

DESPONDENCY SUICIDE CAUSE

Father of Two Bank Bandits
Takes Own Life.

Despondency because his two sons are serving a sentence for bank banditry in the Indiana State Reformatory and because he had been jobless for three weeks probably caused the suicide of Lewis Northern, 54, of 116 S. Davidson St., at 6:30 a. m. today, according to Coroner Paul F. Robinson.

Northern, whose sons, Charles, 18, and Earl, 21, were convicted after the hold-up of the Kokomo State Bank and a bank at Galveston, Ind., as members of the Everett Bridge-water gang, shot himself with a sawed-off shotgun, in bed.

Viola Northern, his wife, said she and her daughter, Mary, 16, who

ATTACKS OVER, POLICE BELIEVE

Two Alleged 'Terrorists' Are Bound Over to Jury.

Police today believe attacks by colored bandits on women on the streets and in homes have been curbed.

Walter Payne, 30, colored, 715 Indiana Ave., charged with criminal attack and robbery was bound over to the grand jury in city court today. Bond was set at $15,000. He is held in jail. Payne, identified by eight victims, is credited with attacking scores of persons in their homes, and in parked autos along the roadside.

Brooker Davidson, 19, colored, 615 W. North St., arrested early Wednesday, confessed he attacked nine women on the streets this week. He was bound over to the grand jury in city court, Wednesday. Bond was set at $12,000 and he was taken to jail. His victims identified him, police say.

High Blood Pressure Often Due to Gas

High blood pressure, so often the forerunner of a general breakdown in health, is always the direct result of a too-rapid heart action. This condition is frequently caused by excessive gas in the stomach, which through expansion distorts the heart and sets it to pulsating at an abnormal rate.

It is a simple matter to reduce blood pressure to normal in cases where digestive weakness is the source of the trouble. Get a package of Baalman's Gas Tablets from your druggist and take a couple before and after each meal. See how quickly they will ease your nervous, excitable stomach and bring relief from all disagreeable symptoms of gas. You will eat better, sleep better and feel better.

Baalman's Gas Tablets are pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. You can buy them at any good drug store, including Hook Drug Co. Price $1 everywhere. If necessary, order direct from J. Baalman, Chemist, San Francisco.—Advertisement.

HOUSEWIFE RIDES SELF OF ACES AND PAINS

Mrs. Pearl Craft, Indianapolis, Ind., Says Her
Agony Stopped After Taking Todd's Tonic.

"If Todd's Tonic will do half for others, that it did for me, it is worth its weight in gold. The results I got from this wonderful tonic were amazing. I had pains in my stomach at times and did not know what was the matter with me. I was terribly nervous, had aches and pains all over, and some elderly friends of mine told me I had rheumatism. I also suffered with a poor appetite and was losing weight gradually. Finally, I was advised by a friend to try Todd's Tonic, and I shall never regret it. Todd's Tonic surely stopped my pains and aches, and I feel a great deal better and am gaining weight. It has toned up my whole system and I am feeling like a new person again. Surely I think that anybody ought to be thankful for that. This is the reason I am giving my testimonial and my thanks to Todd's Tonic."—MRS. PEARL CRAFT, 955 N. King Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.

KITCHEN SHOULD BE PLANNED

By Molly Elliott

Whether she intends to work in it herself or not, the modern woman takes delight in planning her kitchen in the new home. And the wise husband will let her carry out her wise fancies in this direction, for most of the horror of kitchen work is due to the lack of attention given this room before building starts.

Long before the first pencil line is made in the architect's arrangement of the billiard room and the radio room and the "den," a clever woman will corner him and deftly persuade him to use discretion in the position of her kitchen in reference to the rear entrance, refrigerator, dining-room and cellar. She may avoid hundreds of steps if he will be talked to on this point.

Next, she should advise with an expert as to the quality of the water supply available and the assured permanency of the wrought iron or brass pipes throughout. Says one writer: "A house without adequate supply of running hot water is not a house, but a tent." Moreover, regard as to the possibility of a supply of water, either natural or softened by an automatic softener, is a necessary feature.

Faucets Important

After these little background features have been settled, the rest of the drop is more or less simple and the stage is ready for the perfect setting. The sink, carefully placed as to the size of the room and the position of the windows, must be high enough to prevent backaches.

