By VEDDER GARD

SPEAKING of football bear stories, the grid sport is not the only one that sends out the dismal dope. Just before the start of the baseball world's series there is more gloom in Washington than there is smog in Indianapolis on a damp morning. Every day in every way the Senators are getting worse and worse. Every new story from the Nation's capital is built along the same melancholy lines.

It seems as though Coveleskie has a sore back and the trainer can't iron out the kinks. There's an example, young men. Don't throw the spitball. Then there's Peckinpah, the veteran shortstop. He's got a lame ankle.

If those two really are out of the picture Washington's chances for retaining the championship crown are decreased by a big margin. Coveleskie must be counted on for at least two games if the Senators are to win. His loss would be an irreparable misfortune.

It is not thought that the left-handers can stop Pittsburgh. The Pirates have shown a liking for southpaws throughout the season.

There is no need of saying that Jack's loss would be another solus piecing blow. Both of these players are very likely to be in the series. But if they are not in the best of shape their performances will be affected.

Kuel after a hard season showed the effects of the strenuous campaign in the latter days of the season, especially in his throwing.

Manager Harris has gambled on veterans and won another pennant, but the venerable ones have a limit. Will those muscles which have tolled in so many contests give way at the biggest moment of all?

THIS isn't supposed to be any of our business and Walter Hickman, dramatic critic of The Times may have an entirely different view, but we're going to butt in and tell the sports fans, at least, to be sure and see Douglas Fairbanks at the Circle next week.

There's a picture we guarantee (unlike our race horse selections). You can't lose on that movie. We saw the film in Chicago and recommend it as one of the best Doug ever put out. There is not a slow minute in it.

It is the old swash buckling Douglas at his virile best. If anyone tells us he doesn't like Don Q Son of Zorro we'll check him off the list and make preparations for entrance into the old ladies' home.

ACROSS THE BOARD TODAY

Jolly Boy gave us the horse laugh Friday and spoiled a parlay as Carefree won. Turner ran out of the fourth. "Gracie" Hill was scratched. Paul Wilson and Lighter were scored at fairly good prices. The former paid $7.50 to place and $3.50 to show and the latter, $4.00 to place and $2.00 to show. The bank roll went down slightly and today is $221.90.

The selections for today: DINGO in the first, REZOLLECTOR in the second, MIDNIGHT ROSE in the third, CORNELIAN in the fourth, ENERGY in the fifth and ARABIAN in the seventh. We will put $2 wts. place and show on all of them.

We purposely passed up the big race, it looks like KING NADI, but the odds were too short. The event was worth worrying about. Just in case the King breaks a leg or something we'll put $2 right on the nose of SUPREMACY. Such things have happened.

THERE is at least one person who will not be sorry if Butler is forced to play in the rain today. Last night on a street car we heard a Butler co-ed, say, with actual regret in her voice as she looked at her new bright-colored slippers. "Well, the stars are shining. It looks as though it will be a nice day tomorrow for the De Pauw game." She didn't want the sunshine. She wanted two slippers at the grid contest, her slippers and her slippers. If Old Sol beams she will frown, if it rains she will smile.

Hoosiers will be much interested to know that station WJZ of New York is to broadcast the Notre Dame-Army game of Oct. 17. There is likely to be plenty of static in this struggle.

THAT series between the Yankees and Athletics should be accompanied by slow music. It is a melancholy affair between two clubs whose hopes have been blasted. New York is finishing lower than for many, many years. Philadelphia is chased by the specter of "what might have been."

The players can not forget how beautiful the scenery was up at the top of the league where they held forth for a greater part of the season. They can not forget how they stumbled in the stretch run and permitted Washington to win the flag.

It is a sad, sad series.

Lyle, the new Washington pitcher, seems correctly named. Boston hopped right onto the rookie in Friday's game. He's just Lyle, not silk.

It is estimated by experts that he mud picked up by football players today in games throughout the land, if despoiled in Florida, would raise that state five feet higher above sea level and completely fill up the Everglades, thus driving all the fish out of the lagoons except the real estate sharks.

