finite action; looking toward full-ment of the proposed building plan of the Indianapolis school board was taken at a meeting of the board Tuesday night. The board voted that resolutions and legal advice be obtained from the president of the Shortridge High School property and buildings and for bids on a new Shortridge bond issue be given by William H. Book, business director.

Book said that special meetings will be held Friday and Saturday morning. When bids on construction work and bond issues for the Jefferson Colored High School and the Washington West Side High School, named Tuesday night, will be received.

Dr. Marie Haspel, board member, commented that a new site be located for the new Shortridge. She said that when buildings are erected on the site at Thirty-Fourth and Meridian Sts. the housing facilities will not be adequate. Book was directed to look at other sites.

To Build Libraries

That the school board will build four new branch libraries in the next few years was indicated when the board went on record approving that allowances for these buildings be made in next year's budget.

A delegation of more than fifty persons headed by the Rev. C. P.
Greenfield, pastor of the Southern Avenue Baptist church; Mrs. Hilda Sturm, Robert Sloan and Edward Tardy, asked new branch libraries at Shelby and Bradbury Sts.

School Specifications Soon

Jacob N. Hilkene, director of buildings and grounds, announced that final specifications for the three new grade schools will be returned to the board for final approval in about two weeks.

The board approved the leasing of the Brightwood branch library, 2332 34 Station St., for three years from the Roesch Realty Company.

It was announced that night school will begin in most of the Indianapolis public schools Monday evening.

$100 A MONTH IS LOW RENTAL

at Governor Martin has been asked to have the Legislature pass a rent act this winter similar to that Congress passed to check landlord gouging in Washington during and after the war.

There is little hope for the law, however. A recent canvass of the Legislature indicated only a small vote in its favor.

Perhaps one reason is that at most every one who counts is in on the game. One of the framers of the law and its chief advocate tried to sell me a group of frame dwellings he had bought by mail order for $2,000 each. He had converted them into two-family houses, rented them at $100 a month a family and now wants $200 each for them because each brings in $2,400 a year.

Poor Construction

Most of the houses are one-story, burned-type affairs, which rent for about 30 per cent of their value a year and sometimes bring in one year as much as the total construction cost.

Little cottages, such as summer campers build, with neither heating plant, plaster, wall paper or partitions other than paper or draperies and containing only three or four rooms, rent for $75 a month. Such a cottage Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owens, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, was offered $100 a month for but, rented for $15. It had been a caretaker's lodge on her father's estate.

Rents jump surprisingly fast and without warning. An office executive receiving $60 a week from a red-tape concern had his rent raised this month from $75 a month to $300 a month. Near Tampa an apartment was erected at a total cost of $40,000, construction being flimsy and accommodations poor. It rents for $20,000 a year and was sold as bargain at $180,000 in New York, last unseen.

A Miami business man erected some frame bungalows costing $2,000 each, rented them at $100 each and sold them $8,000 each.

The most surprising rents are obtained at Palm Beach for the three winter months cottages which cost only $10,000 to build, have been frequently rented for $8,000.

Get While Gettings Good

The demand for houses is, of course, one reason for the high prices. Another is the attitude of the average owner whose psychology is that the man who owns a little place in the Boardwalk at Atlantic City, He knows he is having a short season and must make his profit while the making is good.

The landlord spree is due for a jolt, however. So great is the tem-

Local Woman Heads T. B. Secretaries

Mary A. Meyers

sissippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis at Lansing, Mich.

tation to put up houses and apartments for rent that in Miami alone accommodations are now being built for 98,000 persons, building permits already issued indicate. The entire population of the city, which the State census of last May put at 87,754, could be housed in these new structures with plenty of room to spare.

It is my opinion that this will not only fill present needs, but make housing a drug on the market as soon as buying in real estate slackens. High prices will still be charged, because rents are always slow to come down, but many vacancies will appear and people will have wider range of selection.

This will be hard on the owners who are now building regardless of expense, paying high wages and even conducting operations on the cost-plus plan with contractors, giving bonuses for materials and quick, though careless work. Cost means nothing to them so long as they can get their buildings up in time to catch the winter crowd which, they hope, will in a single season pay them back 50 per cent of their total outlay in cash and mortgages.

Many cities are planning tent colonies for the crowds they hope to get this winter. A 5x12 tent will rent for $5 a week, with no conveniences except possibly a nearby pump or artesian well. The chance of filling these tents and the factors working for and against another rush to Florida this winter will be discussed in a later article.

