

FISH PLANTING RECORD MADE, SAYS REPORT

Many Baby Black Bass and Bluegills Placed in Public Waters.

The division of fish and game of the State conservation department, broke a record this year in propagating and planting in the public waters of Indiana, baby black bass and bluegills, according to George H. Mannfeld, superintendent.

Mannfeld reported to the conservation director that the new hatchery at Avoca, in Lawrence County, in its first year of operation, produced many thousand more infant fish than anticipated, thus enabling the department to add thousands of stock fish to the usual year's output.

The report shows a total of 1,123,025 black bass and 348,854 bluegills propagated and planted. The total fish of all species produced and liberated in public waters, was 1,978,753. Aside from bass and bluegills, the department produced and planted 511,000 yellow perch, 32,000 rock bass, 29,800 crappie, 27,200 channel catfish and 1,374 yellow catfish. During the fiscal year that closed Sept. 30, wardens rescued 79,586 imperiled fish and replanted them.

The Avoca hatchery produced 59,387 black bass, both small and large-mouth, 83,250 bluegills, and 1,600 crappie.

State hatcheries are operated with a portion of funds received from hunting and fishing licenses. Stock fish are planted in public waters on application of local residents.

"My daughter was sickly, she was irregular and also had severe headaches, and pains in her sides and back. She was this way about six months before I began giving her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped her very much. She is not bothered by headaches, backaches, or cramping any more, and has not missed but one day. We recommend it to other mothers with girls who have these troubles."—Mrs. Quigg, 210 Main St., Rochester, Pa.

"At the age of 16 my daughter was all run down, nervous, with poor blood. These troubles made her weak and unfit to work. She tried several medicines, but they did her no good. Finally I induced her to take the Vegetable Compound, too, and she has gained in health and strength and is now working steadily. I have told these facts to many mothers."—Mrs. Hudson, 252 East St., Roxbury, Mass.