WOMEN IN GOLF FINALS

Mrs. Fraser and Miss Collett Clash for National Title at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS COUNTRY CLUB, CLAYTON, Mo., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Alexa Stirling Fraser of Ottawa, Canada, and Miss Glenna Collett of Providence, were to fight it out today for the women's national amateur golf championship. Both are former title holders.

The finalists in the women's golf classic won their right to compete for the trophy in the stiffest competition of a tournament that has furnished thrills galore.

Mrs. Fraser Friday was forced to the nineteenth hole before she eliminated Miss Louise Fordyce, Youngstown, Ohio, 1 up, and then the sinking of a wonderful forty-foot putt was required to clinch a victory. Miss Collett finished the same distance in front of Miss Edith Cummings of Chicago, in a match that went the full eighteen holes.

Jogging Around Field

Crimson Gridders getting in shape.

AJOG around the field usually winds up the daily football practice of the big college squads, especially in the early season. It's just the thing to get the old wind in shape, though it's the toughest part of the session for the heavyweights aspirants, who invariably are forced to drop out.

In the above photo members of the Harvard squad are shown jogging it around the field after a strenuous afternoon's practice.

Ted Rickard, foreseeing a dearth of good matches among the bantams, featherweights and lightweights, intends to feature fighters between 147 and 160 pounds. This squad includes Harry Greb, Dave Shade, Jack Zivic, Sailor Freedman and probably Milligan.

Milligan signed his own recommendation when he beat Schaeffer, who is highly respected and widely avoided as a dangerous puncher.

OUTFIELD OF SENATORS SHINES ON DEFENSIVE

Goslin, McNeely and Rice Have Aided Greatly in Winning Pennant—Pirates Hold Batting Edge.

By Henry L. Farrell
United Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—During the Labor Day double-header, when the Philadelphia Senators were embarking the hopes of the Philadelphia Athletics, the Washington outfield threw out four runners at the plate and won both games. Philadelphia critics roasted the Athletic player for stupid base running, but if they had known the real reason they would have marveled at the brains and the daring of the Washington defense.

One of the umpires who worked in the game told the writer what happened on the field and he said it was the smartest and boldest piece of work he had seen in years of experience.

The Athletics had the tying run on third base four times with one down. The first time Harris called his outfielders in.

Harris' Strategy
"Play close for this fellow and try to make the out at the plate," he told Goslin, Rice and McNeely. Rice said the batter was a strong right fielder and might knock the ball over his head if he came in too close.

"We've got to take 'hat chance," Harris said. "We're gami ing against that run. If he hits over your head it would be long enough to score that run anyway and if he hits in front of you you're close enough for a quick play at the plate."

Rice came in almost on top of Joe Harris, at first base, and Harris moved in toward the plate. The batter smacked a line drive right in front of Rice who made a beautiful throw to the plate and caught the runner by three feet.

That play was pulled not only once but four times when the game was in the balance.

PIRATES HAVE SPEED
Individually Barnhart, Carey and Cuyler are superior to Goslin, McNeely and Rice.

BUSH STAYS

Owne and Smith Agree on Terms for 1926.

President W. C. Smith of the Indianapolis A. A. team today announced before leaving for the East that Owne Bush would be at the helm of the Indians again in 1926.

Smith said he had reached an understanding with the popular peppy pilot and that Owne had agreed to make another stab for the American Association pennant as manager of the Indians.

Bush piloted the team two years and finished in second place each season. He has the roster in fine shape for next year and needs only a few changes to put the Tribe in the flag race again.

Bush's two-year contract with the Indians expired at the close of the 1925 season and Smith said Owne has promised to affix his signature to a new contract in the near future.

News that Bush will remain at the Tribe helm is pleasant fan fodder for Indianapolis diamond followers.

PRO OPENER

Ferndales and Gosport Set for Sunday Clash.

Lieutenant Halshead, the "flying cop" of the Indianapolis police force, will drop a brand new football from an airplane onto the gridiron at Washington Park shortly before 2:30 Sunday afternoon, and a few minutes thereafter the referee's whistle will sound for the kick-off of the opening professional grid game of the season, between the Indianapolis Ferndales and the Gosport Flyers.

