

DEMONSTRATIONS, REPEATED ANNUAL LUNCHEON

P. H. N. A. Reviews Work Accomplished During Year.

Miss Edna L. Hamilton, superintendent of nurses of the Public Health Nursing Association gave her report at the annual luncheon Thursday at the Lincoln. Officers were elected and a demonstration of the work being done by the nurses staff among the crippled children given. Mrs. Henry B. Heywood, president, also spoke.

"Thirty-eight students from the five accredited hospitals of the city, have spent from six to nine weeks at our teaching center this past year. An increase of 200 per cent over previous years, said Miss Hamilton. Eleven graduate nurses received their probationary experience at the teaching center during the year.

"Nurses have been sent to 7,877 patients, and 58,588 visits, made an increase of 1,820 calls over 1923. In 1923, we made 26,024 calls on 1,409 new babies and their mothers. In 1924, 30,039 on 1,449—an increase in maternity service of over 5,000 calls.

Extension Planned
"There is still the missing link in this service. The Community Fund urges the need of the extension of our maternity service to include attendance at the time of the arrival of the new baby, but as yet has not been able to make the necessary provision to meet this item in our annual budget.

"The number of crippled children brought under our care is steadily increasing. By means of the Abby Hunt-Bryce fund, four more nurses are receiving this special instruction. The Indianapolis Foundation has made it possible to keep one nurse steadily at work with crippled children and has provided us with a closed car for transporting them back and forth to the clinic and brace-makers. Through cooperation with the board of education and the Indianapolis Foundation we expect another home to be realized before 1925 is very far on its way, that of a special school for crippled children with transportation, gymnasium with necessary appliances, recreational direction, restroom, hot lunch, nursing care provided.

Figures Given
The books show: Crippled children carried during the year, 261; calls made, 2,993; children transported, 489; bandages, braces, crutches, etc., obtained, 46; casts applied, 44; physiotherapeutic treatments given, 443.

Between 900 and 1,000 patients have been cared for at the Health Center. Vaccinations given against typhoid, smallpox and diphtheria, 905; tonsils removed, 32; teeth pulled, 140; eyes corrected, 20; other defects, 16; cultures taken, 11; routine and special examinations made, 1,804; treatments given, 1,045; visits made, 5,538.

At Christmas time a Christmas fund provided by friends made it possible to give Christmas cheer to twenty-nine families in which were 107 children.

NEW BEDFORD, MASS.: Mr. Ann Caldwell, 26 Peckham St., writes: "I feel it a privilege to write to you about Cadomene Tablets. I left this country in 1913, joined the British army and served three years in the Royal Engineers in Mesopotamia and Egypt. Coming back from these hot climates to England, I commenced coughing, day and night. I arrived in New Bedford in bad health and tried several remedies, but got no relief. I could not sleep. I then read your advice in Boston paper about Mentho-Laxene. I got a bottle, and it was the best thing I ever did. I took four doses full strength and resting and bedded irregularities. It so reduced me in flesh and strength that I could only do the lightest kind of work. I tried many remedies with little relief and was almost ready to give up. Was induced to try Balmwort Tablets. Before I had used one box I was so much better that I slept well all night. There is nothing I have taken in the 14 years that has done me as much good as Balmwort Tablets."

WOODLAWN, PA.: Mrs. A. T. Hany, 46 Shelden Ave., writes: "I have been using Cadomene Tablets for about 20 years. I take one pill every night and have the desired result. Parents Have Right to Live in Their Own Way

It's not always the parents who cause unhappiness by interfering with their children's lives. Sometimes it's the children who try to remodel their parents' lives.

Mary, at the self-conscious age, decides mama and papa make her "ashamed" before her friends, because of their old-fashioned ways. So she sets out to modernize them. She makes mama realize her age, by trying to put her into clothes fit for a schoolgirl, and makes papa uncomfortable by taking away his "easy chair" and his comfortable, worn-out house slippers.

Or perhaps the children think mother is not being treated as she should. She works too hard, they say. So, with the best intentions in the world, they sow in mother's mind the seeds of discontent. They may even go so far as to break up a happy home.

It is not fair. The "old folks" are entitled to a life free from interference, just as the young folks are.

After 25 Years
Mrs. Martha Lee: We have been married twenty-five years. We have four married children, and two single ones. The youngest girl always meets me with a hug and a kiss.

About a year ago the older children got us to move and finally talked my wife into leaving me. I got her to come back, but she does not seem satisfied. We moved and bought property in the city. I talked to her about saving to pay on the property, but she says she won't do it. It's a good time she wants. I don't drink, gamble or run with other women, and give her my week's wages every Saturday. She doesn't want to forgive me for anything. She can forgive one of the children, but not me. I have thought of taking the two girls and going away, but that doesn't look right, as I love her. If I left she would lose all the property. She is not able to make a living for the two girls.

I only wish I had a way that would tell me she loved me better than any one else in the world.

A BROKEN HEARTED HUSBAND.
Your wife loves her children, doesn't she? And I have an idea she loves her home, too, even though she pretends indifference. I know she actually was in danger of losing them. I have an idea she would change her attitude. Let her know.

Budget your expenses, instead of turning your wages over to your wife.

Your wife has been "running over" you. Now it's time for you to let her know she's not the boss. But do it diplomatically, or it won't work.
