

STIRRIN' the DOPE

By VEDDER GARD

INDEPENDENT football teams of youths, 16 to 18 years old, that go out of Indianapolis to play State clubs are rather dubious sometimes about just what sort of opposition they will run up against. Upon arriving in a town the players scan the horizon anxiously for signs of future opponents.

Sometime ago a young local outfit made a trip for a game. The players were reassured while sitting in a restaurant as a youth came in carrying a pair of football pants. He seemed about their match. The shock came a little later when a big husky strolled into the establishment.

"Here, pop," said the youth with the grid breeches, "here's your pants!"

ACROSS THE BOARD TODAY

Some of our selections on Wednesday were as odd as the weather, and we didn't lay up a cent. In fact, we dropped a few dollars. One parlay went over, but did not add much. Blind Flay and Lay Flay won, the former handing by a disqualification. Pete was second at Churchill Downs. Stonewall Jackson won at sweet odds, but we had him looked up in a parlay with a couple of losers. Brotherly Love was out of the money and Shampoo was scratched. Wise Counselor also disappointed. We are an odd-odd school. Sun Kasha was third. The bank roll today is $307.25.

In the first at Churchill today we will play OUTCAST, a win place and show. Ten and ten goes on MISS HUME in the second, win and place. BASSO, RAH and BALBOA seem to go together, so we'll play 'em that way across the board. $5 win, place and show.

THERE is an amateur football team in this city, the Acme A. A., which seems to be following strictly the Chicago University system. Last season the Maroons were in three tie games against Big Ten opponents and won the Western Conference title. This year Chicago already has one 3 to 3 tie with Ohio State. The local Acme eleven has had three ties the last three Sundays. Against the Christmores the score was 6 to 6. The Belmonts and Grapplers were played with none of the outfits scoring a point. There's one good thing about a tie. One can't lose.

The Illinois University football team on its way east to play Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in one of the big intercollegiate games of the week will pass through Indianapolis today at 5:37 p. m. on the "New Yorker" of the Pennsylvania lines. In short, they are going to ride Pennsylvania before the game, anyway.

THIS is called to the special attention of those who were spattered with mud and soaked by the drizzle at Irwin field last Saturday.

"The wind was bad in the first and fourth quarters, blowing diagonally across the field from the southwest. During the fourth quarter the dust was so bad that Ingram passed to Roget by mistake, but the Idaho player, facing the storm, was so blinded by the dirt that all he could do was knock the ball down.

"Spectators in the grand stand, toward the latter part of the game, were as covered with dust as the players on the field."

This is an extract from a Spokane (Wash.) paper describing the Gonzaga-Idaho game at that city last Saturday.

A NATIVE son of Pennsylvania will hear "Hunch's" chief threat against the Quakers at Philadelphia on Saturday in the big East-West feature. Although not many fans know it, "Red" Grange was born in Forksville, Pa.

We wouldn't have guessed it either if it hadn't been for the on-the-job publicity bureau at Illinois University. It is not known whether or not the noted citizen, who first saw the light of day in Forksville, was born with a silver spoon in his mouth. But he sure does knife his way through opposing lines. If we can't punt in this column we'll punt just this once, in spite of all the groans.

What could be more appropriate than Christmas Morning winning the feature race at Churchill Downs on Wednesday. It snowed all morning at Louisville and the infield and stable roofs were covered with "the beautiful" as Christmas Morning, taking the tip, did its stuff.

The "Big Green" football team of Indianapolis, Technical High School, has only to follow the example of another "Big Green" eleven, Dartmouth, and it will win the State championship.

Indiana University grid coaches are anxiously thumbing through the almanacs these days. They are hoping there will be no "Moon" when I. U. tackles Northwestern next Saturday. A Purple "Moon" sailing across the gridiron is enough to upset the best of teams. It is reported that "Moon" Baker, sensational half-back, is about ready to get back into the fray for the Evanston team after a lay-off due to injuries.

KNUTE ROCKNE's system of football will meet an unusual test in the East Saturday. The game between Villanova and St. John will be a battle of the Notre Dame system.

