GOOD MANNERS

Greeting of Host

THE house party host always goes to the front hall and shakes hands with everyone who arrives. He asks the guests if they want to be shown to their rooms and, if not, sees that the gentlemen who come without valets give their keys to the butler or footman, and that the ladies without maids of their own give theirs to the maid on duty.

Alleged Burglar Held
Harry Bass, 15, N. East St., was arrested today on charges of burglary and entering a house to commit a felony. Police said he entered the garage of C. N. Elliott, Thirtieth St. and Ferris Rd. and tried to get away with an auto.

Catholic Community Center
Winter classes of the Catholic Community Center will commence Thursday at 8 p. m. Free instructions, text-books and service are given those intending to be naturalized. Religion and nationality make no difference.

August Brides on Wedding Trips After Whirl of Parties

MIDSUMMER brides whose prenuptial parties and showers have been the center of attraction for society for the past few weeks are taking pleasant trips around the country before settling down to the housewifely tasks of apartment dwelling.

Mrs. George Long was Miss

Barbara Hensley, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Hensley, 1226 Pleasant St., before her wedding Saturday night at home. Mr. and Mrs. Long will be at home in the Canterbury Apts., after Sept. 8, on their return from a motor trip.

Mrs. Barrett Moxley Wood-small, who was married Wednesday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carl W. Piel, 3416 N. Meridian St., was Miss Evelyn Hovey. Mr. and Mrs. Woodsmall are taking a motor trip and cruise of the Great Lakes. They will be at home at 2735 N. Meridian St., after Oct. 1.

Mrs. William Davis Harrison, who was Miss Anabeth Heckard, daughter of Mrs. R. Catherine Heckard, Canterbury Apts., was married Sunday afternoon with a pretty candlelight wedding at home. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison are taking a wedding trip and will be at home in the Canterbury after Oct. 1.

One of the handbills which the State League is supplying for distribution reads:

"Four hundred and forty thousand citizens of Indiana stayed away from the polls in 1920. Let us make that number this year 100,000. Do you love your country? Do you honor your flag? Then don't be a ballot snicker. Perform your most important duty as a citizen and vote on Nov. 4. Vote as you please, but vote!"

HOSPITAL CHEER GUILD TO MEET

Gifts Received Help With Work at Riley Memorial.

Tuesday afternoon the Riley Hospital Cheer Guild will meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 3:30 to complete plans for the opening of the hospital Oct. 7.

Mrs. A. J. Porter, president, announces the following gifts received for their work among the children's wards at the hospital: Six dozen soft rubber balls from Mooney Mueller and Ward Company; seven dozen decorated boxes from the Paper Package Company; for puzzle pictures, five dozen games from a Pennsylvania Card Company; Mother Goose dolls from a toy company in Minneapolis; scrapbooks and a half dozen yarn "parlor balls," made by Mrs. Flora Kling of Mt. Vernon, Ind., who has been sending things to Mrs. Porter ever since she saw the display in L. S. Ayres' show window recently.

Subscriptions to children's magazines, toys, books are still in great demand, says Mrs. A. J. Porter, 2417 Ruckle St.

"Besides," continued Miss Perier, "I am like a drunkard. I buy and buy so that I will not think." I looked at her in surprise, Leslie, for I could not quite realize what she had said that she wanted to blot out from her brain. She seemed to think, however, that this was explanation enough, for whatever her thoughts had been, she gave herself up to them, and apparently forgot that I was there.

"Miss Perier, you surely must have only pleasant thoughts," I exclaimed, hoping to call her out of herself. "No young woman has had greater success than you in the last three years."

"Perhaps that's so, but what does success on the screen mean? Money? Yes, of course, lots of it. The extravagant admiration of many people whom you have never seen and never will see, coupled with the feeling that you have no real friends. The men for whom you work think of you only as a cog in the wheels that turn out golden dollars for them, and all the other people you know are either jealous or envious of you."

