

VICE PRESIDENT WILL SPEAK IN CITY THURSDAY

City Ready to Receive General Dawes and Party.

Indianapolis is ready to receive and entertain Vice President Charles G. Dawes, who will speak at Cadle Tabernacle here at 8:15 p. m. Thursday, Chamber of Commerce officials said today. Dawes' visit is under auspices of the Chamber. He will talk on revision of Senate rules.

The Vice President, who will arrive with his party at 5 p. m. Thursday, will be honor guest at a dinner in the Riley room of the Claypool at 6. Reservations were still being made with the Chamber of Commerce.

The Dawes party will include Mrs. Dawes, Senator and Mrs. Charles S. Densen and Mrs. Medill McCormick, wife of the late Senator McCormick. They will be greeted by committees named by Frank S. Fishback, president of the Chamber, and members of the State reception committee named jointly by Walter S. Chambers, Democratic State chairman, and Clyde A. Wall, Republican State chairman, together with all Indian congressional representatives. Senator James E. Watson, ranking Hoosier Senator, heads this committee.

To Escort Party

The Vice President's party will be escorted to the Claypool, led by a mounted police escort, motorcycle men, uniformed officers and plain clothes detectives and the Police and Firemen's Band.

Dawes, Senator Densen and Mrs. McCormick will speak at the dinner at which G. Barret Moxley, president of the Kiefer-Stewart Wholesale Drug Company, will preside.

The dinner program, it is announced, will be rather brief, since it will be necessary to conclude it by 7:45 p. m. in order to permit guests to reach Cadle Tabernacle.

Doors Open at 7

The doors to Cadle Tabernacle will be thrown open to the public at 7 p. m. No seats will be reserved in the auditorium section which seats approximately 8,000, but seats on the stage are being reserved for members of the reception committees and a limited number of other persons. The Dawes dinner will be strictly informal in deference to the Vice President's wishes.

'NOT ASKING,' ASSERTS BILL

Political Leader Says 'Gang' Won't Get Much.

"I am not asking anything from Duvall," William H. Armitage, political director of the Shank administration, said today.

Armitage also predicted the reelection of Mayor Shank after the Duvall term has expired.

"Big Bill," credited with swinging a majority of the colored voters to Duvall, said he worked from 6 to 6 in colored precincts Tuesday. He said his activity was occasioned by desire to help the Republican party and for the thrill of the political game.

"Why, the Democrats offered me all kinds of inducements to swing the votes I had to them, but I turned them down," he said. "I honestly believe Duvall has promised no one any job. Of course our gang won't get much. Duvall has a lot of his friends to take care of."

TOO FAST A WORKER

While James Goodwin, 24, of 128 N. Elder Ave., was working in the election Tuesday, he was charged with speeding and failure to have a chauffeur's license, after having been arrested by State Police Romine and Bridges.

James Matau, 32, of 559 W. Washington St., was charged with driving while intoxicated.
