

SOUTH SIDE WILL UNVEIL FOUNTAIN AT 3 P. M. SUNDAY

Work of Local Sculptor to Be Presented by Shank.

Final arrangements were completed today for the unveiling at 3 p. m. Sunday of the new Ralph Hill Memorial Fountain that has replaced the old adornment in the center of Fountain Square. The fountain design and the sculptured group, "The Pioneer Family," are the work of Mrs. Myra Reynolds Richards, Indianapolis sculptor. It was presented to the city through the will of Mrs. Phoebe J. Hill, in memory of her husband, Ralph Hill, once a prominent local attorney.

Charles E. Coffin, board of works president, under whose supervision the fountain was installed, will preside. Other board members, William H. Freeman, Dr. M. J. Spencer, and Elmer Williams, will be present as official representatives of the city.

James M. Ogden, corporation counsel, will be the chief speaker. His address will contain an interesting account of the life and accomplishments of Ralph Hill, who was at one time a member of Congress as well as one of Indiana's leading lawyers. Mayor Shank will deliver the presentation address and the fountain will be accepted on behalf of the southside by John F. White.

Arrangements have been made for accommodation of a large crowd. Temporary stage has been erected and chairs will be provided.

The "Pioneer Family" group which will surmount the fountain is the third piece of sculpture from the studio of Mrs. Richards to be unveiled in the city. In recent months, first was designed by Mrs. Richards for the Women's Press Club and was placed at Turkey Run. Second was "The Bird Boy," done for the Women's Nature Study Club at Columbus, Ind.

The group represents a family of four Hoosier pioneers, father, mother, son and daughter. It has been pronounced a real artistic achievement. Mrs. Richards has spent considerable time in the making of the group and in directing the erection of the base which is of red Tennessee marble.

When Fans Call Umpire 'Robber' Hod Eller May 'Strut His Stuff'

HOD ELLER

STARTING out in the arrest league with a batting average of .1600, Hod Eller, former pitcher with the world's champion Cincinnati Reds, and a pitcher for the Indianapolis club, now a member of the Indianapolis police department, will see plenty of action tonight when he is charged with the arrest of a member of the Indianapolis Police Squad of which Eller is a member start their raids on week-end craps game.

Eller probably saved several members of the force from serious injury Thursday when he helped capture Thomas Hupp, 39, of 224 S. Temple Ave., who had seriously wounded his wife with an ax and was threatening the officers when they attempted to arrest him.

It is the hope of baseball fans that when the cry of "robber" is heard as the umpires make a questionable decision, Eller will promptly place the culprit under arrest. But when an Indian steals a base—that's different.

BANDITS LOOT SAFETY VAULT

Bore Way Through Two Feet of Steel and Brick.

By Times Special
CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Six bandits early today escaped with the contents of twenty-five steel boxes in a safety vault of the Empire Storage Company on Chicago's south side. Value of the loot was undetermined. They cut their way through two feet of brick and steel to an inner vault, emptied twenty-five boxes and two jewel trunks and disappeared in an automobile.

Police, when notified of the robbery, investigated the vault and declared the work was similar to the $1,000,000 Werner Brothers storage robbery.

THE CATHOLIC Idea of Religion
Everything that is true in every religion is taught in the Catholic religion without any admixture of error. Vast multitudes who are not Catholics actually believe nearly all the doctrines of the Catholic Church without knowing it. Investigate for yourself. Consult your Bible. 1st Cor. 1:10. Now I beseech you brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye be all of the same mind, and that there be no divisions among you.

ONE FOLD, ONE SHEPHERD
Catholics pray constantly that all Christians may soon be united and have "One faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all who is over all and through all and in all." (Eph. 4:6-6:6). The Catholic Church invites all Christians to return to the Church that Christ founded which teaches today the same unchanging faith taught by Christ and the Apostles. (John 17:11). "If thy Father keep them in thy name which thou hast given Me, that they be One, even as We are One."

