$200 TO BE LAST LIMERICK PRIZE

had any idea I would win. It seemed too easy to be true.

"I have been getting ready to make a lot of Christmas presents, but why bother with making them now. I'll take my $50 Limerick money and buy them now."

Miss Sunderlin is a home girl. Her father is a well-known insurance man.

She almost lost the first award to H. B. Steer, 272 Parkway Ave., whose line brought him the second award of $15. It was:

"My new address—Atlanta—good-bye."

Pushing the two big winners might close in the judges' opinions were these three $5 winners:

"Ten years, won't you please hurry by."—Arthur L. Freyman, 150 N. Bancroft St.

"We are marching to Georgia on high."—C. R. Cameron, 1208 State Life Bldg.

"I'll pay cash for a good alibi."—J. V. Shannon, 14 N. Bolton Ave.

They're All Good

Then a mighty few chances in any of the judges' votes would have put any of these twenty $1 honorable mention winners into the big money list:

"I'll be back when the elephants fly."—Theresa Schand, 1443 Madison Ave.

"Uncle Sam was much sicker than I."—John Egan, 23 South St., Greenfield, Ind.

"Now me for the rocks," but no 'rye."—Mrs. Jack P. Kroeger, 821 E. Twenty-Fourth St.

"To Atlanta I'm now drawing nigh."—F. D. White, 3259 Macpherson Ave.

"Oh, judge, don't be hard on a guy."—T. J. Schottle, 655 Greer St.

"A judge there was smarter than I."—Hattie Wilson, 1017 Jefferson Ave.

"I don't like Judge Anderson's eyes."—David H. Harker, 2439 N. New Jersey St.

New Chansonette Club Head

Mrs. W. R. Sieber, 402 W. Maple Rd., is president of the Chansonette Club, recently organized in the interest of music.

The club will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Helen Smith.

"I don't like Judge Anderson's eyes."—David H. Harker, 2439 N. New Jersey St.

"Soup every day and no pie."—Violet Bohner, 41 S. Grace St.

"My cell won't you please be kind."—William Curphy, 605 Federal Trust Bldg.

"On the fall guy for some one up high."—George J. Reas, 295 Oak Ave.

"Rocks for ages, oh cleave them must I."—Thelma Louise Miller, 625 Oak St., Seymour, Ind.

"My hopes now in ruins all lie."—Cora Warren, Box 234, Mitchell, Ind.

"I am in, you are out, so good-bye."—F. W. Goodenough, 29 S. Delaware St.

"That rock pile looks big to my eye."—G. E. Gubart, 725 Occidental Bldg.

"Twenty years knocks my future sky-high."—R. E. Plummer, 329 S. Lawrence Ave.

"It's no fun pushing boulders in high."—Mrs. Furbur E. Teel, 369 Grand Ave.

"Now merely a number am I."—Mrs. David Conner, R. P. D. 3, Anderson, Ind.

"No more fortune to lawyers will fly."—Mrs. O. E. Abraham, Route "O," Box 479.

Early Admiration May Prove Later Ruination

Once there was a little girl. She was a very pretty little girl with big blue eyes and golden curls and a skin like a rose petal.

She had a mother and father, who thought she was the most beautiful little girl that ever lived—and they told her so. And she had aunts and uncles, who teased her to give them a "nice kiss," and told her how pretty she was. And her mother and father, and uncles and aunts had friends, who saw her and told one another what a beautiful child she was.

Anything she wanted, she could have, she found, by giving her big eyes a certain kind of look; or, if that failed, making furrows of tears in her rose petal cheeks.

Now the little girl has grown up. She still has a rose petal complexion, and her bobbed hair curls softly around her face, a golden frame for her big blue eyes.

At first glance, strangers gasp at her beauty. But, after they have been around her for a while, they say: "She's beautiful, but I pity the man that marries her. She acts as if the world was created for her pleasure."

Of course she does. That's what she has been taught all her life.

Spoiled Darling

Dear Martha Lee: I am a man 25 years old. I have a fairly good position. I am in love with the most beautiful girl I ever saw. I would ask her to marry me, but all my friends warn me not to.

She has had everything but I don't think that's necessary do you?

Sometimes I think that I don't love her and other times she almost ignores me. She has a quick temper but she can be as sweet as any one. Shall I ask her to marry me, or take my friends' advice?

M. L. K.

If you want to live with a wife who will expect you to pay tribute to her every minute, who will lose her temper if you do not, and will spend everything you make on her self—if you let her—ask this girl to marry you.

Unless I am very much mistaken, that is the kind of wife she would make. It will take a strong-willed man to be a successful husband to her, and evidently she has the upper hand with you.

ITCHY PIMPLES LASTED 2 YEARS

Face Covered. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Heals.

"My trouble began with a few pimples breaking out on my face. They kept getting worse and soon my face was covered with them. The pimples were hard and red and itched and burned badly. They caused me a lot of trouble at night and I could not sleep. The trouble lasted about two years.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using them about a month there was a great improvement. I continued the treatment and in two months I was completely healed." (Signed) Joe Creml, 1547 1/2 Furnace St., Akron, Ohio, April 8, 1924.

Use Cuticura for every-day toilet purposes. Bathe with Soap, soothe with Ointment, dust with Talcum.

Sample Free by Mail. Address: Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 3, Station 61, Malden, Mass. Sold every where. Soap, 25c; Ointment, 10c; and Talcum, 10c. Try our new Shaving Stick.
