Central Indiana Plans to Spend $1,000,000.

By Times Special
NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Jan. 5.—It has been semi-officially announced here that the Central Indiana Railroad would be rehabilitated between Muncie and Brazil, new 100-pound T-rails put down and new telegraph lines erected during the coming summer. This road is owned jointly by the Big Four and the Pennsylvania Railroads, and it is said they are planning to spend approximately $1,000,000 on improvements. It is also said the companies have under consideration plans for the extension of the road from Brazil to Terre Haute, a distance of approximately twenty-three miles. The purpose of these improvements, it is said, is to get connection between southern and north central Indiana without being hindered by congested conditions in Indianapolis and Terre Haute.

Kansas City Doctor Invents New Truss

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply costs about 35c. quickly made. Saves about 35c.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments.
It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried.
Use it stops the ordinary cough, chest cough, cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup. Instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This you make a full pint—family supply—costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and quickly, lasting relief. It promptly beats the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying, throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, spasmodic croup and hoarseness.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded.

Fake Rain Storm Is an Aid to Cupid; Torrence Puts Comedy Into Drama

By WALTER D. HICKMAN
The brute, meaning a sweetheart, shows sign of leaving the house, use a fake rain storm to keep him in.

That is exactly what Constance Talmadge does in "Her Night of Romance." Said man will not leave the house in such a storm if the garden hose becomes a cloudburst. But the trick is to have all the windows in the house reflect the storm. The fake rain storm is one of those cute and delightful bits which makes this new Talmadge movie a whale of a comedy hit. Here is mighty smart fun and a lot of satire on the love business.

Constance Talmadge's strength consists of her ability to put over smart comedy situations. Her sister, Norma, is the dramatic volcano of the family. Constance puts comedy tears in her eyes in this movie. There is not a serious minute in "Her Night of Romance" because Constance is cutting up most of the time. In the female list of stars I believe that Constance Talmadge holds the same position that Harold Lloyd and Charlie Chaplin do on the masculine side of the ledger. All three are at the top of the comedy ladder. Constance adds a whole lot to her standing in filmland by her work in this "night" movie. It is jolly good fun done in Connie's happiest way.

Constance needs smart fun in which to reflect her talent. It must be light and airy and give her a chance to be a little cut-up. She starts out right in "Her Night of Romance," by transforming herself into an ugly old maid (now all old maids are not ugly you know). But when Connie exposes her smile, her two sparkling eyes and her bobbed hair—well she is just the picture of smart fun. This vehicle gives her many comedy chances. Probably one of the best all-around comedy stories she has had. I am not forgetting "Dulcy."

Her lead-in man, Ronald Colman is the right type. She has a grand time posing as his wife when she really isn't wife at all in the story.
And when she does fall in love with him, the poor old dear drinks a sleeping powder by accident and takes a nap in the middle of his love making. This is grand fun and both Constance and Colman carry this scene off in great style. This new Talmadge comedy is corking good fun. You will love it.

You remember that the first De Forrest-Case Phonofilm that I saw and heard did not arouse me to any feeling of delight. The Circle this week is presenting Eddie Cantor in a phonofilm. It sounds like a visualized radio. A great improvement over the first ones of this class of entertainment. The bill includes "Martha" as an overture, a news weekly and a comedy.

At the Circle all week.

What I Like Best on Screen

The he-man comedy work of 36," a Paramount movie. At the Apollo.

Everything that Constance Talmadge does in "Her Night of Romance," a First National comedy triumph. At the Circle.

solo, "Tea for Two," as played Apollo.

The piano duet as played as part of an orchestral feature by

doesn't convince. Hubby is too good for words.

The wife in this movie story found her way home when she went trout fishing one summer while husband slaved in his office in the city. The lesson in this movie seems to be: Don't let your wife go trout fishing unless husband goes with her, because said wife may catch something on her hook and line besides fish.

This week's story has been dressed up like a Fourth of July parade and given a great cast. In it you will find Theodore Roberts (splendid in a small part), Betty Compton as beautiful as ever, Kathryn Williams and others, who know how and when to act. It is the fault of the story that this movie does not convince and not the actors or the director.

Be your own judge on these sweet husband movies, who are too good to fight to retain the love of their wives.

A feature of the musical part of the bill is a piano duet played as part of an orchestral number by Charlie Davis and his orchestra.
Bill includes a comedy "Meet the Missus," and Lester Huff playing on the organ, "Everything You Do."

similar to Babe Ruth. A news

ANOTHER COW DRAMA MAKES GOOD AT APOLLO

The cow drama has become popular in movie land.

You recall that "The Covered Wagon" has a bunch of horses in it.
Other movies lately have been concerned with the early days of the cattle lands. Now we have "North of 36," which concerns the exodus of thousands of cows from the cattle lands of Texas after the Civil War. The flesh and blood actors consist of Lois Wilson, Ernest Torrence, Jack Holt and Noah Beery. I will remember the comedy work of Torrence in this photograph because he puts lot of comedy into his rough character, the form of a cattle ranger. He uses the same make-up that he did in "The Covered Wagon." If I remember correctly, Holt is cast as the romantic sweetheart of Lois Wilson. Jack Holt is getting himself in bad, but by the time the movie ends Jack is the favorite savior of the girl he loves in this story. Noah Beery is cast as the villain, and what a one he makes.

This movie has a bunch of good character acting in it. And boys, there are a bunch of Indians in it, too, and a lot of soldiers. It is just the sort of a yarn that will make a boy clean off all the snow from the sidewalk of his dad's home so he can get the necessary dough to get into the Apollo this week. "North of 36" will interest ma and pa just as much as the boy. It has been splendidly mounted and directed.

Along musical lines at the Apollo this week, Johnny Robinson makes himself a favorite with the xylophone by playing "Tea for Two," from the musical comedy hit "No, No, Nanette." Robinson has always played a wicked xylophone and it seems to be a little bit more wicked this week. Splendid work.
Every blow on a xylophone has a meaning of its own when Robinson is at the bat.

The bill includes orchestral and organ music and a comedy "The Cannibal Express."