From there on it seems that every little thing in the planning of the kitchen is equally important. First it would seem that the lighting and electric plugs for appliances would deserve attention. A nearly perfect kitchen in this respect had two ordinary wall sockets, two high-power wall sockets, and two wall lights with frosted globes, and a center indirect light in the ceiling. One of the wall lights was directly over the sink to chase away the glooms of dish washing after dinner.

Need Closet Room

Plenty of closet room, dish cupboard, broom cupboard and storage closets, are actually essential in every kitchen and are truly receiving more attention from the average architect these days. These must, of course, be thought of before the house is planned or they can not be included. One closet, or, as our mothers taught us to say, "pantry," is not enough, for it does seem bad business to have pot and pans and dust mops and vacuum cleaners, all in the same small enclosure.

The floor covering is an essential consideration, but may well come after the house is built. However, the floor itself must be laid with care and the material used not to be an afterthought but a real part of the finished product. Care in the choice of ranges will eliminate the need for flues and outlets, otherwise there should be allowance made for these in the original plan.

The tables must be high, at least thirty-six inches, and for a person of a little above average height thirty-eight inches is not too much. Nearly every table bought at random is actually too low for the health and comfort of the average woman. Above each service table and at the side of the stove a protected rack for utensils, spoons and forks and dippers, add much to the convenience.

The walls may be made restful and pleasing by the use of cheerful and clean colors. A dairy kitchen was of white and yellow with yellow and white checked gingham Dutch casement curtains and soft tan and yellow linoleum on the floors.

The well-planned kitchen is finished with an incinerator, refrigerating system and outdoor connected openings for the refuse containers. Rooms like these will not only help the woman, who does her own housework, but will mean much in keeping an efficient maid.

Details of New Colonial Home Show Woman's Taste and Care

Home of Mrs. Lillian Abbott

The taste and care that only a woman can give to the planning of a home are obvious in many of the details of the new home of Mrs. Lillian Abbott, 5369 Washington Blvd. The house is well located on a large lot, with curved driveway leading around the south side to the spacious double garage in the rear. The architecture is pleasing and dignified frame Colonial, painted ivory.

In a center hallway a graceful Colonial stairway greets the visitor, whose eyes are immediately drawn to the interesting fireplace treatment in the long living room on the left. Above the fireplace, in which are artistic gas logs, is a paneling of rubbed finish walnut reaching to the ceiling and around the opening trimming of red brick, which gives a cheerful effect. On either side of the fireplace are French doors leading into the sunroom, which is equipped with small-paned windows on two sides and long French doors in one end, opening out into the driveway at the rear.

The dining-room, at the right, is lighted by two French doors, finished with wrought iron balconies on the outside.

The kitchen, connected with the dining-room by a gaily-papered breakfast room in gray and white opaque glass tile effect, is equipped with many cupboards and a well-designed sink, under a pair of windows overlooking the back yard and driveway. A small vestibule leads both into the basement and outside into a tiled lavatory.

Spacious and inviting are the three bedrooms upstairs and a landing on the stairway is large enough to be used as a reading nook. The owner's bedroom has a fascinating alcove at one end in which are two separate clothes cupboards and six wall sockets provide for many not-plastered, but floored for storage room. The bathroom is compact and tiled with the same unusual glass tiling as is used in the kitchen. A border of black design is used effectively, three-fourths of the way up, and soft ivory finishes the wall. A shower closet and built-in bath tub and many built-in tile accessories make this a luxurious bathroom. The woodwork throughout, except in the bedrooms and kitchen and bath is rubbed walnut. The floors are of narrow hardwood. The chandeliers are in graceful Colonial design and the doorknobs and other hardware carry out the Colonial effect. Downstairs the living room, dining room and hallway are papered in a neat gray-striped paper. Roofing and sheet metal work was done by Charles Hauser; window glass and mirrors furnished and glazed by Capitol Glass Company; plumbing, including water heater and water softener furnished and installed by Frank E. Irish; ornamental iron work done by T. Roch Iron and Wire Works; tile work in sun room, lavatory, bath room and front entrance furnished by Braun Tile Company; hardwood floors, laid and finished by Julius W. Billo; Rybolt furnace installed by Rybolt Heating Company, and finishing hardware by Vonnegut Hardware Company.
