

What Is New on the Stage

THE Charleston as it is done in dancing circles is one of the outstanding bits of entertainment included in Phoebe Whiteside's revue which comes to the Palace theater the last half of this week.

In addition to this new step, the dancers feature the buck and wing, toe, jazz, and acrobatic. Arthur Layne performs an acrobatic drunk dance as one of the many special numbers. Three men assist Miss Whiteside.

Direct from Europe the Six Has-sans who are termed as the "whirlwind wizards." These Arabs leap and tumble through space while performing their daring feats.

Cooper and Kennedy are the "joy boys" whose one aim is to create laughs and amusement through their original songs and stories.

Interpretations of different dance numbers such as the Apache, Egyptian, and jazz are effected by Anderson and Yvel, who work entirely on roller skates.

"Vaudeville Tid Bits" are the offerings of Flaherty and Stoney. A melange of jazz dance steps, popular songs, and witty conversation is found here.

"Playing with Souls" is the film with Clive Brook, Jacqueline Logan, Mary Astor, and Buster Collier. The plot deals with the fight of divorced parents to save their son from ruin in gay Parisian life. Pathe News, a comedy, and a scenic are the short reels.

A FEW FACTS ABOUT WILL ROGERS

Will Rogers, the famous cowboy humorist, who with the De Reszke Singers comes to the Murat next Sunday afternoon was born on a ranch in Oklahoma, forty-three years ago. He takes pride in the fact that he is a genuine American, as both of his parents, descended from early settlers, have a mixture of Cherokee blood in their veins. His father, one-eighth Cherokee was once a Senator of the tribe in Oklahoma.

Brought up as he was on a ranch, with many cattle, young Rogers soon became an expert cowpuncher, a good horseman skilled with the lariat. When he reached the age of young manhood he became possessed of a desire to see the world.

He made his way on horse back earning money to support himself at the different ranches en route. Chance or fate led him into a wandering rodeo troupe. He joined them and it was the manager of that troupe, who suggested to him to go to New York's annual horse show and entertain society with his riding and roping.

This was about fifteen years ago.

He made such a hit in New York, the city of great opportunities for those who have something real to offer, that it was easy to take the next step into vaudeville.

Fortune continued to smile upon Rogers efforts. His early vaudeville act was made up of mostly fancy roping, with a little bit of talk thrown in. Gradually he made more of his monologues, turning it into a witty fire of comment upon current politics and other topics of the moment. Today he is a great success.

Indianapolis theaters today offer: "No, No, Nanette" at English's; Olsen and Johnson at Keith's; Burroughs at the Broadway Elitch II.

Hair Secrets

Gleamy, Thick, Wavy Hair in a Moment

A delightful surprise awaits those who try this. When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! Your hair will appear twice as thick and heavy—sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance, and just delicately perfumed.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, heavy and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a 35-cent bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair appears after this delightful, refreshing dressing—Advertisement.
