

CONFERENCE ON HICKEY BILL IS ASKED BY HOUSE

Grand Jury Scope Change
Proposed to Smooth Out
Objections.

By C. A. RANDAU.

Times Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—Objecting to some of the Senate amendments to the Hickey bill providing for two Federal judges for Indiana, the House of representatives has asked for a conference on the bill. Conferees representing the two branches are expected to meet either late today or Thursday to iron out the conflicting points.

It is now proposed by the House that the grand jury may be drawn from any part of the State in criminal cases in the discretion of judge and that grand juries sitting in one of the seven newly created judicial districts may carry on investigation of a state-wide character. These changes are thought to be sufficient to overcome the objections that have been raised by those who feared it would be impossible to get liquor case convictions in Gary and labor convictions in Terre Haute.

The Senate late Tuesday confirmed appointment of Judge A. B. Anderson of Indianapolis to the bench of the Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago.

Confirmation of appointment of Judge Robert C. Baltzell of Princeton, Ind., to succeed Anderson is before the Senate Judiciary Committee. Unless the committee meets specially action is not expected until Monday.

Senator James E. Watson said he has not picked a man to succeed Homer Elliott, Indiana district attorney, whose resignation was submitted months ago.

SOME MIDDLE-AGED WOMEN ARE AILING ALL THE TIME

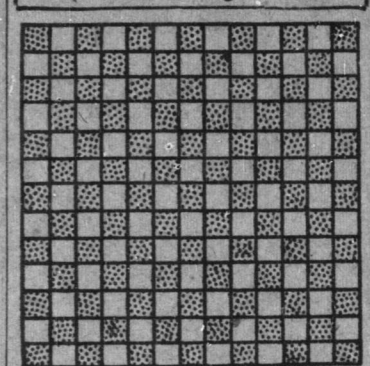

Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. Mayer Tell Women How
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Helped Them at This Trying Period

MRS. ELSIE ACKERMAN

"During the Change of Life I was weak and run-down and could hardly do my work. By reading your advertisements I found out about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has straightened me right out and made me feel like a new woman. By the time I had taken eight bottles I was well and could do my housework on the farm without trouble. I recommended it to my daughter-in-law after her second baby was born and it did her a wonderful lot of good. I told her to try it and if it didn't help her I would pay for it, and before she had

A Puzzle a Day

Most checkerboards are 8 by 8. This one is 13 by 13. It is not intended for a game of checkers. The problem is to cut it into 11 smaller squares. The smallest may only contain one square, but, of course, the cuts must be made along the dividing lines between the squares. Can you produce the 11 squares?

RAILROAD VETERAN DIES

Richard J. Shaw Succumbs to Long Illness at Home Here.

Railroad men today recalled years of association with Richard J. Shaw, 65, of 6541 Broadway, who died Tuesday following a long illness. He was general yardmaster of the L. E. & W. Railroad seventeen years, and before that was with the Big Four Railroad.

Mr. Shaw organized the Indianapolis Yardmasters Association, and was a charter member of the Knights of Pythias Lodge.

Surviving are the widow; two daughters, Mrs. Grover C. Robeson of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mrs. J. Rex Copeland of Newark, N. J.; one son, J. A. Shaw; the mother, Mrs. A. D. Shaw; a sister, Mrs. Emma Maxwell, and a brother, Charles A. Shaw, all of Indianapolis. Funeral will be on Friday morning.

BACK TO LEGISLATURE

Marion County May Lose Blind School Site as Result.

Location of the State School for the Blind will be referred back to the General Assembly, which opens Thursday, Governor Emmett F. Branch has announced. The Blind School site committee, led by Branch, has been unable to agree on any of the sites suggested.

It is probable that the same pressure will be brought that was exerted in the last session to locate the school in some other part of Indiana outside Marion County.

CHILDREN ARE SOUGHT

Mother Seeks Four Left in Indianapolis Asylum.

By Times Special.
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 7.—Mrs. Froyne Percifield Fitzpatrick, 930 N. Jackson St., here, has issued a State-wide appeal for aid in finding her four children, from whom she has been separated for thirteen years. The children were placed in an Indianapolis orphan asylum. Since then trace of them has been lost. Their names are Lizzie, Andrews, Bell and Earl Percifield.