HOUSE-CLEANING URGED

Law Violators Must Be Shorn of Power, Myers Says.

Walter Myers, Democratic candidate for mayor, urged voters to "clean house" at a meeting at 4020
E. New York St., Tuesday night.
Ex-gambler and ex-bootlegger who have graduated into affluence and whose names are on every tongue must be shorn of political power, he said.

"The mass of the citizenship is clean and respectable, but cleanness not being news, does not appear in the papers. However, they do make up the character of the city. They must be served, and must see to it that they are served by registering and voting."

Deaf? A post-card brings joy of good hearing again

Amazing Invention Enables Deaf to Hear Instantly.
Sent on Ten Days' Free Trial.

Some folks imagine that deafness is merely a personal annoyance. But it's more than that. It ruins the disposition. Upsets the nerves. And taxes the health.

Now science has proved it is needless to remain deaf. A remarkable little personal hearing aid has been perfected by a group of New York scientists.
Immediately restores good hearing even to the poorest case. Results are immediate—there is no waiting—no delay—no danger. You hear at once—clearly, naturally.

The inventors are so sure you will be elated with this wonderful little discovery that they offer to send it to you

WOMEN WELL RECEIVED AT FIRE MEETING

Delegation From Indianapolis Works Hard to Secure Convention.

By Jepson Cadou
Times Staff Correspondent

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 30.— Women of the Indianapolis delegation to the International Association of Fire Chiefs convention here were having their inning today.

As guests of the local committee they lunched at the Brown Hotel and were conducted on a shopping tour. In the evening they will attend the annual banquet and ball.

Meanwhile, the Police and Firemen's Band was waging a musical offensive at the gathering places of the delegates. The Indianapolis musicians have been chosen as the official convention joy merchants, and are requested to get into action on many occasions.

Fire Chief John J. O'Brien today was optimistic concerning the Hoosier delegation's chances to acquire the 1926 gathering for Indianapolis.

Withdrawal of Portland, Ore., and addition of New Orleans, Detroit and Dallas to the battle in which Indianapolis and Philadelphia have been the chief participants, was hailed with satisfaction by the Indianapolis fire fighter.

Helps Indianapolis

"A split of the vote helps Indianapolis," he declared.

The Indiana visitors today spent much of their time at the Jefferson County Armory, where the most modern fire vehicles and equipment are on display.

Catching the spirit, Dr. R. V. Converse, police surgeon, announced today he would try to assemble a delegation to go after the 1926 convention of Police and Fire Surgeons of the United States and Canada. This year's gathering is at Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 6 and 7.

Louisville Elks entertained the entire Hoosier delegation at a dinner Tuesday night. Support of Louisville for the objectives of the Indianapolis visitors was pledged by W. H. Stahlhut, of Louisville, who presided, O'Brien, William T. Bailey, assistant city attorney, and Joseph L. Hogue, city controller, spoke.

SECOND ALARMS

The leading lid-clamper of Louisville is Police Chief Forrest Brader, former Indianapolis resident. He was among the delegation that greeted the Hoosiers.

Dr. R. V. Converse, police surgeon, had a "love to" assignment.
He agreed to photograph a Louisville church where he was married several years ago.

"Where's by lyre?" queried Patrolman Irvin Barker after mislay-ing his music rack.

Here's one, replied Fireman Joseph Rags, dragging forth a traffic Policeman Ora Ice, who denied being a prevaricator.

Under direction of Fire Chief Alex Bache convention arrangements are clicking off in one, two, three order.
Bache devoted particular attention to the needs of the Indianapoli-

The tactful Indianapolis bands-men reap off "My Old Kentucky Home" at frequent intervals, incurring heavy applause. They also play a number of other State songs and finish the ensemble with "On the Banks of the Wabash" and "Back Home to Indiana."

One of the snappiest exhibits at the Jefferson County Armory is that of the Stutz Fire Engine Company of Indianapolis.

Joseph L. Hogue, city controller, took his first swing at the overworld bat during the dinner the Elks gave to Indianapolis visitors. He received a regular Lew Shank burst of applause.

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS GROW

State Enrollment Shows Increase of 5,000 Pupils.

State enrollment figures for Catholic schools in Indiana show that 55,000 pupils are attending these schools. This figure is an increase of 5,000 over last year.

A total of 7,551 pupils has enrolled in the Indianapolis parochial schools. Ft. Wayne reports 3,952 pupils.