BISHOP'S PASTORAL TO BE READ
There are 22 Catholic Churches in Indianapolis and Marion County. On next Sunday, November 8th, a special Pastoral letter on Christian education, issued by the Right Reverend Joseph Cardinal, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese, will be read at all the masses in all Churches and the pastors will preach on the subject of this important Pastoral.

The services at the Cathedral Sunday will be at 8:00, 9:00, 10:00 and 10:30 (Solemn High Mass). Services at all the other Churches will also be at the regular hours.

Any one can attend the Catholic service, observe the ceremonies and hear the service, but if he is desirous of a seat, he had better come early. For further particulars write or call.

CHURCH LEADERS INTERESTED IN BUFFALO MEET

Plans for World Peace to Be Discussed by Big Men.

Indianapolis church leaders as well as laymen are interested in the sessions of the Congress on World Peace which will begin at Buffalo next Tuesday under the auspices of the World Alliance for International Friendship Through the Churches.

The occasion marks the ninth annual meeting of the American Council of the World Alliance, which has branches in twenty-six different countries throughout the world. The speakers will be prominent churchmen and laymen, evenly divided between the United States and the European countries.

Dr. Henry A. Atkinson, general secretary of the World Alliance, who is in active charge of arrangements, declared today that the significance of the conference lay in the fact that the future of the United States shall play in international affairs will be largely determined by the religious agencies of America.

"It is evident," he said, "that right-minded people of all parties will not much longer be content to have the United States stand apart from the great world movement to outlaw war and to substitute traditional methods for force in the settlement of international disputes."

"The meeting is also significant because it comes after the formulation at Geneva of the protocol which, when made effective, will probably be the greatest step ever taken toward the outlawing of war. We are fortunate in having on our program some of the men who were present and know exactly what happened at Geneva."

Dr. Atkinson said that one of the concrete questions to be debated at the meeting will be whether the United States should accept the invitation to take part in the conference on disarmament which, under the terms of the protocol, the League of Nations is to call next June. It is expected that a resolution will be adopted which will focus the attention of the country upon the importance of this question.

Sessions will begin on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 11, and continue through Thursday, Nov. 13. The chairman will be the Rev. William P. Merrill, chairman of the World Alliance, and pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church, New York. Reports will be presented by the various secretaries of the organization.

On Tuesday evening there will be an Armistice day dinner at which Sir Wilfrid Laurier, of England, and John H. Clark, former judge of the Supreme Court, and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise will speak on the general topic "The United States and the Peace of the World."

BIG PROGRAM PLANNED AT CHURCH

THE BARTH PLACE M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL will have a special rally day service Sunday at 10 a. m. The superintendent has planned a program of twenty-five numbers, consisting of special exercises by the children and special music and singing by the church and men's club. The feature of the program will be special drills and exercises by the Boy Scouts. They are expecting an attendance of over 700 people. In fact the largest program ever given by any south side Sunday school.

DR. KISTLER PLANS BUSY SUNDAY HERE

Sunday at 11, Dr. Edward Haines Kistler will preach in the new Fairview Presbyterian Church on "Strength for the Daily Walk." Dr. Charles T. Paul, president of the College of Missions, will speak at the Woman's Missionary Society Praise Service, 7:45 p. m., on "What I Have Seen in China." Mr. C. H. Crawford, will preside. Mrs. F. T. Elenharter has arranged special musical numbers for both these services. A congregational meeting is called for Thursday at 8 in the chapel to hear the report of the executive council. John M. Milner, attorney, calls a meeting of the Fairview community for Tuesday at 8 in this chapel, to organize a Fairview Civic Association.

REV. CHRISTIAN O. WEDER of the Moravian Episcopal Church will preach Sunday morning on "Dual Personality," and at night on "God's Gifts to Man."

"FRUITS OF GODLY FEAR" will be the morning theme of Rev. LeRoy James at the Garfield Methodist Church. At night, "The Magnificence of the Cross."

