

TO INVESTIGATE COURT SYSTEM

Remy Is Told to Look Into City Procedure.

Judge James A. Collins today instructed Prosecutor William H. Remy to investigate the system by which persons arraigned in city courts are bound over to the grand jury. This order grew out of the trials of Frank B. Walker, colored, and Joe Ford, in Criminal Court.

It was revealed that both Walker and Ford were serving city court sentences in the county jail on misdemeanors while awaiting trial on grand jury indictments. Walker was indicted for failure to stop after an accident and Ford for vehicle taking. Walker is serving a city court sentence for improper driving and speeding while Ford is serving a lower court term for drunkenness and improper driving.

MORRISTOWN LAD HELD

Norwell Lisher, 20, Morristown, was placed under $2,000 bond today by United States Commissioner John W. Kern on charges of violating the Mann Act. He provided bond. Lisher was charged with taking three girls from Morristown to Eaton, Ohio.

RAILROAD COMPANY SUED

Alleging he was badly cut and bruised when struck by a switch engine of the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville Railway Company, June 11, Herbert A. Phillips, a minor, through a friend, Linnie E. Fidler, has filed suit for $35 damages in Superior Court Four.

Complaint charged the engine approached him from behind without sounding any warning bell.

Who Said Santa Isn't on Job?

If the well known Mr. Gabriel had blown his horn today, police could have been no more surprised. Here's how: Jack Palmer, 884 Massachusetts Ave., parked his auto at Vermont St. and Capitol Ave. The auto had an old cheap radiator cap. When he came back, he found the cap in its place a brand new expensive bar cap and motorometer. And, when he tried to remove it, he found it locked. Palmer is nervous. He's almost afraid to drive his car for fear the rightful owner of that motorometer will claim it and cause trouble.

GIRL GIVEN SENTENCE

Mrs. Sylvia Blackwell, 18, of Bloomington, Ind., was sentenced to thirty days in jail today by Criminal Judge James A. Collins on a grand larceny charge. She is alleged to have taken clothing valued at $250. It was recovered. Homer Ward, 25, colored, was fined $1 and costs and sentenced one to fourteen years at the Indiana Reformatory on a similar charge. Robert Arnold, 22, colored, was fined $1 and costs and sentenced one to fourteen years at the Indiana Reformatory on a vehicle taking charge.

IN CLASS AA SERIES

By United Press BALTIMORE, Oct. 2.—There was no game scheduled for today in the post-season series between Louisville and Baltimore. The battle will be resumed Saturday. It is a nine-game series and each club has won three games.

STONED AUTO WINS

Indiana Youth Captures Prize in 'Worst Car' Contest.

By Times Special SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Oct. 2.—Those college boys just will find a way.

Arthur Abplanalp, Osgood, Ind., now a senior at Wittenberg College, entered his automobile in a "Worst Auto" parade here, and won second prize.

In order to have his automobile among the prize winners, it is reported that he encouraged fellow collegians to throw stones through it as a pastime between meals. Abplanalp got $20 for second prize, and that's enough to buy a new automobile.
