

FACTORY BOOST PLAN TO BE UP NEXT THURSDAY

C. of C. President Says Directors to Act at Regular Meeting.

Frank S. Fishback, president of the Chamber of Commerce, today announced the proposed plan of the industrial committee for developing Indianapolis as an industrial center would come before the directors at the regular meeting next Thursday noon.

"The recommendations made by the committee will be the chief question under consideration," Fishback said.

Fishback recently accepted the presidency of the Chamber with the understanding that a definite program for boosting Indianapolis would be adopted.

During his recent absence from the city, the industrial committee submitted a program to directors following a survey of the industrial field.

Plan included hiring of an industrial expert, to serve as a point of contact between the city and prospective industries; raising of a large sum of money for advertising the advantages of Indianapolis; and creating an advisory committee to confer with firms who are seeking a location.

An advisory committee composed of a market expert, industrial expert and an engineer would be able to supply companies with technical knowledge about the city's resources, it is said.

It is hoped to make Indianapolis a super attractive city and tell the world about Indianapolis, and increase markets under the plan.

PARK FUNDS WANTED

$4,000 for Pls. Grounds to Be Asked Today

Appropriation of $4,000 for improvement of play grounds purchased by the city during the past year was to be asked of the park board by R. Walter Jarvis, park superintendent today.

"We have purchased about eight new playgrounds," Jarvis said. "Many of the mowers vacant lots. You cannot wave a wand over the ground and make a nicely graded playground spring into existence. It takes money and work."

Croup Relieved Without Dosing

Too much dosing is harmful to a child's delicate stomach. Often it lays the foundation for ill health in later life.

The next time a child seems croupy in the evening apply Vicks over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the bedclothing loose about the neck so that the arising vapors may be freely inhaled. This usually prevents a night attack.

If croup comes on without warning an application of Vicks usually brings relief in 15 minutes.

Vicks can be applied freely and often, even on the youngest child, with perfect safety.

Goat Didn't Like Police Barns

Custodian Is Glad 'Billy' Has Wandered to Other Fields.

Police got John Messenheimer's goat today, but John doesn't care. In fact, he's celebrating the event.

Messenheimer, custodian of the barns where horses of mounted police are kept at 1000 E. Market St., is a lover of pets and has been able in most cases to master them, but his latest attempt was too much.

Cats, dogs and goats have been included in the happy family collected by John. Last Saturday he was in the depths of despair because his pet dog, Lady, whom he had taught to ride horseback, was killed by an automobile in front of the barn.

Realizing Messenheimer's depressed feeling, Lieut. Louis Johnston and Police Sergeant Lester Jones hastened to the stockyards and obtained what they thought was a gentlemanly goat.

Goat lasted just one day. Incensed at playful surroundings of the stable, he attacked several horses and then started to see the world.

Mounted police pursued the wanderer. And there was need for pursuit, because phone in police headquarters was kept busy while late housewives in neighborhood of 1100 E. Market St. poured out tales of flowers eaten and rose bushes destroyed.
