

STIRRIN' the DOPE

By VEDDER GARD

IT'S funny what a difference just a few weeks make! A short while ago football writers were telling us how Notre Dame would not cut any figure this year on the grid. Now they are going to the opposite extreme and saying the "Irish" look as good as better than ever.

It is hard to believe the South Bend crew is an improvement on last season's outfit. But miracles have happened before as Knute Rockne's magic wand. There is one thing sure, Notre Dame has a TEAM.

The line is said to be really an improvement over the 1924 forwards. Maxwell at center, has stood out in the early games. He is a hunky who is a bear on defense and a good passer and some so far as to predict he is going to make 'em forget Walsh. Time after time Saturday he took two men out of the way and got the runner.

He's the kind that will block punts. His spirit is superb and he keeps up a running line of chatter. The big boy sizes up plays in a hurry and bawls in.

Of course, the backfield is green and lacks the finesse of the great quartet of last year. But there is plenty of fine material in the rough and "Rock" will have them out of the kinks. At present they are a bit too anxious. There are fumbles and the backs are penalized for being in motion.

The backs haven't the speed of the "four horsemen," but they are the same kind of rangy, tricky runners. They follow interference well and get plenty of it. Hoosiers need have no fear about Notre Dame keeping up its reputation on the grid this season.

TWO local Presto-Lite baseball players are on opposing teams in the K. I. O. league championships, a two out of three series which starts at Ludlow, Ky., on next Sunday. Dick Plummer is pitching for Ludlow and Paul is playing center field for the Garner-Harvey club of Middletown, Ohio.

They are two real stars of the loop. Plummer's pitching has been sensational and Paul's work has been no less noteworthy. The outfielder is hitting .462 for the season and is leading the organization in base stealing.

ACROSS THE BOARD TODAY: Tuesday was a dismal day at Latonia. A drizzle fell from the fourth run on, and across the board was as melancholy as the weather. Jack Bauer was the only horse we laid the money on. Coroner, Bankrupt and Brudelbane were out of the douch, and Vallette was scratched. The bankroll is $211.35.

LINE WORRY

Coach Phelan of Purdue Needs Forwards.

By Times Special LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 7.—Disappointed over the showing made against Washburn, but in no way disheartened, Coach Phelan and his Purdue football squad has buckled down to work for the next contest on the schedule, with De Pauw, in the Ross-Ade stadium, next Saturday.

Phelan's worry over his line was well founded, it developed as the game with Washburn progressed, and the Boilermaker mentor must whip a forward defense into shape for the games to come.

De Pauw, Purdue's scouts reported, showed a 50 per cent improvement in play against Butler as compared to its showing the week previous, and it was remarked that the Greencastle eleven looked the strongest it has for a number of years.

The bright spots of the Washburn game were the performances of Wilcox at halfback, and Scholl at end. Both of these men are sophomores. Wilcox handled the receiving end of punts in good shape. Taube, a veteran of two seasons, has been shifted to defensive halfback, and he turned in a great game last Saturday.

AT NORTHWESTERN: EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 7.—The disabbling accident that has followed Northwestern's season, in which the back and one of the mainstays, is ill with a fever.

AT INDIANA: BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 7.—Indiana's squad, which took a light workout Thursday before leaving for Ann Arbor, Mich., where Michigan is playing tomorrow, is expected to be in good shape.

AT MINNESOTA: MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 7.—Although the Minnesota book, Coach Spears is looking ahead to the Notre Dame game.

AT IOWA: IOWA CITY, Iowa, Oct. 7.—Iowa's game is being shaken up for the final University scrap. Coach Ingerson is keeping quiet and practice was behind closed doors. Ingerson seems satisfied with the line-up that beat Arkansas.

AT ILLINOIS: URBANA, Ill., Oct. 7.—Suffering from a cold, "Red" Grange sat on the sidelines and saw Coach Simpson lead the Illinois line. The varsity was sent against the freshmen with disastrous results to the latter. Butler comes Saturday.

AT NOTRE DAME: SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 7.—Light conditions in the gym were necessary because of the rain. The game was postponed because of the rain. The game was postponed because of the rain.

