

ARCHITECTS GIVE CLUB PROGRAM

Discussion Luncheon of Art Department Held.

About seventy-five reservations were made for the discussion luncheon Monday noon given by art department of the Woman's Department Club at the clubhouse. The exhibit of small modern homes prepared by Indiana architects and the display of garden plots contributed by Lawrence Sheridan, opened Monday at the clubhouse. A program of fifteen minute talks was given by Kurt Vonnegut, Herbert Folts, Wilson B. Parker, Clarence Myers, and Mr. Sheridan.

Mr. Vonnegut, as president of the Indiana Architects Association and Mr. Myers as secretary, talked on general requirements in the architects small house bureau. Mr. Folts talked on the beauty and recent achievements in the small house. Mr. Parker talked on Colonial productions and their merits, and Mr. Sheridan explained the proposed metropolitan park plan of Indiana and Marion County.

Miss Jane Watson sang, accompanied by Mrs. M. D. Didway.

Mrs. Ronald A. Foster was general chairman of the luncheon.

WOMAN DIES; MAN HELD

Driver of Automobile Islet for Manslaughter.

Virgil Bradley, 31, colored, 723 W. Twenty-fifth St., was indicted on an involuntary manslaughter charge today, following death of Mrs. Daisy Brown, 30, colored, of 633 Blackford St., as result of an auto accident last Friday.

Mrs. Brown was riding in Bradley's machine with her husband and several other persons when Bradley's machine collided with another auto. Witnesses said Bradley was speeding.

COLOR IT NEW WITH

"DIAMOND DYES"

Beautiful home dyeing and tinting is guaranteed with Diamond Dyes. Just dip in cold water to tint soft, delicate shades, or boil to dye rich, permanent colors. Each 15-cent package contains directions so simple any woman can dye or tint linens, silk, ribbons, skirts, waists, dresses, coats, stockings, sweaters, draperies, coverings, hangings, everything new.

Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—and tell your druggist whether the material you wish to color is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods.—Advertisement.

SHE GIVES AWAY HER DAUGHTER

THE GIFT

By CYNTHIA GREY

WHO giveth this woman to be married to this man?"

The minister's voice booms solemnly through the church.

And Sylvia the Second's father steps forward to give his daughter away.

Why, her whole life has been wrapped up in her paw.

She knows that it is really she who is giving Sylvia the Second away to the man she is marrying.

Back home after the ceremony, she realizes as Sylvia the Second leaves on her honeymoon that it is she who is going to have the loneliness and the heartache in the empty house all day.

Why, her whole life has been wrapped up in Sylvia the Second!

It was she who painted the furniture for her little blue and white bedroom.

She who made the party dresses and the tailored blouses for her pretty daughter. . . . She who sat up until midnight, waiting for the younger Sylvia to come home and tell her all about The Dance!

And now she is going to lose her. . . . she is ready to leave on her honeymoon.

With wet eyes the mother kisses her only daughter.

What a lovely and happy bride she is!

And what a wife she will make!

For she knows how to cook and to sew and to keep a house clean. . . . and all the things that every well-trained girl learns at school besides!

Sylvia the Mother looks at Sylvia the Second much as a painter surveys his masterpiece! She knows she has done well.

A thrill of maternal pride sweeps through her.

And it transforms the saddest moment of her whole life to one of the proudest. . . . that moment when she surrenders her daughter to Love, and Marriage!

THE TANGLE

TELEGRAM FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO SALLY AETHERTON

Thanks so much for your message. The signature for the check is not forger. I am sending you another signed check, the amount of which I will leave blank. I wish you would fill in any amount up to my bank balance if necessary and buy the finest diamond and sapphire bracelets you can get at Maltby's. I want two of diamonds and one sapphire. You know the kind I mean. The kind that all the women are wearing now. Send them to me here at the hotel. I have just remembered that Leslie's birthday is next Wednesday. Do this and I will be very grateful.

JOHN PRESCOTT.

Telegram From Nurse Anderson to John Alden Prescott.

Arrived safely with your mother. We are at the Traymore, as you suggested. Mrs. Prescott is as delighted as a child with a new toy. Do not worry any more about us. Your mother will be pleased, indeed, to stay here some weeks.

ANDERSON.

Telephone-Message From John Alden Prescott to His Apartment.

"I wish to speak to Mrs. Prescott. 'What's that?' I don't hear you. 'It is Mr. Prescott speaking. 'Oh, Mrs. Prescott is out with the nurse and children for a ride! Will you please tell her when she returns that Mr. Prescott is at the Ten Eyck Hotel, where he will be all day, being detained until he hears from some very important business. Ask Mrs. Prescott to call me up as soon as possible. Tell her I am most anxious to hear from her.'"

