VON HINDENBURG 'STUMPS' IN U. S.

German War Lord Takes Campaign to America.

By United Press
HANOVER, Germany, April 21.—Germany's election campaign is being sought on foreign soil, chiefly in America.

The Republican bloc first raised the cry that Wall Street and the remainder of the United States were fearful of the consequences of the election of Hindenburg. The empire bloc, backing the field marshal, thereupon carried the battle to America.

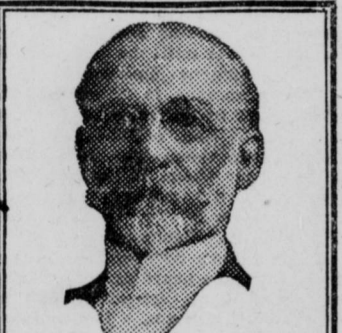

This explains the flood of interviews, issued within the past twenty-four hours, despite assurances of Hindenburg's satellites that it was impossible to interview him. The interviews for the most part were prepared by the militarily organized staff at the empire bloc's headquarters.

Hindenburg's interview drive against America is designed to convince the United States his candidacy does not mean a drive to restore a monarchy. He also wants to show he can stand on his own feet and that he stands for law and order. The fact that America's attitude toward Hindenburg's candidacy has become the main issue in the campaign explains the opening flood of foreign statements.

JUST HUNTING PIGEONS

But Hard Hearted Judge Tacks on a Little Fine.

When George Alberts, 542 Hosbrook St., was arraigned before City Judge Dan V. White today on charges of burglary and petit larceny he told the judge he was looking for pigeons when found on the roof of the Home Brewing Company. Police alleged he had broken into the place and had stolen malt extract, hops, and postcards. Judge White dismissed the burglary charge and assessed a fine of $5 and costs on the petit larceny charge.

Brought Health and Happiness

"Since the Civil War indigestion and stomach trouble have been the bane of my existence. Tanlac made my weak stomach sound and did away with all signs of indigestion. In fact it has brought me health, strength and happiness and I give it unqualified endorsement and praise."

JEWETT TALKS ON STEPHENSON

order for political purposes. And he has used the Coffin-Dodson-Duval machine in this county—the machine that is now in control of the political machinery—to his own selfish political purposes.

"In the 23rd day of March of this year, in the Washington Hotel, Duval sat with Stephenson and Coffin and others, in a political conference, and they decided that triumvirate was to support Duval in the campaign."

Tells of Mortgage

Jewett recalled that Duval's bank loaned Stephenson $15,000 on his home in Irvington which recently was partially destroyed by an incendiary fire. He declared the property had been appraised at only $12,000.

"What does all this mean?" he asked. "It means that that is the influence behind Duval. That renegade, who now stands indicted for the commission of the most heinous crime that ever was committed in this State, to my knowledge; that man who, from Saturday until this morning was free, because the sheriff of this county could not find him—he is the dominating influence behind the candidacy of John Duval."

"We do not want to see a man who is incarcerated in the county jail dominating and guiding the political affairs of the Republican party in this county in the election this fall."

"This is a time when D. C. Stephenson and all he represents, all he stands for, all he backs and all that is back of him should be eliminated from the Republican party and from the city of Indianapolis, once and for all time."

Wants People to Arise

"I want to see the people of Indianapolis rise up and put the stamp of disapproval upon this man Stephenson. We have never had anything that equaled it in this community, and I can not understand it. This is the first time I remember—and I have talked to older lawyers—that when a man was indicted by a grand jury at 11:45 on Saturday morning or any other day and all the next day and until away in the middle of the following day he could not be found. The sheriff was too busy to hunt him up. He was too busy to find a man indicted for murder."

"Why, my friends, what that man Stephenson said to that poor girl, who was then on her deathbed, that he feared nothing; that his word was law in Indiana; how many people believed it? The circumstances and happenings within the last sixty-four hours almost make me believe he was telling the truth."

"That is the power and that is the influence that is back of Mr. Duval's candidacy in this campaign. That cannot be disputed."

Mansion Is Sub-Headquarters
"During the last primary the mansion of Stephenson in Irvington was used as a sub-political headquarters and George V. Coffin was then county chairman, and they had that building equipped with furniture, and they had fourteen or fifteen stenographers working day and night, and this man Stephenson was the dominating and controlling influence in Marion County Republican politics in the last election."

"During the last session of the Legislature Stephenson paraded the halls of our capitol, carrying in his pocket what he said was the controlling influence in Indiana's greatest legislative body."

"What a great disaster, what a disgrace to the Republican party it would be to have a man like that dominating our primaries, our candidates, our legislatures!"

"Why, my friends it is almost unbelievable. I say that we have a right to take the mask from in front of the face of the men who ask for our suffrage, who ask for the responsibility of leadership in our party, and see what influences are back of them, and what the character and the nature of those influences are."

