

ACCOUNTANTS DISCUSS TAXES

Regional Meeting Held at Athletic Club.

Restriction of the field of public accounting to men who have been certified by the boards of their respective States, was discussed at the regional meeting of the American Institute of Accountants at the Indianapolis Athletic Club Monday.

The part that accountants may play in revising the tax laws, and in simplifying the Federal income tax procedure, was reached that accountants should make definite recommendations to the law-making bodies and should cooperate to the full with the United States board of tax appeals and the treasury department.

The regional meeting was arranged by a committee headed by George S. Olive, Indianapolis and the Indiana Association of Certified Public Accountants. The session was followed by a dinner, reception and dance.

Governor Jackson welcomed the 125 delegates, who came from five States outside of Indiana. William H. West, president, and A. P. Richardson, secretary of the institute, both of New York, spoke.

And it's real relief.

No laxatives can bring it

When the bowels clog we know the liver is inactive. The bile supply is scant. We use to think that cathartics would stimulate the liver, but science has proved that they don't. They merely irritate the intestine. Medical science has discovered a real liver stimulant. It is one of the marvels of modern medicine. Physicians are now prescribing it by the tens of millions of tablets, and it is doing for countless people what nothing else has done.

This discovery is a liver gland secretion taken from the ox. It acts at once to increase the bile supply, up to a quart a day. When taken at night, results appear in the morning.

Bile floods the bowels to keep them open in the natural way. It is also an antiseptic to combat intestinal germs. Those are the germs that feed poisons to the blood to cause countless ill conditions.

This is the only way to stimulate the liver. To millions it means benefits nothing else can bring. To many it means priceless help.

This secretion is embodied in tablets called Dioxol. Each tablet represents ten drops, purified and concentrated, with other important helps.

Relieved His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk seven years ago. I feared my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no loss of time, no trouble. I have nothing to tell but will give full information about how you may find complete relief without operation, if you write to me. Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 317-M. Marcellus Avenue, Massachussetts, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and dread of an operation.—Advertisement.

1926 Flappers Aim to Get More Freedom, Wear Less

Here's the flapper of 1926, according to specifications laid down by Ernle Young, Chicago theatrical producer.

By NFA Service

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Miss 1926 will be an abbreviated creature!

She will be typically a flapper and everything about her will be shorter, from hair to skirts.

Only her complexion will be much different from her 1925 sister.

It will be ghastly white. Miss 1926 will endeavor by every cosmetic means to resemble, as closely as possible, a spook.

At least these various qualities have been attributed to the "New Year Girl," by the prophecy of Ernle Young, famous theatrical producer of this city.

Ernie is the Flo Ziegfeld of the middle west and way points.

Here's what he says Miss 1926 will be like:

She will weigh between 115 and 120 pounds.

She will be about five feet four inches tall.

She will affect the face of a corpse.

It will be painted a ghastly white with carmine smears across the lips.

Her hair will be predominantly braided or blond. Few brunets will be seen.

She will balance with dexterity a cigarette holder no less than 10 inches long between her teeth.

She will use kiss-proof rouge at evening.

Her costume will be of the eight-ounce variety and will affect the pattern of vertical-striped silk.

Her dress will be loose and drape itself from her figure showing minute outlines.

Her compact case will vanish to be replaced by the calomine canteen (gallon size).

She will wear a strictly military watch.

Her jewelry will consist of crockery (immense glass beads) and three enormous finger rings (glass also).

As for "undies" she will do without or reduce them to the utmost irreducible minimum.

She will wear the smallest chapeau that her milliner can turn out. It will be of some vivid color.

She will own an extra pair of stockings (flesh color).

Her dresses will be four inches shorter than they were during 1925.

"An oh, yes," says Ernle, "I forgot to add that she will once more roll 'em—stockings I mean, not fags."

"And her hair will remain bobbed. And she will start going in for hair tonics and other lotions that are said to prevent baldness."

Her slogan will be more freedom and less clothes.

James A. Short, Indianapolis, Ind., a Chronic Sufferer, Says He Got First Real Relief From Todd's Tonic.