AT WISCONSIN: MADISON, Wis., Oct. 7.—The freshmen used original line-up to test the weak points of the Wisconsin varsity. After one snap and lead lineman, because of difficulty in stopping the yearlings and tearing off good gains.

AT CHICAGO: CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Mud enfolded Chicago in strategy while Coach Stein polished the offense. Greengarden was used at center to the surprise of the watchers. Greengarden, a 16.7-year-old class, for game called Washington 1218-J in evenings and ask for Bill.

HEROES

BY ART CARLSON

ALL world series have their heroes. Along old ballroom's fickle trail; With autumn's dew they come anew Clamoring for the inside rail.

HERE and there some brilliant hurling, Perchance a timely hit or two— A dazzling play may save the day And start the hero ballyhoo.

WE well recall Charles "Babe" Adams, Old Matty, Baker, Coombs and Rube; And all the rest who reached the crest In classics of the long ago.

LIKEWISE there were Coveleskie, Herb Pennock, Groh and little Hoyt; Walt Johnson, yes, we must confess Each leaped to fame through some exploit.

NOW who will this time climb the heights, Where bygone heroes roam the lea; Who'll be the chap to bridge the gap In this year's hectic jamboree?

FOR someone, somewhere in the play, There waits the old hip-hip hooray!

COVELESKIE—1920

HOYT—1921

PENNOCK—1923

JOHNSON—1924

GROH—1922

Slugging Coal Miner to Box Here Monday.

Among the boys on next Monday's fistie card at Tomlinson Hall will be Brett Waggoner, young coal miner of Petersburg, Ind., who has been going good in bantam ranks. He is a hard-hitting lad.

It's a case of win or lose decisively with Waggoner—k. o. your opponent or get crooked. He will meet Eddie Smith, Chicago, who fought under the name of Tony Marino against Eddie Shea at Ft. Harrison last summer. It will be a six-round match.

Among the boys flattened by Waggoner are Eddie Roberts, Indianapolis, and Jackie Stewart, Louisville. Smith, who is working out here, says he will stop the coal miner.

Independent Football

The Acme A. A. will practice tonight at Rhodes Park at 7 o'clock. The team is being coached this year by "Red" Longmire, who directed the team in last year's game and those desiring to practice should call Belmont 4280-W and ask for Bill.

SIGN COACH

Ferndales Obtain Erehart, Former Indiana U. Star.

Archie Erehart, former Indiana University football star and later grid coach for two years at Technical High School, has been signed to coach the Ferndale pro squad this season.

The Ferndale squad has been without a coach, and the coming of Erehart to the west side camp is hailed with joy by the team followers.

While at the State University, Erehart was an outstanding player, ranking as one of the best half backs in the history of the institution. Perhaps his most notable achievement while in Big Ten competition was his run of 105 yards for a touchdown in a game between Indiana and Minnesota, after he had scooped up the oval five yards behind his own goal line.

Since leaving Technical, Erehart has kept in close touch with the grid and sport by acting as an official in college and independent games.

The gates will open at Washington Park Sunday at 1 o'clock and returns by innings of the world series game will be posted. The Elwood Lection-Ferndale game will start at 2:30.

Usual Importance Attached to Outcome of First Game in Series to Decide Baseball Title.

By United Press PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—The Senators of Washington and Pittsburgh, champions of the major league pennant races, opened the 1925 world's series at Forbes Field here this afternoon.

It has been sixteen years since this city saw a world's series, but you would think from the enthusiastic, college boy conduct of the inhabitants that it was the first time the classic of baseball ever had been staged here.

There was just as much talk of baseball and flattering support of the Pirates as there was of the Reds in Cincinnati in 1919, of the Indians in Cleveland in 1920 and of the Senators in Washington in 1924.

Some old timers, who harkened back to the 1909 Pirates, said this year's team has no Fred Clarke or Hans Wagner playing, but it is good enough to win. The youngsters of the argument that no Pirate team of the past had the offensive strength and speed that enabled the 1925 club to dash over all opposition and win the National League pennant.

