

VALENTINO TOPS BIG CAST IN 'COBRA' AT OHIO

Nick Lucas Returns to Circle for Week's Visit.

The appearance of a new Valentino picture at the Ohio next week under the title of "Cobra," made from the stage play, injects a lot of interest in the movie field.

As a stage play, "Cobra" caused much discussion and the movie seems to be doing the same.

The Circle next week will feature Nick Lucas, the crooning troubadour, and Colleen Moore in "We Moderns."

"The Merry Widow," a big hit at the Apollo this week, starts its second week at the Apollo. This is true of "Phantom of the Opera" at the Colonial. "The Phantom" starts its second week Sunday afternoon.

"The Fighting Cub," an all star western movie, opens Sunday for four days at the Isis.

COBRA' OPENS SUNDAY AT OHIO

Rudolph Valentino selected an excellent cast to support him in "Cobra," a modern drama in which he will be seen at the Ohio next week.

"Cobra" was adapted to the screen by Anthony Coldeway from Martin Brown's successful Broadway play and was directed by Joseph Henabery. It was produced by Valentino independently and incidentally is his first picture "of his own."

Nita Naldi, Gertrude Olmstead and Claire de Loret, said to be three of the twelve most beautiful women of the screen as picked by Ernst Linnenkamp, the famous Viennese artist, will be seen in support of Valentino. Others included in the cast are the following: Casson Ferguson, Hector V. Sarno, Eileen Percy, Lillian Langdon, Henry Barrows and Rose Rosanova.

Valentino is seen as an Italian Count, who cannot resist the cobra quality in women. After he has made a sincere and successful effort to reform, the wife of his best friend falls in love with him. He goes to a hotel where she is staying, but later his conscience revolts and he leaves. That night the hotel burns and the woman is caught in the flames.

"Call A Cop," a Christie comedy, featuring Neal Burns will be the comedy attraction and with a news weekly, will complete the film attractions. Charlie Davis and his new orchestra, together with Cy Milders, soloist, will be heard in a select program of popular numbers. Ruth Noller will be heard at the organ.

"MERRY WIDOW" IS HELD FOR SECOND WEEK

"The Merry Widow," with Mae Murray and John Gilbert in the leading roles, will be held over at the Apollo for another week, due to an unprecedented demand upon the part of local movie fans.