Letter From John Alden Prescott to Leslie Prescott.

Leslie, Dearest Wife: I have waited for you to call me up for hours. I can not wait any longer and now I am going to write to you.

Leslie, dear, I am not going to say I am sorry for all this mess, because I have said it to you so often before, and just as often I have done something else for which I have been sorrier.

I am just going to ask you, wife of mine, to put me out of this suspense and tell me what you want me to do. I am at your service. If you want me to blow out what few brains I have, just say the word and it shall be done.

I hate to put up an extraneous plea of any kind, but I must just remind you that the steel business must go on, and I know that at the present time no other man can carry it on as your father wished, but myself.

(Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

TOMORROW—This letter continued.

MUSSOLINI BACK AGAIN

Fascist Welcome Premier as He Leaves Sick Room.

By Times Special.

ROME, March 22.—Forty thousand cheering fascists, Sunday, welcomed Benito Mussolini back to public life on the sixth anniversary of the foundation of the first fascist unit in Italy. The Premier has been confined to his home for several weeks recovering from influenza. There had been rumors that Mussolini's condition was grave, but his appearance proved he was on the road to health.

His face was pale and his figure emaciated, but his words boomed from the main balcony of Chigi Palace, surrounded by members of his cabinet and prominent fascist leaders. When the packed thousands recognized the premier and realized he was wearing the black shirt of their order the demonstration was terrific.

SOCIAL

Activities

ENTERTAINMENTS

WEDDINGS BETHROTHALS

MRS. ROSS H. GARRIGUS and Miss Helen Shafer will entertain at 5 p. m. with a high tea at the home of Mrs. Garrigus, 660 E. Seventeenth St., in honor of Mrs. Wilbur D. Grose of Newton Highlands, Mass.

Mrs. Grose, Miss Jeanette Benedict before her marriage last June, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Benedict.

Other guests will be Mesdames Bert Brown of Lafayette, Ind.; Robert Burrows, Carl Lauenstein Jr., James McClamrock, Major Harrison, Miss Mary Alice Coleman and Miss Harriet Brown.

Mrs. Burrows will entertain Friday afternoon with a musicale and tea for Mrs. Grose and Mrs. Brown, formerly Miss Christine Wilson.

Engagement of Miss Ruth McClure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. McClure, 2845 Washington Blvd., to Lloyd F. Evans of Dayton, Ohio, was announced Saturday evening at the birthday anniversary party of Miss McClure. Wedding will take place May 6.

Appointments were in orchid, powder blue and gold. Miss McClure's bridal shades. Announcements were attached to miniature engagement rings concealed in bonbon baskets. Sixty-five guests were present, including Misses Helen Davis, Salem, Ind.; Truly Foebrink, Coruna, Ind.; Leah Austin, Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Allison Bollito and Katherine Bollito of Chicago, Ruth Ed Keller and Lillian O'Bannon, Corydon, Ind.; Mercedes Tindler, Atlanta, Ga.; Jennie Lind Given, Middletown, Ind.; and Charlotte Meek, Greenfield, Ind.

Miss Mary Moore and Daniel Pearl Erwin of New York, whose engagement has been recently announced, were honor guests Sunday afternoon at a reception from 4 to 6 given by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dowden and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Coburn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coburn, "Daisy." The rooms were prettily arranged with spring flowers. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Coburn, Mr. and Mrs. Dowden, Miss Moore and Mr. Edwin, were Miss Elizabeth Lockard, Miss Anna Barbara Coburn, Mrs. Samuel Reed, Mrs. William J. Reed and Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Stalnaker, A. F. Lockard, John R. Kingham.

Mrs. Marietta L. Johnson of Fairhope, Ala., will speak on "Education" at the orchard school meeting at 5050 N. Meridian St., Wednesday at 3:30 p. m.

Bert Dinsley, 3227 College Ave., is in Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Patrick, 425 N. Pennsylvania St., are spending several days in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Gall Spangler, 321 W. Forty-fourth St., will entertain the Spencer Club Tuesday afternoon. She will be assisted by Mrs. J. E. Hughes and Mrs. Seth Beam.

Mrs. Russell Robertson and Mrs. Malcolm Sims will entertain Thursday with a 1 p. m. luncheon bridge at the home of Mrs. Robertson, 1326 Ashland Ave.

Guests will be Mesdames Robert Fleischer, G. D. Newton, John Downing, E. A. Cunningham, Carl E. Hardin, William D. Engler, Roy J. Pile, James R. McCoy, C. O. Richey and Harry V. James.