Held Up by Three Men

George Speckman, 1039 W. Michigan St., told police that three colored men held him up at Bright and Michigan Sts., about 7 p. m. Tuesday and took $3, keys and a watch.

Mrs. Mayer's Experience

Litchfield, Conn.—"I have given your medicine a fair trial (I am on my fifth bottle) and can truthfully say that it has helped me. I am at the Change of Life and was not able to sleep nights, had indigestion, palpitation of the heart, pains in my right and left sides (more so if I hurried), had a rapid beating in my left ear and dreaded to see night come. I felt smothered if I lay on my left side. I had gas dreadfully, at times felt as if some one had me by the throat, had hot waves through me and sometimes I would shake in spells of nervousness. I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot praise it enough. I can say it does all it claims to do and I can recommend it to my friends. I can sleep much better, the pains in my sides are gone, I am not so nervous, my digestion is much better and I very seldom have the hot waves. I must say that the Vegetable Compound is the best medicine for women's ills and I will answer letters from women asking about it."—Mrs. Joseph Mayer, Sr., Box 33 Litchfield, Conn.—Advertisement.

NEW FREEDOM FOR CHILD OF TODAY

By MRS. WALLACE REID

This is the first of a series of six articles written by Mrs. Wallace Reid, wife of the late film star, on the problems confronting young people—and their parents—today.

They have called it the Jazz Age. Into this endless turmoil of pleasure-mad years are thrust our children. Can they find themselves amidst all this confusion? And what are they doing with their lives?

In my recent nation-wide campaign against the drug traffic I discovered many remarkable things about the young people of today.

Sitting on the bench with Judge Helander in his Morale Court in Chicago, I saw young girls and young boys brought before him—fine looking, most of them, and in many instances from good homes. I heard them plead guilty to all sorts of serious charges, and I wondered what malign influence brought them before the law.

In the Kansas City Reformatory I talked with other young people who were in trouble. Similar experiences in other cities led to the determination to try to get to the bottom of this whole question of our modern young people and the new freedom that has been given to them since the World War.

Is there really a laxity in the morals of young people now? Is the situation becoming more serious? Who is to blame, the children themselves? The parents? Evil associates?

I think it is generally agreed that there has been a radical change in the conduct of both adults and children in the past few years. A new viewpoint exists today in respect to freedom of thought and action. This is expressed in the modern styles of clothing, hair-dressing, and in other ways—mannerisms, words, conversation, attitudes toward life.

The entry of women into business has much to do with it. The so-called jazz music and the swift-moving automobile may be blamed for many other changes. And all these changes affect children and young people as well as adults.

There was once a well-known word in the English language that is seldom heard now. It is "chaperon." Can you imagine a young couple nowadays going for an auto ride and talking along a chaperon?

It is just as ludicrous an idea as that of young girls of twenty years ago appearing in public in one-piece bathing suits.

I cite these instances, not at all in a condemnatory way, but as examples of the change that has come upon us, and particularly upon our children.

How are we to meet these changes, that our children may grow to splendid manhood and womanhood?

I want to discuss this question, particularly with mothers, in the light of my recent investigations, and to give my conclusions, whether they may be right or wrong.

If I believe that the crux of the whole problem of this "jazz age" as it applies to children, can be given in a single sentence:

EXECUTION IS STAYED

Alleged Murderer Was Sentenced to Die Jan. 16.

Supreme Court has granted a stay of execution for Joseph Parker, Terre Haute, to May 29. He was sentenced to die Jan. 16 for the alleged murder of a Terre Haute detective. Edward Barber, Terre Haute, convicted with Parker, is sentenced to die Jan. 16. No stay was asked in his case. Both have appeals in Supreme Court.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified crocote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, crocote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to crocote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the crocote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to serious complications.

The Service You Get Out of Dentistry Depends on the Material and Workmanship the Dentist Puts Into It.

The danger you run in buying just dentistry lies in the fact that you take for granted that the material and workmanship is of the highest class. True, there is gold and teeth in all bridge and crown work, but gold varies greatly in thickness and from 22K down to the very lowest. We do not only say in our advertisements that we take pride in doing high-class work, but it is a fact that we do, and people in ordinary circumstances can today secure as high a type of dentistry as the millionaires. Compare our work and compare our prices.
