A spray of orange blossoms, a bit of precious lace, a wisp of tulle—that's June. And all the while the year's solemn calendar stands silent while the brides pass by. The first two weeks of June this year were overflowing with bride's bouquets, and white satin. Prominent among these weddings was the marriage of Miss Anneke McCray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. McCray, 1923 N. Meridian St., to John Victor Wilson of Columbia, S. C., which took place at high noon, Wednesday.

Another charming wedding was that of Miss Josephine Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Rogers, 240 N. Illinois St., and Lewis Ott Ward, which took place Wednesday evening. Mrs. Ward was attended by her sister, Miss Helen Louise Rogers, maid of honor; Mrs. Frank W. Ball, Jr., matron of honor; Misses Margaret Schoener, Marjorie Chiles and Katherine O'Meara, bridesmaids and Little Miss Mary Louise Losey, flower maid. The marriage of Miss Lucy Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Caldwell, 3608 N. Capitol Ave., to Jacob J. Barth took place Wednesday morning at the Capitol Ave. M. E. Church. In a lovely ceremony Wednesday morning at the St. Joan of Arc Church, Miss Eleanor Brennan, daughter of Dr. Edward J. Brennan, 3325 Central Ave., became the bride of George Edward Meredith of Trenton, N. J.

A pretty wedding of early June was that of Miss Marie Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Keller, 1155 Hoyt Ave., and George Waugh, which took place June 2.

ROBBERS CAPTURED

Band of International Thieves Bagged—Home of John Alden Prescott Again Entered.

One of the most sensational captures ever made by the police was made in this city last night at the home of John Alden Prescott, the steel magnate. As was told exclusively in the News Tuesday, the men entered Mr. Prescott's house and robbed Mrs. Prescott of over half a million dollars' worth of jewels on Monday night.

This great robbery was made more mysterious by the amazing disappearance of Miss Zoe Ellington, nursery governess, and Sydney Carlton, who was a guest in the house.

It is due to the clever insight of Commissioner William Laidlaw that the thieves were caught, although their mysterious return to the house within twenty-four hours, and so walking into the commissioner's net.

Yesterday afternoon while Commissioner Laidlaw, who is a friend of Mr. Prescott, was in the library looking over the premises, a young man ostensibly from Roth & Chapman, interior decorators, tried to make his way into the room on some trumped-up excuse. Hearing voices, however, he immediately made his getaway.

Mrs. Prescott, who was talking to him in the hall, told the story to her husband and the commissioner when he returned to the library. Immediately Laidlaw telephoned to the decorating establishment and found that they had sent no one on such a mission.

Commissioner Laidlaw, when interviewed, said: "As soon as I heard Mrs. Prescott's story I was sure that something was wrong, and that the man was in some way connected with the robbery of the night before, had been to the house to reconnoiter."

"I was not sure what it was the man came for, but whatever it was, I knew he did not get it, as Mr. Prescott and I were in the library all the time."

"Therefore, I know that whatever the people wanted who had sent him to the house to reconnoiter."

"It was then I had my second hunch which I followed against the judgment of Mr. Prescott and every one else on the police force. As I told them, to take the precautions which we did last night, would not hurt anybody and they might lead to solving the entire tragedy."

In accordance with the commissioner's commands a cordon of police was secretly placed about the house, Mr. Laidlaw having entered by the servants' door early in the evening.

About 10 o'clock a splendid town car with two men on the box drove up to the carriage entrance and three men in evening dress descended from the motor, and rang the bell. They were laughing and talking, apparently were friends of Mr. Prescott's.

SPEAKER MAY BE TRAINED BY VOTERS' LEAGUE

South Bend Woman Named to Head Bureau of Organization.

Announcement is made by State headquarters of the Indiana League of Women Voters that Mrs. J. E. Neff of South Bend, Ind., has accepted the chairmanship of the speakers' bureau. Mrs. Neff is also the newly elected third vice president. Her plans for the speakers' bureau will be presented Thursday, when the June meeting of the State board of directors will be held at the Spink Arms.

Mrs. E. B. White of Terre Haute, Ind., state president will preside. This is the board's first regular meeting of the new fiscal year.

A speakers' school is one new project that Mrs. Neff is understood to favor in her plans for the development of the speakers' bureau. Such schools have been tried out in Illinois with success. They are usually held under the direction of a trained public speaker. The student speakers, who are league members, meet and prepare addresses on a given subject. These addresses are then delivered and analyzed by the class.

Should the Indiana League decide to conduct a speakers' school, it will probably be held this summer in order to develop a corps of trained speakers to conduct the league's citizenship schools, to be held during the fall.

KAPPAS TO GIVE DANCE

Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority of Butler University will give its annual commencement dinner dance Monday at Page's, on the National Rd., in honor of the June graduates. The committee in charge of the dance, Miss Caroline Godley, Miss Justine Halladay and Miss Emily Brownson, Miss Irma Ulrich will be the toastmistress.