The Indianapolis Unit of the American Legion will entertain at 2:30 p. m., Wednesday, with twelve tables of bridge at the home of Mrs. Karl Schoen, 3420 Birchwood Ave. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Hatman, and Mrs. John A. Royce.

Irvington Pythian Sisters, No. 411 will entertain with cards at 8 p. m., Tuesday at 1304 1/2 S. Audubon Rd.

The Mineola Club planned to entertain with cards Monday evening

Callouses

Get rid of them safe, sure way. Stops the pain at once. At drug and shoe stores.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads Put one on the pain is gone.

Clear Your Skin

Of Disfiguring Blemishes

Use Cuticura

Sample Soap, Cuticura, Talcum, Cream, Ointment, Lotion, etc., at drug stores.

When You

Feel a

Cold

Coming On

Take

Laxative

Bromo

Quinine

tablets

to work off the cause and to fortify the system against an attack of Grip or Influenza. A Safe and Proven Remedy. Price 30c.

The box bears this signature

E. W. Brown

Co-Chairman for Card Party

—Photo by Drexheimer.

Mrs. E. L. Burnett

Mrs. E. L. Burnett and Mrs. Harry McDonald are in charge of the card party to be given by the Indiana Indorsers of Photoplays at the Severin, Tuesday afternoon. More than 100 tables reservations have been made.

In Redmen's hall, North St. and Capitol Ave.

P. H. C. drill team will give a dance and card party Tuesday evening at P. H. C. Hall.

Lavelle Gossett Post Veterans of Foreign Wars will entertain a benefit card party Tuesday evening at the hall, 902 N. Pershing Ave.

Scandal Suit to Jury

By United Press

LONDON, March 23.—The suit brought by Mrs. Muriel Waterhouse against Lady Wilson-Barker, in which the latter was charged with having had intimate relations with the plaintiff's husband, went to the jury at 1:40 p. m. today. Alleging that through a blackmail plot, in which love was employed as a decoy, Lady Wilson-Barker robbed Waterhouse of his $1,000,000 fortune, Mrs. Waterhouse asks that the court order the defendant to give an accounting for her money.

New Spring

SKIRTS

New cloths, stripes, checks and plain colors.

$3.75

Doors Open at 8:30

Extra Salesladies

$6.00

Girls' Spring

COATS

All well made; different materials, colors, sizes 3 to 12.

$12.50

ROGERS & CO.

5 N. ILLINOIS ST.

Martha Lee Says

MEN STICK TOGETHER,

AND CALL IT 'SPORTING'

Men like to play according to the rules, whether the game be bridge, or golf, or—love.

A man who steals another man's wife is a cheat. But a man who tells on the man who steals another's wife is a cad.

A woman who steals another woman's husband is a "darned attractive woman." The woman who lets her husband be stolen is a fool.

Such is man's code. It is not consistent, but it follows the rules of sportsmanship. Chief among these rules is the one which prompts men to stick up for one another, especially when they are attacked by the so-called weaker sex.

Women play differently. Especially in the game of love, it is "every woman for herself."

Men are inclined to scorn women's rules for playing, as "unsporting." But it seldom occurs to them that their own rules may be inconsistent.

Brotherly Care

Dear Martha Lee: I want to ask you about some one else's trouble, not my own. I am a young man wondering what to do next. My sister, who is 20, two years younger than I am, is going with a young man who is a very good friend of mine. She likes him pretty well, which is all right, but I don't want her to go with him so much because she might fall in love with him.

This fellow is all right, but he is divorced and was his fault. My sister knows he was divorced, but she thinks it was his wife's fault.

I want to tell her the truth, but this fellow is my friend. How can I keep her from going with him so much, without telling her that?

BROTHER TOM.

Do you know, Tom, some times you men rather bore me with your sense of "honor" that would permit you to let your sister throw away her life rather than hurt a friend.

Having waited this long, you are to have a hard time convincing your sister you are telling the truth, I'm afraid. However, that's about all you can do now. But don't try to order her to stop this friendship. Merely tell her the story, and let her draw her conclusion. Tell her you thought she ought to know.

And your story will be more effective if you see less of this man, to show your sister that you are not saying: "Do as I say, not as I do."

Journalistic School

Dear Martha Lee: Could you give me the address of the Missouri State School of Journalism?

The School of Journalism of the University of Missouri, to which I presume you refer, is at Columbia, Mo.

The average length of life in the United States is now 56 years, an increase of 15 years since 1870.

ROGERS & CO.

