

CHANGES MAY BE MADE BY SCHOOL BOARD

Cafeteria and Athletic Systems Scheduled for Reorganization.

Complete reorganization of the cafeteria system now used in the public schools and changes in the athletic management system are forecast by members of the Indianapolis school board.

Controversy loomed on the cafeteria problem when it was charged that food costs were excessive and that a fund of about $60,000 had accrued in public schools from the sale of food and the promotion of high school athletic games.

No Official Action

Although the board has taken no official action on the plan, it is understood that the installation of a supply and purchasing department at the school offices will be carried out about Jan. 1.

A purchasing agent and supply director may be employed by the board to eliminate the high cost of food in the schools and to cut the operating expenses of the lunch rooms. Representatives of the board plan to visit various schools where such systems are in operation.

Decrease in Employees

If this plan is adopted it will decrease the number of employees in school lunch rooms. It also will create competitive bidding on food supplies.

Formal adoption of the plan, depends, to a large extent, on the results of the school board election, it is said. If members now in favor of the proposition are not retained, the plan will be dropped.

Action will be taken on the athletic conditions following the settlement of the cafeteria question.
