

HORSES STILL CAN GET DRINK AT FOUNTAINS

Mr. Fixit Gets Complaints on Quiet Zone, Smoke and Lights.

If Mr. Fixit can assist you to obtain needed city improvements, write him at The Times. His business is to aid Times' readers in their dealings with city officials.

A plea for Old Dobbin has reached Mr. Fixit. In answering it, Mr. Fixit learned that the increase in number of automobiles has caused the horse to lose many of his prerogatives.

DEAR MR. FIXIT: Will you please see why the city has shut off the water in the public drink fountains for horses?

A huckster told my mother yesterday that there was no place where his horse could get a drink. This seems a poor sort of economy to me.

VERNON HARRISON,
932 N. Illinois St.

There's a silver lining to this cloud. Mr. Fixit's investigation reveals that only one-half of the drinking fountains for horses have been suspended. In almost every part of the city fountains are available, despite the decrease in the number of horses.

DEAR MR. FIXIT: Why is it that the traffic is not compelled to obey the "quiet zone" near the Indiana Christian Hospital at Senate Ave. and Ohio St.?

Trucks begin passing at 6 a. m. and they rush past here sounding their horns all day long.

The manhole caps in the street are loose and they add to the confusion. Hoping these noises can be eliminated.

NERVOUS PATIENT.

Mr. Fixit talked this matter over with the board of safety today and they assigned Police Chief Rikhoff to investigate. W. P. Hargon, clerk of the street commissioner's office will have the loose lids repaired before you read this article.

Hargon has aided Mr. Fixit in many tough problems and today he submitted one of his own.

DEAR MR. FIXIT: Why can't something be done to stop the black smoke coming from the Pennsylvania Railroad round house over to

Ransom Plot Is Nipped

Bliss Baker
Mrs. D. C. Jackling

Here are the principals in a strange kidnapping plot revealed at San Francisco. Bliss Baker, young University of California student, planned to kidnap Mrs. D. C. Jackling and hold her for a $50,000 ransom. The police discovered the plot before it could be brought into execution. Mrs. Jackling is the wife of a wealthy copper magnate.

the residents of that vicinity? Willard Park is being made a smoke den instead of a recreation ground. Many of the neighbors are being awakened during the night by this horrible smoke condition which can be avoided. Some action should be taken to put a stop to it. What can you do?

W. P. HARGON.
The building department will compel the railroad company to wash the smoke, if it is granted authority under the new smoke code. Francis F. Hamilton, city building commissioner, told Mr. Fixit. Under present regulations, he is powerless to control this nuisance.

MANY VISITORS AT CITY CAMP

Jarvis Says Tourists Have Taxed Facilities.

All past records for number of visitors have been broken at the municipal tourists' camp at Riverside Park this summer, according to R. Walter Jarvis, superintendent of city parks.

Passing through Indianapolis from all parts of the country, the drivers and passengers have taxed the facilities of the camp. They are charged 25 cents a night with privilege of using the ovens to cook their meals. Stop-overs are limited to five days.

Jarvis said he hoped to obtain a community building for the camp next year.

For Staying Power—Use Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Red Crown stays by the job. In rough going—deep sand—on corkscrew trails—or mountain roads—on steepest grades—Red Crown may be depended upon. Hundreds of letters from customers tell us that the man with Red Crown in his tank is passing cars in trouble every day.

Red Crown is dependable because it has a long, unbroken chain of boiling point fractions. Combustion moves smoothly from the lighter to the heavier fractions. And this combustion is complete. Every drop of Red Crown vaporizes.

For these reasons Red Crown gives you more power and greater flexibility.

Red Crown's greater power spells economy, and a worth-while saving month by month, on your gasoline and repair bills.
