

NEW DEPARTMENT HEAD AT Y. W. C. A. PLANS ACTIVITIES

Industrial and Business Girls to Be Joined With Girl
Reserves.

An Indiana woman who has done outstanding things in industrial work of the Young Women's Christian Association—Miss Frances Le-nore Toy—has come to the local association to join the work in the industrial and business girls department and in the girl reserve department. This arrangement is probably the first experiment in uniting the work of these two departments under one executive.

She succeeds Miss Gertrude Sykes, who has gone to the Real Silk hosiery factor as educational and recreational director.

Miss Toy announces a "setting up" meeting for the industrial and girl reserve departments, to be held Sept. 20-21 at Northern Beach.

Miss Katharine Kautz, 4059 N. Pennsylvania St., the new chairman of the Industrial and Business Women's Club, will work with Miss Toy.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

Aesthetic dancing will be under direction of a new assistant in the health education department, Miss Verna Nash, Elgin, Ill.

The industrial committee will have its first meeting with the new executive, Miss Frances Toy, Monday night.

The Real Silk E. M. B. A. Club will have a week-end house party at Northern Beach Sept. 13. Mrs. Ino Gilliland and Miss Mary Williams, who were delegates to the industrial conference at Dewey Lake, will report. Officers will be elected.

Miss Frances Hancock, secretary for the girl reserves, will return Tuesday from Paris, Ky., to take up fall plans.

The Indianapolis Association of Women Bible Teachers will meet at 10 a. m. Thursday in the Green parlors. The class has been meeting all summer with Miss Florence Latham as teacher. New members will be welcome. Women teachers and officers of Bible classes in any school are eligible to membership.

On account of the number of girls coming out for tennis on Friday evenings, the health department has obtained a second court in Brookside Park where games are played under the supervision of an instructor from 5 p. m. until dark. Tournament for the beginning and advanced classes are planned. Any one wishing to enter may leave her name in the office of the health department.

The fall schedule for the swimming pool will go into effect Sept. 15. (Miss De Arona McCreary of Charlotte, N. C., has come to the Phyllis Wheatley Branch of the Y. W. C. A. as Girl Reserve secretary.)

ITCHY PIMPLES
LASTED 2 YEARS

Face Covered. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Heals.

"My trouble began with a few pimples breaking out on my face. They kept getting worse and soon my face was covered with them. The pimples were hard and red and itched and burned badly. They caused me a lot of trouble at night and I could not sleep. The trouble lasted about two years.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using them about a month there was a great improvement. I continued the treatment and in two months I was completely healed." (Signed) Joe Creml, 154 1/2 Furnace St., Akron, Ohio, April 8, 1924.

Use Cuticura for every-day toilet purposes. Bathe with Soap, soothe with Ointment, and wash with Talcum.

Sample Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories," Dept. 10, P. O. Box 10, Lowell, Mass. Sold every where. Keep the Ointment in the Jar. Try our New Shaving Stick.

LETTER FROM RUTH BURKE TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

Well, here we are back home again. It doesn't seem like home to me, Leslie, without you here. I haven't been able to get hold of Jack, and I may as well tell you that there's a pretty kettle of fish at your apartment. That Bradford woman has kicked up the usual fuss. Your cook has left and if Sarah hadn't been with you so long, I am sure she would do so also.

Mrs. Prescott tells me her son is so busy he has not been home for a week except to sleep, coming in very late at night and leaving very early in the morning. Sarah tells me privately that he hasn't been home at all, but has contented himself with calling up to find out about little Jack. Miss Anderson visited me at the shop today and told me that even she could not stand it much longer.

Last night Walter and I dined at the Little Club, and over in one corner we saw Sally Atherton and Jack. Now, dear, I don't think there is one solitary bit of harm in Jack's attention to that woman. He's very lonely and what a lonely man will do is not to be conceived in the mind of a woman.

Mrs. Atherton spied Walter and me first and said something to Jack. I know he was embarrassed, but she seemed to be as cool as ever. I think she told him to invite us over to their table, for rather reluctantly, he came over, and after greeting Walter, whom he had not seen since we got here, he asked us to come over and eat with them.

I asked Jack when we were coming home, and he said he did not think you were coming for quite a while; that he was going to take the baby down to you as soon as his business would let him. It was then that Sally Atherton said a most peculiar thing.

"Why didn't you tell me, Mr. Prescott, that you wanted to get away?" she said. "If you had, I would have seen her boy, she ought to have him immediately. Why don't you go tomorrow?"

It seemed to me Jack was sorry he had spoken, for he evaded answering her, but he told me all through the dinner kept referring to it and finally she said to me:

"Isn't it possible for you to persuade Mr. Prescott that I can take care of his business?"

Jack seemed very much annoyed and gave me a look that said, "That's a work her, however. She wouldn't let him alone until he had promised to start to you tomorrow."

Later, in the dressing room, she said:

"I think Mr. Prescott should take the baby to his wife and bring them all back here as soon as possible. His mother and some old maid friend of hers have absolutely turned his house into chaos, and he is not staying home at all."

