

CITY PASTORS TO CELEBRATE THANKSGIVING

Fine Musical Services Will Be Given in Local Churches.

Services of Thanksgiving will be observed in Indianapolis churches Sunday and at various times during next week.

Many churches will hold their Thanksgiving day services tomorrow, while others have planned services on Wednesday and Thursday.

Special plans have been made to provide outstanding musical programs at the churches on Sunday.

A program of Thanksgiving music has been arranged for the vesper service of the Second Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon at 4:45.

Church Musical Parade—"Fantasie in C."

Anthems—"Rejoice in the Lord, Ye Righteous," "Kotzmarian Anthem."

"Come, Ye Thankful People," "Come, Ye Thankful People," "John Pringle Scott Solo."

Organ—"Bless Our Land," "Cherubini Organ Prelude," "Thanksgiving March."

Charles F. Hansen is the organist.

THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICES IN INDIANAPOLIS CHURCHES

Following a precedent set years ago, many churches will hold union services while others will conduct sunrise prayer meetings or will observe the day with programs of their own.

The four Irvington churches, Presbyterian, Christian, Methodist and Episcopalian, will hold a union service Thanksgiving morning at the Irvington Methodist Church. The Rev. George W. Allison, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will preach. His topic will be "For Benefit Received." The Rev. C. E. Bishop of the Episcopal Church will read the President's Thanksgiving proclamation. Prayer will be conducted by the Rev. J. D. Armistead of the Downey Avenue Christian Church. The Rev. W. L. Ewing of the Methodist Church will preside.

Central Avenue M. E. Church, of which the Rev. O. W. Fifer is pastor, will hold its annual Thanksgiving service at 11:45. Sermon will be broadcast by radio.

Second Baptist Church will observe the day with its annual "harvest home" service. Thanksgiving morning, when the church will be decorated with pumpkins and shocks of corn. The Rev. H. R. Waldo will preach.

At the Brightwood M. E. Church, a sunrise service will be held for the young people. The regular service will begin at 10 a. m.

The First Presbyterian Church will be hostess to the First Congregational Church and the Third Christian Church at a union service at 10:30 a. m. Dr. M. F. Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will preside.

Special services will be held at Fountain Street M. E. Church, in charge of the pastor, the Rev. P. S. May, scheduled to begin at 11. A turkey dinner will be served in the church basement at noon.

Union services for Memorial Baptist Church, West Michigan M. E. Church and St. Paul's Reformed Church will be held in the West Michigan M. E. Church in the morning. The Rev. George C. Chandler of the Baptist Church will preach.

College Avenue Baptist Church will have a "get together" meeting in the morning.

All Souls Unitarian, Central Universalist and Indianapolis Hebrew Temple will have union service in the morning, addressed by William Dudley Foulke, widely known writer and speaker, of Richmond. Meeting will be at All Souls Church.

Downtown union services will be at Central Christian Church. Congregations participating will include First Baptist, Second Presbyterian, Meridian Street M. E. and Central Christian. The Rev. F. E. Taylor of the First Baptist Church will preach.

The Thursday prayer meeting will be changed to Wednesday next week and will be a special Thanksgiving prayer meeting.

THE MEN'S BIBLE CLASS of the West Park Christian Church, the largest men's class west of White River, will dedicate their new quarters Sunday. This class has had a healthy growth in the past eighteen months, growing from an attendance of from a few over a dozen to a record attendance of 323, with an average of over 100 per Sunday since the first of the year.

For several months the class has been meeting in the Masonic Hall, 2511 W. Washington St., while the new building was under construction. They meet for the first time in their new assembly room Sunday morning. The room has a seating capacity of 500, and the men have set a goal for 300, a record breaker, when they return to the church. Fred Schortemeyer will address the class at 9:30 a. m. Class owns their own song books and have a great musical program in preparation for their Sunday morning service.

Officers of class: The Rev. J. E. Pritchett, teacher; Don Branigan, president; Virgil Thomas, treasurer; Virgil Mount, secretary.

The new Bible school plant proper will be dedicated Sunday, Dec. 13, by the Rev. C. W. Cauble, secretary of Indiana Christian Missionary Society.

the revue which runs the gamut from the tango to grand opera.

The bill will include:

TORCAT AND DALIZA—European novelty artists, with their wonderful troupe of sixty trained costers. Working in a speedy fashion and with smart military precision, these kings of the barnyard perform a remarkable routing of tricks. It is the only act of its kind in existence.

MATTHEWS AND AYRES—A merry team of entertainers, appearing in "Hungry Love," a comedy playlet by Bep Ryan, in which Matthews has the role of a tightwad who takes his lady love out for a good time, exercising the utmost care not to spend a cent.

DEVITT AND FLETCHER—Two of vaudeville's best "hoofers" displaying an agile brand of their own eccentric stepping.

KUHN SISTERS—Singers of topical songs, in a melodious skit called "Bits of Vaudeville."

CHANDON TRIO—Three of the world's most daring aerial athletes, whose offering is aptly styled "A Variety of Sensations."

ON THE SCREEN—Tom Mix's latest production, "The Everlasting Whisper," and Kinograms.

miniature musical comedy revue taking place at the New Bedford Country Club during Wales' last visit there and introducing Luther Yantis as the one who calls himself the Prince. This substitute prince has his maids in waitings and bodyguard who sing, dance and offer comedy situations.

JOY BROTHERS AND GLOOM—Specializers in song and dance who present "Frivolities of 1925."

FLANDERS AND BUTLER—A pianist and vocalist who sing and play their own melodies in "A Vaudeville Concert."

KATHLEEN FRENCH—Featured among the "Aeroplane Girls," who are presenting their "up-to-the-minute-sensations."

Imported from abroad, Dolly Kramer and her band of midgets billed as "Tiny Syncopators," the only midget band in vaudeville, grace the headlining position of the bill the last half of the week. Nine little men and two women, all of them not over three feet in height, play and sing jazz selections.

"Personality," is a musical comedy revue. Masters and Gracie have "A Picnic for Two." Dobbs, Clark and Ray are acrobats, dancers and singers. Keene and Williams engage in a "Cross Roads Flirtation."

On the screen are: "New Brooms" with Nell Hamilton, Bessie Love and Phyllis Haver the first half and "White Man" with Alice Joyce and Kenneth Harlan the last half of the week. Short reels are also given.
