

DANGER HIDDEN FROM PURSUERS

Fear New Attacks on Beautiful Indian Girl.

By United Press
BOMBAY, Jan. 15.—Fearful assassins would renew their attacks upon Mumtaz Begum, beautiful dancing girl of Indore, police today removed the dancer to a secret place of safety.

Reward of approximately $3,200, has been offered for information leading to arrest of assassins who slashed the girl, stabbed her lover to death and seriously wounded a British officer Monday.

Mumtaz, only 21, but known as the most beautiful dancing girl in the East, was once a favorite of a powerful maharajah. She fled from him with a lover, who was captured and probably put to death, and later came to Bombay and lived with the young merchant who was killed Monday. She had been repeatedly threatened if she did not return to the court of the prince.

Slated for Third Time

Marie Wyatt, about 73, colored, of 1222 1/2 N. Senate Ave., was slated for the third time, police say, on a charge of operating a blind tiger. Police say they found a water bucket filled with white mule at her home. Officers say she was released in Criminal Court when she told Judge Collins of her long-ago slave experiences.

Traffic Club to Elect

Indianapolis Traffic Club will elect officers at dinner tonight at the Severin. J. G. Kraemer and M. O. Parker are candidates for president. Fred Doebbers, retiring president, said the club will co-operate with the Ohio Valley regional advisory board, composed of 500 representatives of shipping and railroad interests, which meets here Feb. 10.

A Puzzle a Day

A monkey was trying to climb a greased pole, 60 feet high. He went up at the rate of 3 feet a second, but after each ascent of three feet, paused for a second, during which time he slipped back 2 feet. How long did it take him to reach the top of the pole?

Yesterday's answer:

The book is "A MERCHANT OF VENICE," by SHAKESPEARE. The hole in the paper cover only revealed the word: CHANT NICE EAR.
