

JUSTICE TAKES ON A NEW DRESS

Prosecutor Welcomes Women on the Juries.

By Times Special
CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Now that women have won the right to sit on juries here, the men folk of the Chicago courts are realizing that justice may take on a new dress.

Assistant States Attorney Leroy Fairbank, in charge of the Cook County grand jury, is enthusiastic over the idea, expressing the belief that "woman's intuition" will enable them to judge rightly in the many baffling sex cases of the day.

"I will not object to a grand jury composed half of women," he says.

Rocco de Stefano, a lawyer who won fame recently in the successful defense of a woman charged with murder, doesn't agree.

"Women will become over impressed with their newfound responsibility," he declares. "They are likely to let their supposed sense of responsibility tell them it is their

Richard Dix has left New York for the Blakely Ranch near Houston, Texas, where a cattle stampede will be staged for his next Paramount picture, "Womanhandled."

A cheerful comment comes from John Passmore, clerk of the Criminal Court.

"It's been hard to get male jurors," he says. "Now with the fee raised to $5 a day, with lodging, and women on the list twice as

JAPANESE TO REDUCE NAVY

Kato Government Practicing Economy.

By United Press
TOKIO, Oct. 2.—A considerable reduction in the navy estimates submitted to the ministry of finance by naval authorities is expected when the 1925 budget goes before the Diet in December.

The estimates call for 320,000,000 yen, to be spread over five years for construction of new vessels, chiefly capital ships to replace those vessels allowed Japan by the Washington conference. These vessels will all be obsolete when the "naval holiday" expires, the navy points out, and a replacement program in accordance with the Washington treaties must be started next year.

The Kato government, however, has given little indication that it intends to make the navy an exception in its economy program, and paring of the estimates by at least 20 per cent is forecast.