"This morning when I awoke," she continued, after a moment, "I thought the whole world was hard and cold. Even the sun, which was trying to peep through the Chicago smoke, seemed only a great brass ball, something not capable of sending out any warmth. When I opened my eyes I found myself saying, 'I don't want to go to Hollywood. I don't want to go back to work. I don't want to read another fan letter. I don't want to hear another soulless compliment. I just want to go somewhere and sit out in the sun under the trees, and hold a baby in my arms.'"

"Then you called my room, you know, and immediately, like the drunkard who knows the lethal draft, I said, 'We'll go shopping.'"

Because Paula Perier spoke of the joy of a child, I immediately thought about your little boy face—how sweet and loving he was, and how you loved him. I've never seen such a radiant look on human face as on Paula Perier's face when she turned her eyes toward me.

Dancer Returns

MRS. LOUISE PURSELL POWELL
Mrs. Louise Pursell Powell, 2121 N. Meridian St., has just returned from Chicago where she has been studying dancing under Prof. Adolph Bohm.

"Besides," continued Miss Perier, "I am like a drunkard. I buy and buy so that I will not think." I looked at her in surprise, Leslie, for I could not quite realize what she had said that she wanted to blot out from her brain. She seemed to think, however, that this was explanation enough, for whatever her thoughts had been, she gave herself up to them, and apparently forgot that I was there.

"What would she do," asked Paula Perier, "if the child were to die or be taken away from her?" "I think her heart would be broken."

"Yes, I think it would," said Paula Perier. The shopping tour, which had started with a laugh, ended with

STATE LEAGUE HEAD APPROVES VOTE CAMPAIGN

Mrs. W. T. Barnes Comes Home to Enter Actively in November Drive.

Mrs. William T. Barnes, president of the Indiana League of Women Voters, who returned to Indianapolis last week from Richmond, where she spent the summer, has expressed enthusiastic approval of the progress of the league's get-out-the-vote campaign.

Mrs. Barnes said: "I am particularly pleased with the interest being taken by local leagues throughout Indiana in the work of getting voters to the polls. Although the campaign was formally launched only a few weeks ago, both the State and local leagues had been jangling their plans during the summer, and were well prepared to begin active work early this fall."

One of the handbills which the State League is supplying for distribution reads:

"Four hundred and forty thousand citizens of Indiana stayed away from the polls in 1920. Let us make that number this year 100,000. Do you love your country? Do you honor your flag? Then don't be a ballot snicker. Perform your most important duty as a citizen and vote on Nov. 4. Vote as you please, but vote!"

Entertained

MISS ROBERTA TOWELL

Miss Roberta Towell of Anderson, who is the house guest of Miss Barbara Fischer, 426 N. Arsenal Ave., has been entertained at several parties during the past week.

Saturday, Jacob Fischer, her hostess' father entertained at luncheon for his daughter, in honor of her house guest and a few friends. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilcox, 2403 Park Ave., invited several guests to dinner Saturday night in her honor.

BIG PARTY NO EXCUSE

Farm Sentence Given for Possession of White Mule.

Testimony of Mrs. Nellie Ferguson that her father, Carmon Delatore, 64, of 625 Lord St., had purchased a large quantity of liquor for refreshments at a party which she planned did not save Delatore. Special Judge Vinson H. Manifold fined Delatore $250 and sentenced him sixty days on the Indiana State Farm.

Nine and one-half pints of "white mule," five gallons of brewing beer, and eighteen and one-half gallons of wine, were found by Sheriff George Snider and squad when the Delatore home was raided Aug. 1.

Business Positions Appeal

There's one thing certain, business positions appeal strongly to most young men and women. The opportunities that business offers to beginners who are energetically prepared, together with the unlimited chance for advancement and promotion as experience is gained, make it one of the most attractive fields open to ambitious young people. Our school offices will be open Labor day for enrollment. Arrange to enter Tuesday, September 2, the beginning of our Fall term, or as soon thereafter as possible. Attend Indiana Business College at Marion, Muncie, Logansport, Anderson, Ellettsburg, Columbus, Richmond, Vincennes or Indianapolis. Charles C. Cring is president and Ora E. Butz, general manager.
