

BOARD DISCUSSES BUILDING DIVISION RIDDLE IN SECRET

Further Investigation of Robert Reed's Position
Looms.

Solution of the "Ricke's riddle" situation as to whether Julius Emhardt or Robert T. Reed is chief clerk of the building and grounds department of the Indianapolis schools may be carried a step further as a result of a secret session of school board members Tuesday night. The board, acting as a committee of the whole, has been investigating the department, headed by George Rickes, for several weeks. The meeting was thought by some to be merely a step by Charles R. Yoke, president, to determine how far he could go in forcing appointment of Reed and ousting of Emhardt.

Never Appointed

Reed, son of Yoke's business associate, Fred T. Reed, has been working in the department for three months, but never has been reported appointed and is not on the official pay roll.

Ricke's announced appointment of Reed and resignation of Emhardt once and the following day denied this.

Complaints have been made that repair work sent to the department shops cost more than the repaired things. It has been said that Rickes' school shops spent more money for clerical hire than is spent by the educational department for the same work.

Loan Authorized

The board expressed dissatisfaction at the cut in the school tax by the State tax board and agreed the building program would be seriously hampered. R. O. Johnson, business director, declared a temporary loan of $500,000 would be necessary in February to meet bills for repairs and the teachers' pay roll. The board authorized a $200,000 loan to pay current expenses. George A. Naylor, instructor in military training, was appointed to Shortridge High School, over opposition of Commissioner Adolph Emhardt, who said the Government usually pays for such work.

RHEUMATISM

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It.

In the year of 1893, I was attacked by Muscular and Subacute Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely, and such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bed-ridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and subacute (swelling at the joints) rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long looked-for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

PARTY INTEGRITY, M'CUCCLOCH PLEA

Candidate Centers Attack
on 'Betrayal of Trust.'

By Times Special
WASHINGTON, Ind., Oct. 15.—Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch, Democratic candidate for Governor, in a speech here Tuesday night, said the public conscience was in revolt against the betrayal of trust on the part of public officials, "members past or present of this administration."

"The homely virtues of common honesty and fidelity to a trust should be as much a part of party integrity as of individual integrity," he said. "When any political party betrays public confidence as it has been betrayed by the present administration, the leaders of such a party should be rebuked and punished by being deposed."

He also advocated abolishing useless boards and commissions, revamping of all real estate next year, a farmers' cooperative marketing law and active participation of women in politics.

WHEELER DRAWS LARGE CROWDS IN CALIFORNIA

Also Progressive Prospects
Are Good in Southern Part of State.

By LOWELL MELLETT
Times Staff Correspondent
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 15.—

With three weeks to go, and the progressive campaign apparently gaining impetus every day, prospects for La Follette and Wheeler in southern California look as good as in northern California. If this proves true, there is good reason to expect a victory in this State.

Evidence of the sentiment is the crowds that turned out to cheer the vice presidential candidate in San Diego. The largest theater in the city was filled with citizens who had paid from 25 cents to $1 to hear Wheeler at a noon meeting. In Los Angeles, the famous Hollywood bowl, a natural outdoor amphitheater, held an audience of more than 12,000 who had paid from 25 cents to $5 for the privilege.

Mud-Slinging Attack

Another evidence is the nature of the campaign conducted against the independent ticket. Nowhere in the eighteen States thus far visited by Wheeler has he met with the mud-slinging attack that awaited him here. Socialists is the mildest adjective applied by the opposition newspapers. Full advantage is being taken of the Supreme Court decision which compelled filing of La Follette electors under the Socialist heading, and the candidates are always referred to as Socialists.

The ordinary Pullman special car in which Wheeler's party is traveling is continually cartooned and daily described in terms that make the weary travelers abroad wish it might be half true.

The trip South was made through the barren Tehachap mountains and the Mojave desert. At every brief small town stop for water or a change of engines, the entire population, advised by railroad men of the candidates' coming, flocked from their desert shacks and cottages and called him to the rear platform.

Politicians say the La Follette votes are here in sufficient numbers to give him the city of Los Angeles. A great part of the city had crowd have aligned themselves with the independent campaign, including the mayor's principal backers. The mayor's friends say he is for La Follette, but he has thus far declined to commit himself publicly.

Veterans Active

The Democratic opponent of Congressman Fredericks is openly bidding for La Follette support. The United War Veterans, a political organization drawn from the membership of all the veteran societies, and which has had considerable local political influence, is working actively for the independent ticket. Governor Richardson at a luncheon last week, warned Coolidge workers that they must carry Los Angeles if they expect to carry the State.

He said he didn't expect Coolidge to carry the northern half and expressed hope for no more than a 40,000 to 50,000 majority in the southern half.

Working to disadvantage of the Coolidge campaign is sentiment of business men behind the boulder dam project. Harry Chandler, Coolidge's principal supporter in the State, heads a big private project in Mexico opposed to this Government development of the Imperial Valley. The result is that in this one State, at least, La Follette supporters include a large number of Chamber of Commerce members.

OFFICERS QUIZZED IN ARREST PROBE

Speeches at Cadle Tabernacle Also Investigated.