Both teams are coached by former stars from the South Bend institution. Ed Garvey, giant tackle of the 1921 eleven, tutors the St. John aggregation and Harry Stuhldreher and Ed Hunsinger are directing Villanova.

'INVASION SATURDAY' FOR STATE COLLEGE FOOTBALL OUTFITS

H. S. FANS ON TOES FOR TILT

Shortridge and Manual in First City Series Game on Friday.

This is a busy week-end for local high school football teams and it is also an important one. Manual and Shortridge meet in the first city series game at Washington Park on Friday afternoon at 2:30. The contest has aroused unusual interest this season and a large turnout is expected.

Shortridge, which has been coming out of an athletic slump, has a better grid team than usual. The north riders have not lost a game. However, Manual is rated at least the Blue and White's equal, if not a little stronger, and nonpartisan rooters favor the chances of the Red and White. Shortridge has a bear story out that Peacock, regular full back, will not play because of "a leg injury."

Manual players are in shape. Higgs is back at practice, after a layoff due to a sprained ankle. He is one of Manual's best all-around athletes, and on Wednesday was honored by his team mates with the captaincy of the football team. Manual held a short scrimmage on Wednesday in the snow in preparation for Shortridge.

Other games are on Saturday. Technical goes to Newcastle, Broad Ripple plays at Kokomo and Cathedral meets New Albany in the homecoming game at Washington Park.

J. J. C. S. VS. CUMBERLAND

Local Team Out-Weighted for Sunday Game at Penny Park.

The Cumberland football team will meet the J. J. C. S. Sunday afternoon at Penny Park. The Riverdies, who were originally entered for this date, have been disbanded for the season. Outweighed almost twenty-five pounds to the man, the J. J. C. eleven will need all the speed and strategy it can muster to hold the visitors in check. However, the J. J. C. fans ask the fans to remember what David did to Mister Goliath.

Cumberland has had a fine team for a number of years and have handed the short end of the score to about every Capital City club that has visited the little town out east on the National Rd.

ALONG THE SIDELINES

AT INDIANA
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 29.—Thirty-two players will leave tonight for Chicago to play Northwestern. The formations already vastly successful against the freshmen are expected to cause plenty of trouble.

AT PURDUE
LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 29.—The "fighting" Purdue team that has walked on to stage field in years will face the Maroons Saturday. The freshmen team has been as nothing to the varsity this week. The men are all in good physical shape, except Captain Harrison and Gladders, full back.

AT NOTRE DAME
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 29.—Inclement weather continued to play havoc with the Notre Dame practice today. The team left for Atlanta today with little more than one full practice. The regulars are in fair condition for the Georgia encounter.

AT MICHIGAN
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 29.—Concentration of a varied attack and trick plays is the order in the Michigan camp this week. Coach Yost has drilled the men in surprise to be sprung against the Navy.

AT IOWA
IOWA CITY, Iowa, Oct. 29.—With Kutsch still out of the game and a possibility of his not playing Saturday against Wabash, Coach Ingwersen is being covered with several backs that may be used in his place.

AT MINNESOTA
MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 29.—Despite hard driving and heavy scrimmages against the freshmen, who are using Wisconsin plays, the Gophers continue to let some of the Badger tricks slip. Defensive work is being stressed by the coaches and the forward pass attack is being perfected.

AT OHIO STATE
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 29.—Coach Wiley, during practices this week, has used a mixture of first and second team men against the frosh. The field has been covered with snow and slush and practice conditions have not been favorable.

AT CHICAGO
CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—More experiments with guards is marking the work of the varsity this week. Coach Starr evidently is dissatisfied. The frosh made good gains against the varsity by using the Notre Dame cross-over shift.

AT NORTHWESTERN
EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 29.—The Jinx continues to pursue Northwestern, and two more have been added to the injured list. Chas. Shoemaker and "Doc" Edwards, substitute half backs. Concentration on offense is the order in the Purple camp.

AT ILLINOIS
URBANA, Ill., Oct. 29.—Red Grange led his Illini warriors toward Philadelphia today where Red will endeavor to show the East just why he is called the West's greatest. In the Pennsylvania game Saturday. Still weak on offense, but improved on defense, the Illinois line is expected to give the red head some needed aid.

