Times Pattern Service

Boise de rose wool velour interprets an unusual coat frock, seen in Design No. 2589. It would be smart brightened with touches of red-brown leather on collar, cuffs and belt. It is extremely simple to make.
After the side seams are stitched, the fronts are gathered on shoulders, underfaced and rolled with collar, forming revers. The belt is caught in at side seams. The outline sketches are just to give you an idea of how very easy it is to make this style. Complete instructions with pattern. Cuts in sizes 16 years, 36 to 44 inches bust. The 36-inch size takes 3 1/2 yards of 42-inch material. Twill, charmeuse, tweed, homespun, velveteen or satin crepe is also appropriate. Our patterns are made by the leading Fashion Designers of New York City and are guaranteed to fit perfectly.

Every day The Times will print on this page pictures showing the latest in up-to-the-minute fashions.
This is a practical service for readers who wish to make their own clothes.

You may obtain this pattern by filling out the coupon below, enclosing 15 cents and mail it to the pattern department of The Times.
Be sure to write plainly and to include pattern number and size.

Lemon Removes Lines, Wrinkles

Squeeze the juice of two lemons in a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents, shake well and you have the very mildest antiwrinkle lotion to tighten, relax and skin, erase fine lines and eradicate crows' feet.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion into the skin at night. By morning most of the tell-tale wrinkles, tired lines and crows' feet are smoothed out, giving a more youthful contour to cheeks, chin, throat. It leaves the skin velvety soft, clear and fresh.

Beauty experts use this astringent lotion for enlarged pores, also to bleach and whiten yellow, tanned skin.
Mix this harmless lotion yourself since it acts best immediately after prepared.—Advertisement.

Martha Lee's Column

Dear Martha Lee: I am a girl 18 years old and am going with a fellow about 3 year and nine months. He has been drinking many times he would quit, but he hasn't done it yet. He says he loves me.
Do you think I should try him a little longer, or let him go? KATHARINE.

Well, if a man hasn't backbone enough to reform himself for his own pride's sake, he won't have it for anybody else. Many a girl has been inveigled into marriage thinking the man would cease some disgusting habit if she would take him and reform him. But it can't be done. Love of self is more often stronger than love of each other and if a man doesn't love himself well enough to let such habits alone, then he isn't going to do it for a woman.

I'd give him up if I were you. Such a person is degrading friendship.

MOTHER JOHNSON'S PROBLEMS!

Little Mary Johnson came home from school crying, and her mother pushed into the oven the pan of cookies she had just finished, and ran to comfort her.
"What is it now, dear? Did you fall again, or have you a low mark on your report card?"

"No, mother, neither," she sobbed. "You know the party we are having for our teacher? Well the girls say that I can't be in the dance unless I can have a new white dress with ruffles. And James will need a new suit, too."

And poor little Mary threw herself into her mother's arms and began to cry again, as though her heart were broken.
Mrs. Johnson's own eyes were far from dry, but she knew there was no use promising the child the dress and have her disappointed later. Mr. Johnson did not earn a very large salary, and with rent to pay, and three growing kiddies to feed, there was never any money left for ruffles or ribbons. During the summer there had been considerable sickness and the doctor had taken practically all of their scanty savings.

By and by James came in, and while he said nothing it was plain to be seen that he had something on his mind. After the children had gone to bed that evening, Mrs. Johnson walked the matter over with her husband. Both of them hated to have their children hurt so, but what could they do?

"I can put in some overtime this week and I can let you have that," said Mr. Johnson.
And on pay day he turned over the extra three dollars to Mrs. Johnson, with his regular weekly wages. Three Dollars! What a pitiful sum with which to try and outfit two children! She was about ready to give it

THE OVER-FAT are disappearing fast

Have you noted how excess fat is disappearing now? It is not one-tenth as common as it was. Normal weight is fast becoming almost universal.

It should be so. Every idea of style and beauty calls for slenderness today. So do health and fitness. Excess fat is now a blight for which there is no excuse.

Countless people are reducing in an easy, pleasant way. That way is Marmola Prescription Tablets. Just take four a day. No abnormal exercise or diet is required.

Reduction is gradual—rarely more than one pound daily. So the body adjusts itself to the new conditions. Wrinkles don't develop.

SEVERE CASE OF ITCHY ECZEMA

Broke Out in Rash and Affected Limbs and Face.
Cuticura Healed.

"For months I did not know what it was to enjoy a night of unbroken sleep for I had a severe case of itching eczema, which was a torture. It broke out in a rash and affected my limbs and face.
A friend advised me to try Cuticure Soap and Ointment so I purchased some. The first application gave relief so I continued the treatment and in about a month I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Enid Burkhead, Hendrysburg, Ohio, Jan. 31, 1925.

Daily use of Cuticura Soap keeps the pores active and the skin clear, while the Ointment heals pimples and other irritations. Cuticura Tal-cum is fragrant and refreshing.

Soap, Ointment and Talcum. Sold

THE TANGLE

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO RUTH BURKE.

Almost before you finish this letter, dear Ruth, I will be with you.
I'm afraid, however, I will not be able to stay as long as I would wish, for Paula Perier will be here in a little over a week and I have promised her that I would entertain her.
Perhaps you will come back with me. You say you are perfectly well and I think a little change would do you good.

As I wrote you, Sally Atherton untangled that complicated skein of worry that Jack's impulsiveness and Maggie Stimpson's father got us into. Sally took Maggie home with her and although she has only been there a little over a week, you could hardly conceive how the girl has changed already.

I was a little dubious at the time over Sally's plan to take the girl into her home, but I know now that it was all right for both of them. It gives Sally something to do outside of her workaday life. She can mother the girl, and, of course, it is the making of Maggie Stimpson.
I do not know that I told you that Maggie passed from a little grub in a very pretty moth while Sally was in California.

Now that Sally has toned down the perfume and the lipstick and showed Maggie that an elaborate afternoon gown was not the thing to wear in an office at 9 o'clock in the morning, I am looking for great things from her.

I have a letter from mother. She and Karl are starting home the last of next week. She writes me that Karl is not going to marry Mary and I expect the whole Stockley connection was much disappointed. Mother says that Karl is looking and seems to be feeling much better than he has for a long time. She is going to live with him when she gets home and while it makes me quite unhappy in a way, it is perhaps the best thing all around for all of us.

You know, of course, that we have Jack's mother with us now, and it seems to me she gets worse and worse every day.

She has taken a notion that I am