"I recommend Todd's Tonic because of the remarkable results I obtained after taking only four bottles of it. I suffered for a long time from stomach trouble and a general run-down condition. I have always been a patient sufferer, and kept plugging along taking one patent medicine after another, with just temporary results. But when my friends began telling me that I looked bad, I began to think more seriously of my ailments. I saw several advertisements in the newspaper regarding the good Todd's Tonic has done for others, so I said to myself 'I am going to try one more and if it doesn't help me, I'm through.' One bottle of Todd's Tonic, however, proved to me that it was the tonic I was looking for. I will always be an ardent supporter of its merits, and I am glad to recommend it."—James A. France Wrongs Syria, Says Hoosier

Arabs in War for Protection of Their Ancient Liberties.

By Earl Sparling

Times Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—

Right-o! Lads. Many a strange day it's been since the

Hoosier colonel stomped his cordo-

van boots down the crooked stone streets of Dimshk-as-Sham, that pearl of the desert.

Consider him now, traveling around these United States, talking to Rotarians and Kiwanians instead of bearded emirs and imams, having

the screeching auto horns in his ears instead of tinkling camel bells.

He Gets Mad

But when W. G. Archer, late of the Uncle's service, and three years attached to the native Arabian army with the rank of colonel, when

Col. W. G. Archer of Evansville, Ind.,

reads about "the barbaric tribes re-voluting against France in Syria," he pulls in his lips and squares his shoulders and gets downright Indiana mad.

"It's an outrage what France is doing in Syria. These Arabs aren't barbarians. Nor are they the shekels the movies would make them. They are a just, a brave, admirable people, entirely capable of self-government.

Not Against France

"And they are not in revolt against France. They are in a war for protection of their ancient liberties. It's mighty strange if we Americans can't understand that."

Colonel Archer was stationed in Damascus all through the stirring days following the Lawrence uprising in Arabia. The Hoosier paints an emotional picture of what that uprising meant to England and France.

"Allenby and the English army was cut off at the Suez Canal. All India and Egypt were in danger. The Arabs up to this time had been necessarily sympathetic with Germany and the Turks. Suddenly with one blow, Colonel Lawrence, the young English officer, swung 200,000 Arab tribesmen, armed with German guns, to support of the Allies.

Arabs Save General

"Lawrence marched with his tribesmen on the Suez Canal. The Arabs saved General Allenby. They saved India and Egypt for England. A great wave of relief went through the Far East.

"Lawrence promised Syria and other parts of Arabia they would get free government after the war. And after the war England did set about keeping that promise. That's when France stepped in. France, by a secret treaty before the war, had been promised a mandate over Syria.

Marches Against English

"France now suddenly demanded this mandate and started marching troops on the English positions in Syria. England had either to get out or fight. She got out. Colonel Lawrence was whisked away to England for fear, perhaps, that he might lead another native uprising. The Arabs worshipped him, you know.

"And thus, long before the League of Nations really had a hand in it all, Syria was delivered up to France. And now the world calls the tribesmen barbarians and rebels when they indicate they think they got the bad end of the international deal. Its not fair, no sir."

Colonel Archer, is with the National Trade Extension Bureau. He was in Washington on one of his business trips.

SNAKE ELUDES HUNTERS

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—Farmers and neighbors recently joined in a fruitless search for a giant snake, supposed to be living in a swamp near Lebanon, Ohio. The snake, said to be as big as a stove pipe, crawled between the legs of a plow horse, according to the story, and scared the horse and plowman into fits. The snake is believed to be one that escaped from a circus twenty-five years ago.

WINDMILL TO CROSS SEA

BLARICUM, Holland, Nov. 17.—A windmill here, one of the oldest in Holland, is reported to have been purchased by a New York lawyer. It will be removed to the purchaser's estate at Rhinebeck-on-the-Hudson.

CABLE SEALS ROMANCE

DONCASTER, England, Nov. 17.—"Yes" ticked over the Long Island end of the transatlantic cable sealed a romance which began more than five years ago. Miss Kathryn Setters of Denaby Main went to the United States in 1920 as a governess. She met Louis Hilan, contractor but returned home without giving her answer. He cabled his proposal again and she accepted.

lishes a permanent relief. "Heet" contains two soothing, penetrating ingredients, too expensive to use in ordinary liniments or analgesics. "Heet" is a clean, fragrant liquid; doesn't stain, blister or irritate the skin. Druggists guarantee each 60-cent bottle—Advertisement.
