

PASTOR STATES HIS STAND ON BIG PROBLEMS

Dr. Davis Contends That He Believes in Keeping an Open Mind.

THE pulpit has no right to discuss trivial matters when the world is driving upon the rocks," Dr. W. C. Davis of the First English Lutheran Church said Sunday in discussing the Fundamentalists and the Modernists.

This sermon marks the first of a series dealing with important church problems of the day.

"We believe," Dr. Davis said, "that the church should help people in arriving at the truth regarding them."

"There are extremists in everything and no where more than in religious controversy. And it is the extremists that get the attention. Just as the leaders in Scopes trial in Tennessee, representing the poles of belief with respect to evolution, so the Fundamentalist and the Modernists hold the center of the stage today. If you want to get your name in the papers, says a wise lecturer to preachers, preach a sermon denying the Divinity of Christ, or marry some widow and defy your bishop."

"So in the controversy between Fundamentalists and Modernists, the very words have taken on almost a sinister meaning, especially when used by the opposing party. Dr. Shaler Mathews, himself one of the leading Modernists, says, 'the term Modernism itself is somewhat unfortunate. Despite all protestations to the contrary it gives the impression of something that is not true.'

S. H. S. Graduate Is Given Honor

Miss Georgia Carmichael

A group of fifty students by competitive examination from the student body at Indiana University to be given instruction in advance English. Miss Georgia Carmichael, 130 Niel Ave., a graduate of Shortridge High School in 1923, was among those picked.

Some 433 years ago today Christopher Columbus discovered the New World. Why, nobody has explained sufficiently yet.

Things Columbus wished on the rest of the gang, indirectly are: Eskimo pies, Thanksgiving dinners, white mule, the First Families of Virginia, restaurant fried potatoes, the 5 and 10 cent stores, barbecue sandwiches, the Florida boom, the Dayton (Tenn.) trial, New York City, the crime wave, Mexico, and billboards advertising a permanent wave.

Now, if he had not been so foolish as to stir around with the result that one bright October morning he looked across the water at a low-lying island down east of Cuba somewhere, all this trouble would have been avoided.

COLUMBUS STARTED A LOT OF TROUBLE

any spittoons sitting gracefully around railroad stations.

There wouldn't be any prohibition question, which of course bothers only America, to date.

NO Detectives

And then there wouldn't be any horse thief detectives to stop parkers and motorists, or tramp through people's houses looking for a jug which they can use themselves. In fact, there wouldn't be any flappers for the detectives to stop, and that is quite an item for Old Chris to think about as he checks upon his misspent past.

So suffice it to point with a warning finger for the benefit of any young hopefuls who may be aspiring to emulate Chris, that he was put in jail and passed to an unhappy end. Anyhow, Columbus sure started a lot.

That's the trouble, though. People are just naturally not contented with things as they find them, and consequently make them a lot worse before they get through. For instance, the fellow who thinks he can varnish the wife's piano, usually winds up in a court.

Yes, provided the New World had never been discovered the Old World would have much to be thankful for.

There would be no Anti-Tobacco League, because there would be no tobacco users to be saved from their own folly. There wouldn't be

INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevices of the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.