CHILD'S STORY PLACES BLAME

3-Year-Old Tells of Murder of Father and Aunt.

By United Press
CHICAGO, April 21.—The baby-talk testimony of curly-headed 3-year-old Bobby Baker may avenge the killing of his father. The tiny lad, perched on the lap of a friendly neighbor, unhesitatingly told a corner's jury late yesterday that John Raymond had killed "Auntie Violet" and "Daddy."

Raymond admits he killed his wife, Violet, 21, and her brother-in-law, Raymond Baker, 25. He claims he did it because Baker admitted he had been "too friendly" with her.

"Did you see who shot your father?" Bobby was asked.

"Gawky boomed him," he replied promptly.

"Look around and see if you see 'Gawky' here," he was told.

The lad's eyes fell on his uncle, "There's Gawky," he crowed and smiled at his uncle.

"Did he shoot your auntie too?" the questioning continued.

The little yellow head nodded an affirmative.

JEERS INDICATE DOOM FOR NEW FRENCH CABINET

Painleve No Longer Assured of Majority—Vatican Trouble Renewed.

By United Press

PARIS, April 21.—The chamber of deputies hooted the appearance of Joseph Caillaux on the ministerial bench today when Paul Painleve presented his cabinet and read the government's declaration of policy.

It was obvious from the way the deputies were divided that the new government was no longer assured of a majority in the chamber. The entire left to which Painleve looked for support sat silent when the premier read that part of the ministerial declaration referring to the Vatican embassy.

Painleve announced that the government would restore the embassy which was abolished by Edouard Herriot's ministry. The "right" wildly applauded the announcement, which was a blow to the socialists and radical socialists, who had promised Painleve their support.

Caillaux's appearance in the chamber was the subject for hoots and catcalls. But parliamentary observers declared that the overnight change which introduced into the ministerial declaration the new vatican policy would be the main factor if, as they now expect, Painleve fails to obtain much, if any, of a majority.

The Nollet project for reorganization of the army, providing for reduction of military service, an important part of Herriot's policy, also was rejected by the new government.

U. S. DISMISSES HARTMAN CASE

Final Chapter Written in G. O. P. Ticket Scandal.

Two indictments, charging violations of the national prohibition law and conspiracy to transport intoxicating liquor, against J. Herbert Hartman, 3018 Graceland Ave., and other Indianapolis persons, including Frank Francis, confessed criminal, were dismissed in Federal Court today by Judge Robert C. Baisell.

The Francis-Hartman case attracted wide attention four years ago, when Hartman was a candidate for city judge, but was put off the ticket by the Republican committee.

Delbert O. Wilmett, who ran second in the primary, was given the nomination. Charges of conspiracy to rob against Hartman in county court were dismissed on condition he leave the city.

COLORED MAN WHO ATTACKED COUPLE SOUGHT

Detectives Hunt Through Bertillon Records for Trace.

Detectives searched Bertillon records today for a colored man who would answer description of the man who attacked Miss Isabel Hewitt, 22, of 528 N. Hamilton Ave., and Richard Behrman, 19, of 433 N. Eastern Ave., while they were sitting in a parked auto three square east of Emerson Ave. on Sixteenth St., at 9 p. m. Monday night.

Richard Behrman

Police are also inquiring if a colored man was at liberty from prison where he was serving sentence for a similar attack some years ago.

Miss Hewitt and Behrman, were picked up by R. E. Fox, 1605 N. Meridian St., and H. A. Haas, Y. M. C. A., passing motorists, and taken to the Behrman home.

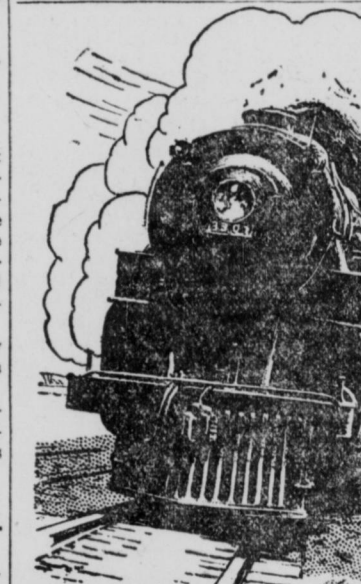

Both Behrman and Miss Hewitt said they were about to turn the car around and drive to the city when the man pointed a revolver at them and commanded they get out.

He searched them and then took a jack from the tool box and beat Behrman over the head and ordered the couple to crawl through the fence. He took canvas strip from his pockets, tied their hands, and gagged them. He attacked Miss Hewitt and took $1.25 from Behrman's pocket. Miss Hewitt worked her hands loose and united Behrman. They found the gasoline tank of the auto drained, and started to walk.

Police say this is the second similar attack in the neighborhood, the first one being that of a man and wife, in the bedroom of their home.