The local squad has practiced for several weeks and looks ready for the start. Manager Nelson stated Friday night after the workout that starting line-ups mean nothing; that there has been no "first team" selected and that he has another team in reserve just as good as the one he designated to get things going.

Gates will be open early at the ball park Sunday, as a curtain-raiser between the Ferndale Triangles and the Fidelitis team will get under way at 1 o'clock.

DE PAUW BATTLES PAGEMEN

Grid Rooters Eager Despite Threatening Weather—Game at Irwin Field.

Owing to the keen rivalry existing between De Pauw and Butler, it was believed a large crowd of grid fans would be on hand this afternoon at Irwin field to see the Tigers and Bulldogs battle in their annual football scrap.

Weather this morning was discouraging, but the fans were eager and ready to face the elements in order to see the clash.

Butler went into the game a favorite, but a heavy field was expected to create many "breaks" and the Tigers were ready to fight and grab for anything to score points.

The contest was scheduled to get under way at 2:30 and the field was to be worked over previous to the struggle to make the footing as secure as possible for the rival warriors.

At University Heights this afternoon, the Oakland City College eleven was to tangle with Indiana Central in the home opener for the local team. Central rooters saw a swell chance for victory and did not intend to permit threatening weather to dampen their spirits.

Plucked From Lowly Red Sox, "Unsung" Right-Hander Gains Confidence of Manager Harris.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—World's series history presents numerous examples of players who became heroes overnight and the glory may go this year to another unsung player who never has had his chance.

"Don't overlook Alex Ferguson when you're fixing up your dope," a veteran American League umpire said recently. "A lot of critics have forgotten he is with Washington, but if I don't miss my guess he never will be forgotten after the series. All he needs is a chance and Buck Harris surely will give it to him."

Ferguson is a member of the celebrated group of Yankee cast-offs who the Senators that includes Roger Peckinpah, Muddy Ruel and Everett Scott. Miller Huggins sent him "up the river" to Boston without giving him much of a chance to make good and he didn't have enough behind him with the Red Sox to make good when he got the chance.

Buck Harris then picked him up, gave him some stock words and the cast-off made good just as Ruether and Coveleskie did when they found out some one wanted them.

If Ferguson lives up to expectations, the Senators may not miss Coveleskie so badly if the Pole pulls up with a lame back as he is reported.

In making the announcement that Johnson would pitch the opening game, Harris was apparent Harris has hopes he can use the big fellow in three games and no doubt he expects him to do better than he did in his two starts against the New York Giants last year.

TWO H. S. TEAMS IN VICTORIES

Tech and Shortridge Win Easily—Manual and Ripple Lose.

Indianapolis high school football teams broke even on Friday in four games. Shortridge and Technical continued to clean up, the former defeating Kirkin at Irwin Field, 26 to 0, and Tech romping over Jefferson High of Lafayette at Tech field, 57 to 0.

Manual lost to Wabash at that town, 14 to 7. The Silent Hoosiers said it with a touchdown at Broad Ripple and defeated the suburban eleven, 7 to 0.

Shortridge started out fast against Kirkin and ran up thirteen points in the first quarter. Kern, Holt and Kilgore, were the Northsiders' chief threats. One touchdown was added in the third quarter and another in the fourth period.

Technical scored in every quarter against Jeff and made sixteen first downs to the visitors' one. Johnson, Balay, Robinson and Clark ran wild for the winners.

The breaks were against Manual at Wabash. The winners counted a touchdown in the first period when Austin intercepted a Manual pass and raced sixty yards for a touchdown. The other touchdown was scored on a long run by Marks and a completed pass. Manual counted its touchdown in the final period when Higgs went over after he had received a forward pass.

The Silent Hoosiers scored in the first quarter on a blocked punt. And that was all. Ripple could not score and the contest was an even battle thereafter with the ball near the middle of the field.