SPECIAL SERMON THEMES are announced by Rev. J. H. Kelling of the Second Evangelical Church. His morning subject will be "Making Melody in Your Hearts." At 7:45 he will speak on "A Young Lady on the Girl Problem." There will be special singing and music at the night service.

REV. CLYDE L. GIBBONS of the Garden Baptist Church announces his Sunday subjects as "Spiritual Healing" and "The Gift of Faith."

AT EMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH Rev. H. B. McManahan, pastor, will preach in the morning on "The Man Like You" and "The Greatest Thing in the World."

DR. M. B. HYDE will preach at the Grace M. E. Church Sunday morning on "God's Plan for Soul Feeding" and at night on "The Way Through Life Made Plain."

REV. L. C. E. FACKLER of St. Matthew Evangelical Lutheran Church will preach Sunday morning on "The One and Only Way to Return to the Promises of God." At night an illustrated sermon will be given on "Luther and the Reformation." On Tuesday night the broth-

How Bread Was Provided for the Multitude

TEXT: John 6:1-15.

After these things Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias. And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat down with his disciples. When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he said unto Philip: Whence shall we buy bread that these may eat?

And the passerby, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.

And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.

Philip answered him: Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, said unto him: There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

And Jesus said: Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

And Jesus took the loaves, and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

When they were filled, he said unto his disciples: Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost. They therefore gathered them up with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which were left over, and about them that had eaten.

Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said: This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world.

When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

And the morning following, the disciples found him sitting alone on the grass. Then Jesus said unto them: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

They answered him: We have eaten and are full. Thou hast said, and yet thou hast said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

He said unto them: I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it. For I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

They answered him: We have eaten and are full. Thou hast said, and yet thou hast said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

He said unto them: I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it. For I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

They answered him: We have eaten and are full. Thou hast said, and yet thou hast said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

He said unto them: I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it. For I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

They answered him: We have eaten and are full. Thou hast said, and yet thou hast said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

He said unto them: I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it. For I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

They answered him: We have eaten and are full. Thou hast said, and yet thou hast said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

He said unto them: I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it. For I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

They answered him: We have eaten and are full. Thou hast said, and yet thou hast said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

He said unto them: I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it. For I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

They answered him: We have eaten and are full. Thou hast said, and yet thou hast said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

He said unto them: I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it. For I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

They answered him: We have eaten and are full. Thou hast said, and yet thou hast said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

He said unto them: I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it. For I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

They answered him: We have eaten and are full. Thou hast said, and yet thou hast said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

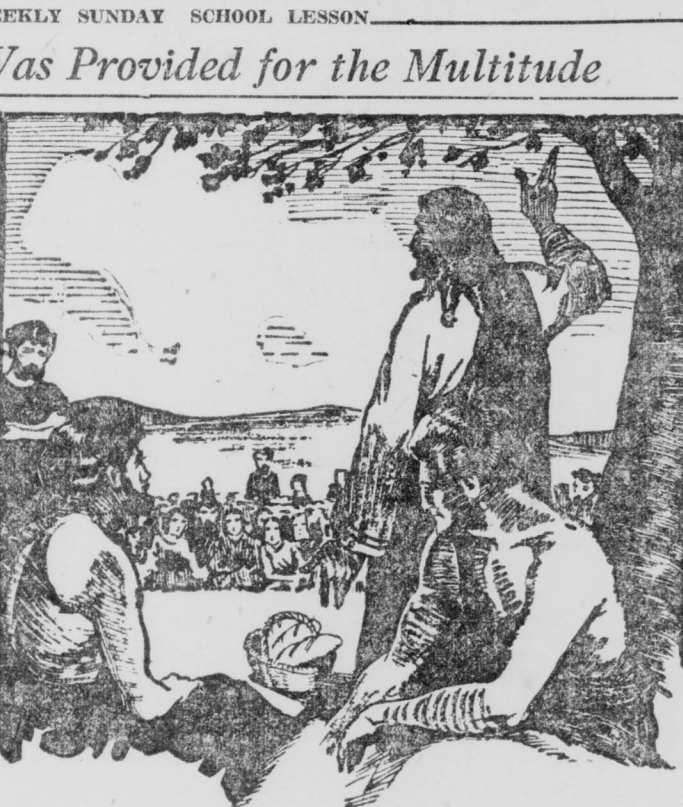

He said unto them: I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it. For I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