AT WISCONSIN
MADISON, Wis., Oct. 29.—With the line churning in the best fashion of the year and the defensive work vastly improved, the Badgers leave here tonight for the Gopher camp. Despite a snow-covered field, the usual went through a long scrimmage Wednesday.

Soph Star

COACH YOST of the University of Michigan eleven seems to have uncovered a new star in Lewis Gilbert, sophomore back. He prepped at Kalamazoo Central High, where he was an all-around celebrity.

SEMI-WINDUP

Alte Against Redell in Next Monday's Show.

An interesting semi-windup has been announced for the boxing show Monday night at Tomlinson Hall in which the feature go is between Chuck Wiggins and John Risko. Johnny Redell of Cleveland is to clash with Merle Alte of this city in a featherweight bout. Redell claims the feather championship of Ohio and Alte lays claim to the same title in Indiana. It will be Buckeye against Hoosier. Alte has shown well here in recent fights. He was given newspaper decisions over Al Ziemer and Paul Allen in his last two scraps.

PAROCHIAL GRID LEAGUE

Cosgrove Snares Fire Passes and Cathedral Beats St. Joan.

In the only grid game of the week played in the Parochial Grade School League Cathedral swamped St. Joan of Arc, 52 to 0. Failure of their aerial attack was the primary cause of the Joan boys' defeat. Cosgrove, Cathedral, snagged five Joan passes and converted them into touchdowns.

Captain Anderson was out of the St. Joan line-up with twisted ankle. Noll punted well for the losers. Cosgrove was Cathedral's outstanding star. The victory places Cathedral in a position to make a strong bid for the championship.

WILL ASK RETURN OF 'GOAT'

Feeling That O'Connell, Former Giant, Has Had Punishment Enough.

By Henry L. Farrell

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Commissioner Landis, head of baseball, will be asked at the annual winter meetings of the big leagues to reconsider the case of Jimmy O'Connell, the young former Giant outfielder, who was placed on the ineligible list after the 1924 scandal.

The movement is not being pushed actively by any one connected with the New York club or any one with any particular sympathy for the former champions.

Most of the National League officials and practically every player in the two big leagues feels that O'Connell acted innocently if he had any part in the attempt to bribe Heinie Sand, the Philadelphia shortstop, for "not bearing down" in one of the last games of the 1924 season against the Giants.

They point out also that the New York criminal authorities failed to get a case against the California youngster and the investigation of Commissioner Landis showed that he had acted innocently and had been made the "goat."

"The boy was just a green, innocent youngster," a prominent National League man said today. "He would do anything he was told, and he was made the goat for countless practical jokes."

"One time, in the eighth inning of a light game in which the Giants were playing, one of the regulars sent him to the clubhouse for the home run bats, and he returned with an armful.

"That boy has been given a big enough dose for what he was charged with doing, and they ought to take him back."

THREE CUSHION MEET

Neal Jones defeated Leo O'Connor on Wednesday night in the State three-cushion billiard tourney at Cooler's parlors, 59 to 23 in sixty-four frames. It was Jones' third straight victory. Tonight Curtis and Rubens meet.

N. D.-Georgia Tech on Grid-Graph

The Grid-Graph, an electric football scoreboard, has made quite a hit with football fans. On Saturday the Notre Dame-Georgia Tech game will be played on this board in Tomlinson Hall, starting at 1 o'clock, Indianapolis time. Another feature of the afternoon's entertainment at Tomlinson Hall will be the announcing of the scores of other games. These scores are given out by quarters.

On Nov. 8, the Butler-Minnesota game will be reproduced, followed by the Ohio-Michigan game on Nov. 14, and the Butler-Centenary game on Nov. 21. On Thanksgiving day the Notre Dame-Nebraska game will be shown. Plans are being made to have the entire Butler student body in attendance for the Butler-Minnesota game, with a regular cheering section.

On Saturday high school students will be admitted for twenty-five cents; others fifty cents.

NAVY LEAVES

Middies Off for Michigan—Squad in Shape.

By United Press
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 29.—After a final workout Wednesday afternoon the Navy football squad left today for Ann Arbor, where the varsity will play Michigan Saturday. Coach Owsley said the players were in good shape and that center was the only position in doubt.

