With the Legion Auxiliary in Indiana

By CLAIRE PALMER THURSTON

Raising the American Legion $5,000,000 endowment fund, to which contributions now are being received, was authorized by the 1924 national convention. The American Legion always has given first place on its program to care of the disabled. Second, the Legion has at heart the interest of the orphans of men who died in service or since their discharge. It is estimated there are today six thousand such children needing care. The Legion helps to maintain homes for these wherever possible.

Mrs. Cora Sherwood is acting president of the Valparaiso unit, while Mrs. Louise Shauer, president, is in Florida.

South Bend unit is planning a tea in honor of Mrs. George McVoor, past district committeewoman; Mrs. Adolph Lootens, Twelfth district hospital chairman, who will sail for Europe soon, and Mrs. B. W. Brainard of Goshen, new committeewoman. Mrs. C. E. Combs will be guest speaker before the David McAllister unit of Lawrenceburg Friday.

New officers of the Hammond unit are: Mrs. Theresa Patton, president; Mrs. Ella Graubman, vice president; Mrs. Helen Pfrieger, treasurer; Mrs. Emma Leay, historian, and Mrs. Leay, Mrs. M. Lund and Mrs. Margaret Powley, executive board.

Mrs. Edith Boswell, chairman of the service sales committee for the department of Indiana, has issued a bulletin asking the units to re-member their promise to sell at least $25 worth of soldier hand-made products every year.

Mrs. Boswell says: "The wicker articles are beautiful, well made, and priced far below normal. Floor lamps, trays, wood baskets, smokers' stands, coasters, large vases for holding potted plants, scarves, suede handbags, black or gray, trimmed in steel beads, card cases to match, hammered silver bracelets, bangles, brooches, men's belt buckles, and everything one can Imagine are on sale at State headquarters."

The Terre Haute unit has secured privilege of handling these articles through a Ladies' Exchange, of the Department Club.

The State chairman dwells upon the psychological value of sale of these articles to the makers, many of whom are sick and disabled men, with every cent tied up in the material it has taken to make them.

The Hilton U. Brown unit is caring for the family of an ex-service man in need, and the post is endeavoring to secure an increase in compensation for a tubercular case under its supervision.

The Indiana department of the auxiliary will endorse the National poppy program. It wishes to warn the units against commercialization of any other poppy, as the one endorsed by the National Auxiliary is the only one that can bear the American Legion Auxiliary sticker. Mrs. Edna M. Barcus is the department of Indiana poppy chairman. Orders can be sent to State headquarters.