JACK SIGNS

Hendricks Gets Salary Boost as Cincy Manager.

By United Press
CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—Jack Hendricks of Indianapolis Friday was re-appointed manager of the Cincinnati Nationals for one year with an increase in salary.

Hendricks re-engaged Grover Land as coach of the Cincinnati battery for the 1926 campaign.

Hendricks managed the Indianapolis American Association team for several seasons, winning the pennant in 1917. He also managed the St. Louis Nationals in the short season of 1918. He piloted clubs in the old Central League and in the Western League, during his early days as a manager.

Hendricks said Friday night he probably would move his family to Cincinnati this winter.

Next season will be Hendricks' third year as boss of the Reds.

OLD NICK TELLS OF HIS NINE'S FINE POINTS

Baseball's Buffoon Becomes Serious and Explains the Power of Washington's World Series Entry.

By Billy Evans
Veteran American League Umpire.

Nick Altrock is known to present day baseball fans as baseball's buffoon. To get down to brass tacks, Nick is a member of the team of Altrock and Schacht, the clowns of the diamond. For perhaps ten years, Nick has been drawing a fat baseball salary for his ability to make fans laugh. He is a past master in the art of pantomime, has a keen sense of humor.

When the Washington club is on the road, Altrock shares drawing power with the great Walter Johnson.

Was Star Twirler
Altrock, the buffoon of today, was one of the game's greatest pitchers twenty years back. That fact is lost sight of by many when talking about Nick.

A smart pitcher, Altrock was very helpful to his club in developing the young pitchers aside from making the fans laugh.

Always a close student of the game, Nick views the coming series with Pittsburgh with a sense of alarm.

FAVORITES USUALLY LOSE

"The experts who are doing the series backward and forward rate Pittsburgh favorite," says Nick. "The favorites are beaten in a world series, so perhaps that is a good omen."

"If we can believe the experts, a left-handed pitcher will win the series. The Pirates murder speed."

Altrock's batting strength of the Pittsburgh infield may be greater, but defensively our margin more than makes up for the difference.

"In addition to Hughes, Peckinpah, and the rest of the team, our infield is far from being weak at the bat. That infield of ours is the greatest blotter-out of runs I have ever seen in action."

GOOD HITTERS IN SQUAD
The batting strength of the Pittsburgh infield may be greater, but defensively our margin more than makes up for the difference.

"In addition to Hughes, Peckinpah, and the rest of the team, our infield is far from being weak at the bat. That infield of ours is the greatest blotter-out of runs I have ever seen in action."

All of which proves that Altrock has his serious moments, that he is a student as well as baseball's buffoon.

WILL TO WIN

Nick's observations den the gameness of the Washington club are correct. It was the "will to win" that has been the greatest factor in its fight for two pennants.

Nick figures defense is some item in a seven-game series. That is why he feels Washington has a great chance.

In discussing the series and the weakness of the two clubs and drawing comparisons

A. A. NINE 2 UP ON ORIOLES

Colonels Again Beat Baltimore, Deberry Turning in Effective Pitching.

By Times Special
LOUISVILLE, Oct. 3.—Joe McCarthy's A. A. champions, the Colonels, downed Baltimore Friday, 3 to 1, giving the locals two straight in the "little world's series." In the series opener Wednesday, Louisville won, 8 to 7. Rain prevented play Thursday.

Joe Deberry, local right-hander, outpitched Tommy Thomas, Balto hurler, Friday, and the visitors obtained only five hits. Thomas struck out nine Colonels, but the A. A. pennant winners pierced him in the pinches enough to win behind Deberry.

Bad weather prevailed and the field was heavy, but good baseball was offered the 3,662 fans present.

The third of the Class A. series was scheduled for this afternoon and the fourth struggle will be staged here Sunday. After the Sunday franks the teams will go to Baltimore to finish the series. It is a nine-game affair, five victories deciding.

Sherwood Magee, coach of the Orioles, and Manager Jack Dunn were banished from the field Friday by Umpire Connolly of the American Association. The Orioles protested a close decision at third base that checked a rally started by the visitors.