THAT PIRATE EMBLEM

By United Press
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—The Pittsburgh world's champions decided upon a Pirate's head, that can be worn on the lapel or used as a fob, for the souvenir in their victory in the world series.

The Proper Way!

By United Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Jimmy Farrell, brother of Johnny Farrell, and the assistant pro at the Quaker Ridge Club, made a hole in one on the twelfth hole while going around with a pupil. He was demonstrating the proper way to play the hole and dropped the drive in the cup. It was his third ace.

ROYAL COX WINS

By Times Special
CLINTON, Ind., Oct. 29.—Royal Cox, Indianapolis bantam, defeated Billy Long of Terre Haute, according to newspaper men here Wednesday night. In the main go Ace Ridge of Clinton had all the best of it against Lester Morton, St. Louis welterweight.

Few Games on Indiana Soil This Week—End—Rose-Poly at Butler for Local Grid Fans.

This is "invasion Saturday" for the Indiana college grid teams. Most all of the important contests are played out of the State. Notre Dame goes to the Southland to meet Georgia Tech, while the two Big Ten representatives, Purdue and Indiana, are at Westwood and Northwestern, respectively.

Wabash has another tough encounter on its schedule with Iowa at Iowa City. It's just one during that another for the men of Vaughan.

State Normal goes into Illinois for its clash with James Millikin. Vaj paraiso is at Columbia College. The State game of most interest is the Franklin and De Pauw battle at Greencastle. It is homecoming day for the Tigers.

The contest appears more or less of a toss-up. Neither club has shown anything exceptional. By comparative scores the Tigers seem to have the edge. Their greatest achievement was a tie game with Butler.

For local fans the Rose Poly scrap with Butler at Irwin Field is the Saturday football menu. The local team is an easy favorite. The Engineers are likely to put up a good fight, however. Hanover plays at Evansville.

On Friday Indiana Central of University Heights is at Danville North.

Back to Farm

By United Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—"I'm through with the ring forever and I'm going back to the farm," Floyd Johnson, Iowa heavyweight, said when told that the New Jersey boxing commission had suspended him for life for an unsatisfactory contest with Harry Wills.

"Even though I didn't go a round with Wills, I don't think he is a great fighter. He couldn't handle Dempsey like he handled me and I think that Dempsey would knock him out in a round."

EARLY BASKETBALL

The Belmont A. C. and St. Anthony Y. P. C. basketball teams will meet tonight at 8:30 on the St. Anthony floor. West side fans are expecting a red-hot tilt, as both teams are from west of the river and strong rivalry exists between the two. The main game will be followed by a dance. A curtain-raiser between the St. Anthony grade school and the Cathedral Mid-gets is scheduled for 7:30.

RIVALRY GAME ON SUNDAY

Southpaws and Ferndales in Intra-City Clash at Washington Park.

Indianapolis will get its first touch of intra-city football, Sunday, when the Ferndales and the Southpaws meet at Washington Park, at 2:30 p. m.

Manager Irvin Nelson of the Ferndales, received a second telegram from Knute Rockne, athletic director at Notre Dame, late Wednesday, stating that all efforts to persuade the faculty to rescind its ruling of Monday when it ordered all games cancelled which had been scheduled by Notre Dame Hall, Reserves and Freshmen, had failed.

The faculty ruling came when it was learned that some managements had misrepresented the team in billing and advertising the Sunday games.

Manager Nelson of the Ferndales and Manager Laughlin of the Southpaws, got together early today and signed on the dotted line. Both agreed because they wish to see the supremacy for local football settled.

The Southpaws have a fine record for the past three years and last Sunday showed their present season strength by handing the Linden, Ind., team a 19 to 0 defeat at Crawfordsville. The Ferndales defeated Peru, Ind., 6-0, and also displayed great strength.

A record crowd is expected and both team will hold long and extra work outs this week.

KICK ON RAISED RATES

Small Promoters in New York Protest Big Fees for Referees.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Low Raymond, representing a number of small promoters, will protest to the New York boxing commission against the raise in salaries granted to referees, judges and time keepers. "Lots of us will have to go out of business if we have to pay $200 or $300 to officials," he said.
