The Rev. Walter L. Ewing read the ceremony before an altar formed with ferns and palms and baskets of white chrysanthemums, backed in the fireplace and lighted by two seven-branched candelabra.

The attendants entered as follows: Russell Lee Dove, Delaware, Ohio, with Miss Gretchen Donhour, Terre Haute; Dr. Fred Hoffa with Mrs. Glen Culbertson, and Dr. Russell Dove with Miss Florence Thompson of Greenwood. Miss Ethel Ralph, maid-of-honor, was followed by the little flower girl, Miss Elizabeth Rumley, who carried rose petals in a basket and scattered them before the bride, who entered on the arm of her father.

The group of the young women attendants were of georgette and carried out the bride's color scheme of peach and orchid. They carried arm bouquets of roses with tulle streamers to match their frocks.

The bride wore an imported gown of ivory crepe romaine headed with silver and crystal and fashioned in straight lines. A court train was caught with clusters of real orange blossoms at the shoulders. A tulle veil, arranged with a cap of Duchess lace, fell in cascades over the train. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

VOTERS' LEAGUE PURPOSE STATED

Four-Page Pamphlet Outlines Women's Achievements.

What the Indiana League of Women Voters is, and what it is not, are emphatically stated in a four-page pamphlet now being distributed to local leagues from the State headquarters, 1410 Spink-Arms Hotel, Indianapolis.

Members of the league were active in political work preceding the election, and national, State and local leagues carried on vigorous re-out-the-vote campaigns during the summer and fall.

Under the head of "achievements," the pamphlet refers to the State citizenship school at Lafayette which closed Nov. 21 with an address by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt. This institution is an annual project of the Tippecanoe County League and Purdue University.

In the pamphlet the Indiana League of Women Voters is characterized as "the only State organization of women making the teaching of citizenship and the study of legislation its sole object." Local leagues are carrying on campaigns to enroll new members, and the pamphlets will be used largely in this work.

The Acme people have been more than kind to me. The president of the company said that he had intended to arrange so that I could become a member of the firm by the first of the year. He was good enough to say that he had never had any one in his employ that could handle men as well as I. This, of course, was very flattering to me as it is one of the things that I pride myself on.

Trouble Ahead
Speaking of handling men, I am afraid I am going to have trouble with that cub Condon. You remember I told you of the impertinent way in which he spoke of you and Mrs. Atherton. It seems that he has been roped in by Mabel Carter, that woman who was in the papers so much last spring when her husband was tried for murder.

Mrs. Atherton read me today parts of a letter where he asked her to take the woman under her wing when she arrived in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Atherton is quite worked up about it. Of course she declined to do anything of the sort and must have written a very snappy letter to Condon, telling him just what she thought about the matter. In return the woman wrote Mrs. Atherton a letter telling her that Condon had shown her Mrs. Atherton's refusal to have anything to do with her and that it was war to the knife from now on.

Try Sister Mary's Menu for Thanksgiving Day

NOW YOU NEEDN'T FEEL AWKWARD IN CARVING THE THANKSGIVING TURKEY. PICTURES SHOW THE FOUR MOST IMPORTANT STEPS IN THIS PRECARIOUS UNDERTAKING.

1. ALWAYS TURN THE FOWL ON ITS SIDE BEFORE CARVING.
2. BEGIN BY CUTTING INTO THE DRUM OF THE LEG WITH A FEW CLEAN STROKES OF THE KNIFE AND THEN PULL IT BACK FROM THE BODY.
3. IN SLICING THE MEAT FROM THE LEG, CARVE TOWARD THE BODY OF THE BIRD.
4. IN CARVING THE BREAST, CUT TOWARD THE PLATE WITH CLEAN, SLOW STROKES OF THE KNIFE.

BY SISTER MARY
SINCE the days of our Pilgrim forefathers, the turkey has been the king of birds for the Thanksgiving dinner.

A ten-pound turkey is ideal for the family of ordinary size, and if a larger bird is needed, two ten-pounders are preferable to one eighteen or twenty-pound fowl.

The stuffing ingredients for the turkey should be prepared for mixing the cranberry sauce or jelly made, the pumpkin stewed and sifted on the day before.

Speaking of table decorations, remember to keep the centerpiece low and not too large. The table should not be crowded, and the center decoration should conform to the shape of the table. Fruit and nuts arranged attractively in a bowl can serve a double purpose—as a center decoration and as the last course of the dinner.

Flapper Snaps Fingers at Stern Disapproval

When you were a child, you probably had a wild desire to splutter mud all over the little boy or girl who came around while you were getting grimy at play, and looked on disapprovingly.

As you grow older, I dare say, there were times when you could hardly resist doing the very things you were told not to do by persons who looked as if they never had done anything "improper" in their lives.

P. S. Probably you didn't always resist, even though you knew you would surely later regret the very things you were told not to do by persons who looked as if they never had done anything "improper" in their lives.

Part of the flapper's declaration of independence is: "Well, I'll give 'em something to be shocked about, if they really want to be shocked." If you never have felt a desire to shock a "holier-than-thou" person, you will not sympathize with the flapper.

If you have, you will understand why she objects to being "reformed" by persons who don't really know her problems.

Motherless Twins
My Dear Miss Lee: I am a girl 16 years old. My mother died when I was born and we were left in the care of my father and an aunt. Two months ago my aunt died, and we are left with only my father, who doesn't know or care what we do.

My father is always running around with boys who have not the best names. She has quit school to get married. I consider her still a girl, and if she does that, I think it will be a horrible disgrace. She laughs at me because I don't like boys. Can you tell me what I can do to induce her not to do this terrible thing?

JUNE JANEY
Your attitude will drive your sister to do the very thing you wish to avoid, if you are not careful. My advice to you would be to try to get over your dislike of boys, at least enough so you may know them, and discuss them with your sister, as girl to girl. Only in that way can you hope to get her to listen to you. And don't throw up your hands in horror and speak of "terrible disgrace."