All Choice Seats Gone

Reserved seats were sold out two weeks ago—even before the Pirates had reached that mathematical certainty. There were no seats of any kind available today before the gates leading to the unreserved section were opened.

There were the usual lines extending in long rows before all the unreserved seat ticket windows, and it was apparent hours before game time that the park would be filled to its capacity.

There were plenty of American Leaguers in town and the gossip around the hotel lobbies, the cigar stands and other establishments where fans gathered, showed the widest divergence in opinion on the outcome of the series that has been heard in years.

Senators Ask Odds

Washington backers looking upon the city as foreign territory were looking for odds. In Washington under similar circumstances the Pittsburgh partisans would have been asked odds to represent hometown pride.

After listening to all the talk, however, the two teams seemed to be even choice in the betting, with Washington being granted the advantage of experience and smarter baseball and Pittsburgh being conceded superiority in all-around batting strength and speed.

Great importance, of course, is always attached to a victory in the first game of a short series as the winning manager can afford to gamble on his advantage in the later games.

PENNSY TEAM WINS

By Times Special ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 7.—The Philadelphia Terminal team of the Pennsylvania railroad defeated the Indiana Harbor Belt club of the New York Central Lines, 5 to 4, here Tuesday for the championship of the two systems.

Manual Team in Good Shape for Friday's Game.

The Manual High School football team is all set and primed for the Central of Evansville game at Irwin field Friday. The team is in fine condition. The Red and White probably will start like this: Woerner and Susemichal, ends; Harlan and Kellmeyer, tackles; Emery and Hissley, guards; Bredell, center; Cruse or Harnesmon, quarter; Peek and Higgins, half backs, and Martin, full back. Others who probably will see action are Wampner, guard; Prokl, guard, and Rice, end.

ALL SET FOR CENTRAL

BIG PEP MEETING TONIGHT

Bonfire, Yells, Speeches and Music as Butler Prepares for Illinois.

Aided by a bonfire, the Butler University band and speeches by alumni and coaches, the Butler student body will generate pep this evening at 8 o'clock for the invasion of Urbana, the home of the Illinois University football team, Saturday.

Among the alumni who will speak at the meeting will be Hilton U. Brown, representing the board of directors, and "Fuzz" Hungeate, a former Bulldog football captain.

Charles Adams will speak for the students. Coaches Pat Page, Paul Hinkle and Wally Middleworth will endeavor to instill the students with spirit and pep for the game with the Illini. Capt. Lou Reichel will speak for the members of the team.

The Butler band, under the leadership of Sherman Jones, will furnish the music for the occasion. After the speeches, the yell leaders will take charge of the affair.

Graduate manager Justin Paul expects about three hundred students to make the trip to Illinois on the special furnished by the school. More than a hundred students are planning to drive to Urbana.

CHICAGO SERIES STARTS

Blankenship Against Alexander in First Sox-Cubs Game.

By United Press CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The White Sox and Cubs, engaged today in the first game of the annual seven-game city series with Blankenship pitching for the Sox and Alexander for the Cubs. The weather was cool and clear.

SHADE-GREB?

Dave After Middleweight Champs—Tex Wants Tilt.

By Times Special NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Dave Shade, considered by many the winner of his recent bout with Mickey Walker for the welterweight championship which the judges gave to the titleholder, may never fight in the class again.

Leo P. Flynn, the Californian's manager, admitted this Tuesday when he said that Shade had hard work making the 147 pound limit and that he would fight as a middleweight from now on. A return match with Mickey might tempt him to make the lesser weight, Flynn said, but that is problematical.

Shade is hot on the trail of Harry Greb, the middleweight champion, and Tex Rickard has sent out feelers designed to promote a match in his new Madison Square Garden in December.

KNOX LEAVES FOR EAST

Illinois Team Gets Early Start For Army Game.

By Times Special GALESBURG, Ill., Oct. 7.—Led by Captain Bill Senn, stellar back field man, twenty-two Knox football players left here this morning for the East to engage the Army on Saturday. With one exception the squad is in the pink of condition and ready for a grueling contest. Practice session for the team en route was to be held at Chicago today.
