FIRPO WINDS UP TRAINING GRIND FOR WILLS BOUT

Both Fighters End Hard Work—South American Is Betting Favorite.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—With a short workout in Madison Square Garden this afternoon, Luis Angel Firpo, the South American champion, completed training for his fight in Jersey City, Thursday against Harry Wills, the former New Orleans stevedore.

Wills moved back to his Harlem apartment Monday from the beach resort at Southampton, where he has been getting ready for the contest that he hopes will lead him into a heavyweight championship bout with Jack Dempsey.

Harry Is Confident
"I'm ready now," Wills said this morning. "I wish I didn't have to wait. I'm in the best shape of my life and I know I'm going to win."

Wills has trained well and he looks fine. He picked a good spot where he wasn't bothered by a lot of hangers-on.

Firpo has had so many warrants and papers shoved at him he has developed some fine side-stepping footwork.

Firpo Holds Up
The South American has been harrassed and bothered more in his training than any other fighter who tried to get ready for an important bout, but he seems to be standing up well under the strain.

Betting in the financial districts today saw gobs of Firpo money pouring in on the commissioners and they have a lot of money to offer at 5-4 the South American will win.

Danny Sullivan of Newark, N. J., has been named to referee the Wills-Firpo bout. He has a reputation for making boxers hustle.