5 N. ILLINOIS ST.

Girls' Spring

COATS

All well made; different materials, colors, sizes 3 to 12.

$12.50

ROGERS & CO.

5 N. ILLINOIS ST.

Martha Lee Says

MEN STICK TOGETHER,

AND CALL IT 'SPORTING'

Men like to play according to the rules, whether the game be bridge, or golf, or—love.

A man who steals another man's wife is a cheat. But a man who tells on the man who steals another's wife is a cad.

A woman who steals another woman's husband is a "darned attractive woman." The woman who lets her husband be stolen is a fool.

Such is man's code. It is not consistent, but it follows the rules of sportsmanship. Chief among these rules is the one which prompts men to stick up for one another, especially when they are attacked by the so-called weaker sex.

Women play differently. Especially in the game of love, it is "every woman for herself."

Men are inclined to scorn women's rules for playing, as "unsporting." But it seldom occurs to them that their own rules may be inconsistent.

Brotherly Care

Dear Martha Lee: I want to ask you about some one else's trouble, not my own. I am a young man wondering what to do next. My sister, who is 20, two years younger than I am, is going with a young man who is a very good friend of mine. She likes him pretty well, which is all right, but I don't want her to go with him so much because she might fall in love with him.

This fellow is all right, but he is divorced and was his fault. My sister knows he was divorced, but she thinks it was his wife's fault.

I want to tell her the truth, but this fellow is my friend. How can I keep her from going with him so much, without telling her that?

BROTHER TOM.

Do you know, Tom, some times you men rather bore me with your sense of "honor" that would permit you to let your sister throw away her life rather than hurt a friend.

Having waited this long, you are to have a hard time convincing your sister you are telling the truth, I'm afraid. However, that's about all you can do now. But don't try to order her to stop this friendship. Merely tell her the story, and let her draw her conclusion. Tell her you thought she ought to know.

And your story will be more effective if you see less of this man, to show your sister that you are not saying: "Do as I say, not as I do."

Journalistic School

Dear Martha Lee: Could you give me the address of the Missouri State School of Journalism?

The School of Journalism of the University of Missouri, to which I presume you refer, is at Columbia, Mo.

The average length of life in the United States is now 56 years, an increase of 15 years since 1870.

ROGERS & CO.

5 N. ILLINOIS ST.

Girls' Spring

COATS

All well made; different materials, colors, sizes 3 to 12.

$12.50

ROGERS & CO.

5 N. ILLINOIS ST.

Martha Lee Says

MEN STICK TOGETHER,

AND CALL IT 'SPORTING'

Men like to play according to the rules, whether the game be bridge, or golf, or—love.

A man who steals another man's wife is a cheat. But a man who tells on the man who steals another's wife is a cad.

A woman who steals another woman's husband is a "darned attractive woman." The woman who lets her husband be stolen is a fool.

Such is man's code. It is not consistent, but it follows the rules of sportsmanship. Chief among these rules is the one which prompts men to stick up for one another, especially when they are attacked by the so-called weaker sex.

Women play differently. Especially in the game of love, it is "every woman for herself."

Men are inclined to scorn women's rules for playing, as "unsporting." But it seldom occurs to them that their own rules may be inconsistent.

Brotherly Care

Dear Martha Lee: I want to ask you about some one else's trouble, not my own. I am a young man wondering what to do next. My sister, who is 20, two years younger than I am, is going with a young man who is a very good friend of mine. She likes him pretty well, which is all right, but I don't want her to go with him so much because she might fall in love with him.

This fellow is all right, but he is divorced and was his fault. My sister knows he was divorced, but she thinks it was his wife's fault.

I want to tell her the truth, but this fellow is my friend. How can I keep her from going with him so much, without telling her that?

BROTHER TOM.

Do you know, Tom, some times you men rather bore me with your sense of "honor" that would permit you to let your sister throw away her life rather than hurt a friend.

Having waited this long, you are to have a hard time convincing your sister you are telling the truth, I'm afraid. However, that's about all you can do now. But don't try to order her to stop this friendship. Merely tell her the story, and let her draw her conclusion. Tell her you thought she ought to know.

And your story will be more effective if you see less of this man, to show your sister that you are not saying: "Do as I say, not as I do."

Journalistic School

Dear Martha Lee: Could you give me the address of the Missouri State School of Journalism?

The School of Journalism of the University of Missouri, to which I presume you refer, is at Columbia, Mo.

The average length of life in the United States is now 56 years, an increase of 15 years since 1870.

ROGERS & CO.

5 N. ILLINOIS ST.

Girls' Spring

COATS