They answered him: We have eaten and are full. Thou hast said, and yet thou hast said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

He said unto them: I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it. For I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

They answered him: We have eaten and are full. Thou hast said, and yet thou hast said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

He said unto them: I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it. For I have said: I have food that I have given you, and ye have not eaten it.

because they speak of the higher power of Jesus, and symbolize what He came to do for the souls of men? As He healed the body so He can heal the soul; as He stilled the storm so He can bring peace to the soul; as He raised the dead so He can give newness of life.

Here in our lesson, then, is the great portrayal of Jesus as the giver of food to the hungry. "I am that bread of life," He says in this same chapter, as He seeks to make plain the meaning of the miracle, and to expound His teaching concerning the living bread. If those who saw the miracle failed to understand its meaning, and failed to partake of that living bread, should we not be warned to come through the miracle to Christ, and "feed upon Him in our hearts by faith?"

Does not this miracle typify the great bounty of God Jesus Christ for the multitude of men?

It streams the whole creation reach. So plentiful is the store! Enough for all, enough for each, Enough forevermore.

Do we not here find expressed the law of increase of the things consecrated to God? What marvelous uses God's power can make of five barley loaves and the small fishes! There have been lives that seemed of no more value and importance, but under God's providence they have ministered to thousands.

Let us say frankly that if we could explain it, it would no longer be miraculous. And let us also frankly recognize that we are concerned here in these lesson expositions not with critical questions, but with spiritual interpretations. Our faith is primarily challenged not by the things that Jesus did, but by the things that He did not do. Once our faith is strongly rooted and grounded in Him as our Savior, Master and Friend the problem of the miracle will not trouble us greatly.

This Gospel of John reminds us (chapter 21:25) that only a small part of the things that Jesus did have been recorded. Why have certain miracles been emphasized out of the mass of wonderful things? Is it not

THEFTS CAUSED BY COLD WINDS

Valuable Overcoats Taken From Autos.

Theft of overcoats from autos parked downtown continues probably because the cold weather has arrived, police said.

Edward Jolly, Plaza, reports his coat, valued at $125, taken from an auto parked near the postoffice. Park Summerton, Wabash, Ind., reported his coat taken from his car at 210 W. Georgia St. Mark Van Horn, Cooperstone, N. Y., reported a hand bag and clothing valued at $20 stolen from his auto parked at Pennsylvania and Fourteenth Sts.

Miss Lena Poprad, 431 W. Pearl St., told police that while she was preparing a meal for four men they attacked her and took $20. Mickey O'Boyle, military policeman at Ft. Harrison, was charged with intoxication when found in the house. While police were trying to find the other men, Miss Poprad disappeared.

Jesse Reddick, 757 N. Spring St., night watchman at the Dental College, Pennsylvania and Walnut Sts., told officers glass was broken in a laboratory room window. He saw a man run away, he said.

MOVE REVIVED TO BOOST GAS TAX

Supreme Court Upholds State Law.

Proposals to increase to 3 cents the State tax of 2 cents on gasoline used on highways are believed to have been stimulated by decision of the Indiana State Supreme Court Friday, sustaining the St. Joseph Superior Court in upholding the constitutionality of the gas tax law.

Bruce Gaffill, South Bend oil dealer, had filed suit to enjoin Robert W. Bracken, State auditor, from collecting the tax. He claimed it was unconstitutional. The St. Joseph court sustained a demurrer, and Supreme Court upheld it.

Gaffill complained the tax was unequal and its material was not mentioned in the title.