"You probably know Mr. Prescott better than I, Mrs. Burke, and you probably know that for all his cry of business he is not, or rather he cannot attend to it when his mind is all shot to pieces by that exigent mother of his."

Do you know, Leslie, dear, I rather liked the girl. For the first time in my life I think I understood her, and yet I fear her. She is absolutely a law unto herself, always—I can see that.

Jack probably will be with you by the time you get this letter. Why don't you come back with him? I want to see you."

Will Wed Franklin Man

MISS MARGARET SHOUSE

An engagement announced this week was that of Miss Margaret Shouse, 3225 N. New Jersey St., to Charles R. Farmer of Franklin, Ind. The announcement was made at a beautifully appointed luncheon-bridge at the home of Mrs.

Roy Vance Ritchie of Franklin. The wedding will take place Oct. 9 at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Shouse was a guest of honor at a mah-jongg party Saturday afternoon, given by Miss Elizabeth Collins at the Peacock Inn.

Martha Lee Says

Selecting Life's Work Like Choosing Husband

Choosing a career is somewhat like choosing a husband: No one else can do it for you satisfactorily, and you are almost certain to regret your choice, at some time in the future.

Unless you have such definite talent along some certain line, or feel a "call" to take up some particular work, or have a business waiting for you, the choice of a profession or vocation is a difficult one.

You may strike out blindly and grasp at the first thing that offers itself, or you may wander from position to position until you "find" yourself, or you may analyze yourself and decide for what you are best fitted.

But no matter what you do a time will come, almost certainly, when you will be sure you would have had greater success, or greater happiness in some other line. If you love your work, this feeling will pass quickly. If you do not, it may linger.

However, there should be some satisfaction in the thought, that even though you had chosen another career, you would have had the same feeling. That's human nature.

Which Shall It Be?

Dear Miss Lee: I am very ambitious to become a nurse or an artist, and I cannot decide which I want to be. Everybody tells me I have a wonderful art talent and should develop it.

I am 23 too old to begin studying art, the intention of going to Paris, France. Please advise me whether I should be a nurse or develop my art talent.

You must make your own decision. Ambitious. I could not make it for you. Study yourself and the two professions between which you intend to choose, thoroughly. Both present many hardships. First, are you strong physically, mentally and spiritually? Nursing taxes both body and mind. At the same time, it gives assurance of service to mankind.

If you intend to make art a life work, you never are too old to begin to study it. However, the stories of struggling artists are not just fiction. An art student, to give the necessary time and thought to his work, should have some other means of support while he is getting a start.

Also, can you stand disappointment after disappointment, without losing heart? Or, can you stand success without losing your "balance?" Art will bring either, or both.

It takes a strong character to be either a nurse or an artist. Don't make your decision in haste.

One Bracelet

One bracelet of goodly width and very much jeweled or carved is preferred now to the many narrow ones that have been so much the rage.

Two Straps

The two-strap pump with moderate heel and round toe is the accepted model for street and fall.

SCHOOLS and COLLEGES

Most of the Great Men of the last half century came from the small church colleges.

The success of these colleges is due to the fact that they have a deep interest in the mental, moral and spiritual development of the individual student.

Dust With Flour

Dust the pan in which you are to bake a pie with flour and the pie will not stick to the pan.

Ungreased Paper

It is better not to grease the pan in which you bake a sponge cake, but to line it with ungreased paper.

Water Ices

Water ices should be frozen like ice cream, except that the crank need not be turned constantly. A few turns every five minutes is enough.

GROTTO MEMBERS PICNIC

Annual Frolic at Columbia Park—Ball Game Scheduled.

The first annual family picnic of the Sahara Grotto and members' families, was held this afternoon at Columbia Park, S. East St. A baseball game between Capt. Walter Claffey's aggregation and Capt. Harry Dickinson's sluggers was to start at 2 p. m. Tug-of-war contests for men and women. Games, bowling contest and races of all descriptions were on the program.

Following the picnic supper the band will give a concert and drill. In the evening Sherman Keys will give a tumbling act, which will be followed by a wrestling bout. Dancing and a prize waltz will close the festivities.

Hatters' Plush

Hatters' plush, velvet and leather are the materials used most by milliners this fall.

Shaded Gown

The shaded gown is seen not only in georgette and chiffon, but also in velvet.

New Gloves

Bright red glaze leather gloves of the slip-on model are an extreme style, but they are very attractive with the all-white or all-black outfit.

FIRST YEAR OBSERVED

Sigma Phi Celebrate With Dinner at Spink-Arms.

The first anniversary of the founding of Sigma Phi Sorority was celebrated Friday night at dinner at the Spink-Arms. Decorations in the sorority colors, American beauty and silver, were used in the Sigma Phi pennant hung at one end of the room and huge basket of American beauty roses on the table. Places were marked with cards holding individual candles, signifying the first anniversary. Favors were glove compact engraved with Greek letters.

Miss Elizabeth Kutz, head of the music department of the Arsenal Technical Schools, was an honor guest. Miss Anna Louise Werner was toastmistress. Following the dinner a brief business session was held.