Complete investigation of alleged escape of J. A. King, Des Moines, Iowa, speaker, who "tricked through" a cordon of "loop" trying to serve a warrant on him Tuesday night at the Cadle Tabernacle, where he was delivering a lecture on "Buried Alive," was begun by Police Chief Herman Rikhoff today.

Lieutenants Schubert and Hudson and Sergeants Bartlett and Brennan and squads, together with eleven patrolmen, were ordered into the chief's office to tell why they failed to arrest King.

Rikhoff said he was summoning the tabernacle owners to his office to question them concerning the King lectures. Rikhoff said he had received numerous complaints on the character of the talks.

The trouble started when Constables Taylor and E. J. Montani, from Justice of Peace Glass' court, appeared at the lecture and arrested King on a charge of assault and battery on a warrant signed by Mrs. Elizabeth Collier, 50 S. Summit St.

Mrs. Collier alleged at an earlier lecture King threw a pitcher of water into her face when she objected to some of his remarks. When the constables started to arrest King, the crowd intruded and the police squads were called by Montani.

Liver Trouble Now a Known Cause of Premature Old Age

Medical science knows that poisonous waste in our bodies would actually cause death in a few days if not eliminated by Nature's processes. Because it destroys these deadly poisons, the liver is our most important organ—the body's wonderful purifier.

The liver prevents the formation of body poisons that cause diseases of the heart, kidneys, blood vessels and are chiefly responsible for premature old age.

LA FOLLETTE IS REFUSED RADIO RIGHT IN IOWA

Also President of Ames College
Will Not Allow Candidate School Talk.

By United Press
DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 15.—With an eight-point foreign policy outlined, Senator Robert M. La Follette spends today in Iowa, one of the States which his followers believe he has a good chance of winning.

Senator Brookhart, who recently declared his opposition to President Coolidge may board the La Follette car at Moulton, Iowa, and ride to Albia.

Whether Brookhart will announce formally his support of La Follette was not indicated. Such an announcement has been expected since the Iowa Senator declared war on Coolidge recently.

Refused Air

Radio entanglements loomed in the campaign when La Follette announced the broadcasting station of the Bankers Life Insurance Company in Des Moines had refused him the use of the air tonight. Philip La Follette, son of the Senator, also was advised that President R. A. Pierson of the Iowa Agricultural College at Ames, had refused a request of a group of students that young La Follette be extended an invitation to speak in a college building. Some of the students are arranging an outdoor meeting.

It was said that John W. Davis, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Senator George Wharton Pepper and other political figures have spoken at the university gym during the campaign.

Like Jefferson

"When I am elected President," he said, "the fundamental doctrine expressed by Thomas Jefferson in his first inaugural address, 'peace, commerce and friendship with all nations, entangling alliances with none,' shall guide us. To this basic statement of foreign policy should be added recognition of foreign governments without intervention in their affairs, the Monroe Doctrine safeguarding the American continent from Imperialist exploitation, and absolute neutrality toward foreign nations involved in war."

La Follette's eight-point policy embraces the ending of secret diplomacy, the enlistment of wealth as well as men if war is forced upon the United States, the payment for war "day by day" not the issuance of bonds for subsequent generations to pay off, non-annexation of the territory of any other nation, granting of self-government to the Philippines, a referendum for war except in cases of armed invasion, cooperation with the other nations of the world to reduce armaments to a defensive basis, and the end of "financial imperialism."

"Sixty thousand American boys would still be alive if the doctrine of absolute neutrality announced by President Wilson in 1914 had been adhered to, now the American agriculture now be prostrate demanding speedy relief if we had stayed neutral," he said.

Nurse Stacey's Suggestions to Middle Aged Women

MRS. H. STACEY
COLLINSVILLE, ILLINOIS

A MOST trying period of a woman's life is that of middle age, fraught with danger to some extent, and invariably with most annoying symptoms, such as hot-flashes, smothering spells, nervous troubles, irregularities and fainting spells.

When a woman like Nurse Stacey after many years of caring for the sick writes a letter of praise for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound like the following, it should influence other women who are passing through the Change of Life to try it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a root and herb medicine especially adapted to act upon the feminine system. It helps nature to build up the weakened, nervous system, and enables women to pass this trying period with the least possible annoying symptoms.

Nurse Stacey's Letter Follows:

COLLINSVILLE, ILL.—"I could almost write a book in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In the first place my husband induced me to try it and I have continued taking it off and on for years. I have become a well woman from its use and am now taking it through the Change of Life just to be on the safe side. I first took it for backache and a weak condition of the whole system and I think it saved my life. My daughter is now a mother and I think I can comfort her as high as a hundred women I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to, as I am a practical nurse. Use my letter in any way you see fit for I will stand by what I write."—MRS. H. STACEY, Collinsville, Illinois.

Another Woman's Similar Experience

"During the Change of Life I was always tired and weak, could hardly do my work and did not care to go anywhere or talk to people. After I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I noticed a change and before I had taken four bottles of it I felt like a new person. I can and always will recommend it in cases like mine."—Mrs. J. W. WATSON, 1315 S. 14th St., Manitowish, Wisconsin.
