

FEEDER BUSES ARE CONSIDERED BY COMMISSION

Service for Sections Without Street Cars Proposed.

Proposals of the Indianapolis Street Railway Company to operate feeder bus lines serving sections without street car facilities are under consideration of city officials today in a joint meeting of a citizens transportation committee and city plan commission.

Robert I. Todd, president of the company, submitted plans to the park board Thursday for operating busses connecting with the end of the Mapleton line at Thirty-Ninth and Illinois Sts., north to Fortieth St. west to Capitol Ave., and north to Fifty-Second St. returning over the same route, and another line connecting with Central Ave. cars at Thirty-Fourth St., and running north on Central Ave. to Fifty-Second St.

Regular street car fare will be charged on the busses, with privilege of free transfer to street cars. Todd said four busses would be put in operation immediately, if the city approved plans. Charles A. Bookwalter, president of the park board, suggested the busses be operated down Capitol Ave. to Thirty-Fourth St., where connections could be made with all three branches of Illinois street car lines. Todd said the company would do this, if citizens desired.

The park board held a public hearing on operating busses on Capitol Ave. three weeks ago, at which time the Peoples Motor Coach Company, through A. Smith Bowman, president, sought permission to run on this boulevard. Todd said he believed residents south of Thirty-Fourth St. on Capitol Ave. did not want busses, suggesting "feeder lines" as the best solution.

CHURCH HAS NEW ORGAN

Tuxedo Park Baptist Church to Dedicate Instrument Tonight.

The pipe organ in the new Tuxedo Park Baptist Church, 23 Garfield Ave., will be dedicated tonight at 7:45 as part of the dedicatory services this week.

The Rev. U. S. Clutton, pastor of the church, will lead services. H. Leroy Baumgartner, assistant professor of the theory of music, Yale University, who designed and assisted in installing the organ, will give a recital. New organ is a two-manual instrument containing 755 pipes.

PLAN 1925 STATE FAIR

Board Arranges for Conference With Railroad Officials.

The State board of agriculture will meet with railroad officials Nov. 6 to plan for the 1925 State fair. Officers of the National Dairy Show will meet next week to consider invitation to set up the 1925 dairy show at the fair. The fair board, in session Thursday, decided to take out fire and tornado insurance on more than $500,000 worth of buildings at the fairground.

Hotel Convention Planned

Plans for the annual meeting of the Indiana Hotel Keepers' Association at the Claypool Dec. 5 and 6 were under way today. At a meeting of the executive committee Thursday Walter B. Smith, proprietor of the Denison and Lorraine, was named chairman of the arrangements and entertainment committee.

Drive for New Members

Campaign will be conducted for new members of Warfield Civic League, Norman A. Nicolai, president said. Plans for promoting interests of the club were made at a meeting Thursday night at home of Harry Templeton, 6239 Park Ave. E. O. Snethen, president Federated Civic Clubs, spoke.

CASE IS POSTPONED

Petition for Removal of Lake County Prosecutor Continued to Nov. 5.

State Supreme Court has postponed until Nov. 5 a hearing on petition of Attorney General U. S. Lesh asking that Dwight Kinder, Lake County prosecutor, be removed from office because of his conviction as a member of the Lake County "boozing ring." Circuit Court of Appeals recently upheld Federal Court in the case in which R. O. Johnson, mayor of Gary, also was convicted. An ouster petition was filed at the time of the first conviction, but the Supreme Court declined to act while the case was on appeal. If a rehearing of the case is granted, the court may withhold action again.

Overeating is said to be much more common in the north of England than in the south.
