

BUTLER GRADS GET DIPLOMAS; FESS SPEAKER

Commencement Exercises
Held on Campus; Honors Awarded.

Diplomas were awarded to 167 seniors of Butler University this morning at open-air commencement exercises on the campus following an address by Simon D. Fess, United States Senator from Ohio and former president of Antioch College.

Musio by students of the Metropolitan School of Music and awarding of honors formed part of the program.

Senator Fess assured the graduates that the future leaders of the Republic will be the college graduates of today and commended them on striving for an education.

Foreign Relations Discussed
He discussed the outstanding problems of the United States in foreign relations, which are of vital interest to thinking men and women of today, he said.

"One outstanding point in the European situation at present is the attitude of France toward taking definite steps to fund her financial obligations to the United States, contracted during the World War," said Senator Fess. "Such a step will necessitate a burden of taxation for France as heavy as our own country bears."

Hindenburg Important
The attitude of President Von Hindenburg of Germany is of utmost concern to the world at present, the speaker said. "If Hindenburg respects treaty obligations and the American Commission plan, he will disarm the country and remove distrust of other nations."

"As to the immediate steps the United States should take, we should give our financial and moral support to the World Court," said Senator Fess.

Dr. Robert J. Aley presented diplomas to the 148 Bachelors of Arts, eighteen Bachelors of Science and

Business & Industrial NEWS

BUSINESS CAN BE PROTECTED BY DETECTIVES

National Bureau Makes Excellent Record in Indiana.

In China the wise pay a physician a certain sum each year to protect them from illness. In Indiana wise business men enter into a contract each year with The National Detective Bureau Company to protect them from robbery, theft, hold-ups and swindling games—illnesses from which every business is liable to suffer at one time or another.

Stanley H. Lawwill is manager of the Indiana branch of the association, which is incorporated under the laws of Ohio, and the branch office at 1010 Odd Fellow Bldg., has handled felony cases in many States of the Central West.

In fact it has just about reached the point where a wise crook reads the sign announcing that a store is protected by The National Detective Bureau and turns away to hunt an unprotected store for R. I. Miles, secretary of the association, has, according to Lawwill, a business acquaintance with every crook in the Middle West.

Miles was for nearly fourteen years the fingerprint and Bertillon expert at the Ohio State Penitentiary, and crooks who have once met him are not trying to renew the acquaintance.

"For the last seven years our plates showing that we are protecting the interests of a store have proven 97 per cent effective," Lawwill said. "We have more than 500 contracts in Indianapolis, and 3,500 in Indiana, and we're proud to say that there has been but one burglary in these 3,500 places within the past eleven weeks. That one was the theft of two tires from a car parked in front of the owner's place of business.

"Not long ago our bureau cleaned up a 'mob' of crooks who had been responsible for twenty-three burglaries, thirty-seven automobile thefts and four 'stick-ups.' We managed to land the entire nineteen members of that gang. In fact we seldom fail to land any crook we go after, which accounts for the feeling of business men that our service is a business necessity."

SPINE IS SAID TO BE CAUSE OF DISEASES

Adjustments Bring Relief to Many, Says Chiropractor.

The discomfort experienced by every woman who has worn a hat that is too small, or shoes that pinch the feet, is only an example of the discomfort that the entire nervous system undergoes when the nerves are subjected to pressure from the spinal vertebrae.

The spine is a bony case made up of many sections that form a protective covering over the spinal cord. If a section of this bone cover is injured or displaced, it presses against the sensitive nerves of the spine and the nerve irritates the entire system so that one suffers without realizing what has caused the suffering.

It is the business of the chiropractor to adjust these spinal vertebra so that the pressure on the spinal cord is removed, and the nerve irritation relieved. E. M. Ryan, D. C. and M. C., the pioneer chiropractor of Fountain Square, has had his offices at 1066½ Virginia Ave. for many years, and the satisfactory results enjoyed by patients who have taken his treatment have built up a large practice for him.

"Those who have tried chiropractic treatments and found how satisfactory they are when it comes to restoring and keeping the systems of a disease as long as the cause of the symptoms remains. 'For the primary cause of many troubles such as biliousness, rheumatic pains, constipation, gas on the stomach, nerve exhaustion, frequent colds and dozens of other common ills is nothing more than pressure upon the nerves from a displaced

BOGUE SCHOOL PREPARES FOR SUMMER RUSH

Students Come From Far Away Seeking Cure for Stammering.

At this season of the year, when other schools are preparing to end their year's activities, the Bogue Institute for Stammerers in Indianapolis begins preparations for the instruction of an increased number of students.

The start of the usual school vacation period is always the beginning of a larger enrollment of students at the Bogue Institute, according to Benjamin N. Bogue, who has been head of the school for twenty-four years.

From all parts of the country parents send their children to the Bogue Institute, where, by the famous Bogue unit method of training, they learn to overcome the habit of stammering. Anticipating the increase in the number of students, the Bogue staff makes preparations for the summer activities of the school by planning picnics in public parks, excursions to the amusement centers of Indianapolis, swimming parties which prove especially attractive to the boy students of the institute.

There is usually an increase in the number of adult students at the institute during the vacation months, according to Bogue. The school's advanced students show a goodly number of grown-up students desirous of taking advantage of the Bogue instruction during their vacation periods.

The Bogue Institute for Stammerers is known all over America and in many foreign lands. Students have come to Indianapolis for relief from the affliction of stammering from all parts of the United States and Canada and from other countries. One student of the Bogue Institute traveled 9,000 miles to reach Indianapolis.

LARMAN STORE IS OUT OF HIGH RENT DISTRICT

Furniture Sold at Saving Because of Location.

The slogan, "Out of the high rent district," has a real meaning for those who buy their furniture from Charles Larmann, for Larmann's store is at 1102 S. Meridian St., conveniently located for all of those who live on the south side and not too far out for persons from any part of Indianapolis who are seeking furniture bargains.

The Larmann furniture store has served homemakers since 1907. It is the oldest furniture store on Meridian St., according to Larmann, and the steady and substantial growth of the business has proved better than anything else the reliability of the store and the quality of the goods sold there.

"We sell our goods upon easy payments in order to make it possible for families who are unable to invest a large amount of cash at one time to secure good furniture at moderate prices," Larmann said. "It is not necessary to pay cash in order to secure good value, for by keeping our overhead expense low and giving personal attention to each sale we are able to give the customer the benefit of a very substantial saving."

"We carry a very complete stock of household goods, including rugs, linoleum, stoves and furniture of the kind best suited to the average home. Durability, good taste and good value are emphasized in the goods we sell, and I believe that the eleven blocks between our store and Washington St. will be well worth traveling, for the homemaker who really wants to save money."
