest Asset

Health is woman's greatest asset. Upon it depends charm, beauty, power to attract others, happiness and success, and it is what really makes life worth living. Thousands of women suffer from headaches, backache, nervousness, mental depression and mysterious pains, who could find immediate relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which is made from roots and herbs. For nearly half a century this medicine has been recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.—Advertisement.

G. O. P. DECLARED UNDER DOMINANCE OF KU-KLUX KLAN

Independent Voters' League Urges Negroes to Desert Republicans.

"The party that we have stood by for more than half a century, that we have given our lives for, has been gobbled up, and is controlled and managed by that inferno organization, the Ku-Klux Klan."

This was the declaration on Thursday night of W. E. Henderson, president of the Independent Voters' League, at a mass meeting at 401½ W. Michigan St.

The meeting, declared probably the largest negro political meeting ever held in Indianapolis, marked the launching of a concerted drive to swing the negro vote away from the Republican standard.

Lincoln Recalled

W. E. Henry, director of the league, briefly outlined the history of the Klan and denounced D. C. Stephenson, the "old man" of the Indiana Klan. Henry declared Lincoln would say:

"No thinking American negro will cast a vote for the party which has been swallowed up by the Ku-Klux Klan."

G. L. Knox, editor of the Freeman, negro publication, declared he has fought the Democratic party for more than fifty years, but will desert the G. O. P. this year.

James Deery Speaks

John Blankett, negro Democratic candidate for the Legislature, warned the Klan seeks "disfranchisement and economic boycott to get the negro back into the Southland."

James E. Deery, former city court judge, and Democratic candidate for prosecuting attorney, said there was no Republican party in Indiana.

"It is a Klan party," he said. "Its speakers have no right to call upon the names of Lincoln and Roosevelt."

Other speakers were the Rev. Charles Sumner Williams, the Rev. S. F. Young, Luther Porter, editor of the "Informant," the Rev. C. M. Hammonds, Terre Haute; G. W. Caine, Franklin, past grand master of the colored Masons, and Mrs. Daisy Dean Walker.
