Along the Sidelines

AT INDIANA
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 30.—Having spent much of the week in studying a good defensive style of play, Indiana is on its way to a victory Saturday. Final practice for the tilt was held at 10 a. m. and the team was in a temperature of almost freezing.

AT PURDUE
LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 30.—Approximately 2,000 spectators of Purdue are expected to be on hand when the local team starts Saturday at St. Joseph. Every man on the squad is in shape to play except Captain Harmon and Dole Gladders.

AT MICHIGAN
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 30.—Coach Y. is expected to start the Navy game Saturday with the same lineup that started against Illinois. Light workouts have been the order in the Michigan camp this week, and the team will be in fine shape to go.

AT OHIO STATE
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 30.—Perfection of interference in running back punts is being stressed by Coach Wiles at Ohio State this week. The team that will be almost all new material. Prospects look favorable for a good team.

sent against Wooster Saturday has not been selected.

AT IOWA
IOWA CITY, Iowa, Oct. 30.—With Wooster not regarded as a very dangerous opponent, workouts this week for the Saturday game have not been hard. Several of the players are in more or less poor shape and "playboy" Kitch has not yet taken his place in the lineup.

AT NORTHWESTERN
EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 30.—Indiana is not greatly feared in the camp of Northwestern. Schumacher has been added to the first string lineup. He takes the position of right half back, the line position for several good backs this fall.

AT CHICAGO
CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Coach Stagg is again expressing his ancient fear of Purdue. The coach is trying in every manner possible to impress on the team that the game Saturday will not be a practice affair. The center of the Chicago line seems strengthened considerably.

most all new material. Prospects look favorable for a good team. The season ends on Nov. 13, and the basketball season begins Nov. 14, the football men, who also play basketball will not have time to get into shape for the first few games.

Coach J. A. Culbertson is well pleased with his track tryouts. Several drills have been held within the last week. Culbertson was a varsity track man at Hanover and Chicago University. According to the coach there is a promise of good material. Coach Kuebler was satisfied with the outcome of the tennis tournament. Much unknown material turned out to be top notch racket wielders. There is also a group of freshmen that look promising for future years.

'HOME' EVENT
The Cathedral gridders were to go through their last workout today in preparation for their homecoming game Saturday at Washington Park with New Albany.

Coach Vincent of the Irish sent the first and second team through a half hour scrimmage Thursday. The starting line-up is in doubt.

Quarter Back Miller is nursing an injured shoulder and G. Mueller probably will see action.

The game will be called at 2:30 and the officials will be Dick Miller, referee; Metzger, umpire; Mooney, head linesman.

Butler Basket Men Drill

Varsity basket ball candidates are holding daily workouts at the Butler University gymnasium in preparation for the coming net season. A number of the court men are occupied with football at the present time and will be unable to report until after the grid season.

Only two men were lost by graduation last year, Griggs, center and Colway, backguard. Woodling, Paul, Nipper, Keach, Konold, Woolgar and Strole are regulars who are playing football.

Harker, Christopher and Floyd will be contenders for positions this year. The strong freshmen quintet of last year is looked to for supplying material for the varsity. Holtz, Chadd, Collier, Summers, Zell, Jackman, Collier and Eckstein are among the sophomores who will be eligible for competition this season.
