

FARMERS' INCOME SHOWS INCREASE

Average Earnings in Marion County $1,768.

The average Marion county farmer's income in 1924 was $1,768, according to the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. This estimate, based on the most accurate available data, covers the yield, acreage and animal production.

This is the best indication yet that the State's agriculture again is headed toward prosperity, says the institute. In 1919, one of the two peak years in the purchasing power of the American farmer, average income for a farmer in Indiana was $1,834. Average income for an Indiana farm for the past season's production will be approximately $1,450.

An outstanding fact brought out in the studies of last year's farm records is the steady rise in the per acre value of the leading United States crops. The value per acre for the country as a whole in 1921 was only $14.45. This jumped to $21.52 in 1923, and in 1924 to practically $24. Improved farming methods advocated by the State college of agriculture were a big factor in making this gain, concludes the institute.

Warning Note Reported

Rufus Freeman, colored, 3112 Boulevard Pl., told police that he found a note on his front door warning him to move before March 1. Freeman said that the note written on brown wrapping paper was signed "Ku-Klux Klan."
