

ALIMONY ROLLS INTO OFFICE OF SUPPORT CLERK

Much Money Paid in for Children and Former Wives.

Nearly one-fifth of a million dollars has been paid in Marion County so far this year for the support of children, ex-wives and estranged members of families, according to Mrs. Grace Flood of the county clerk's office. To date 1,200 accounts have been opened, bringing $198,565.62 for support, Mrs. Flood said.

Although no separate account is kept of the amount of alimony paid, it is estimated by Mrs. Flood to be about $50,000. The highest alimony paid an individual is $200 a month. The highest amount paid for child support is $150 a month.

Every day dozens of men, women and children approach Mrs. Flood to either pay or receive money. Some

Explosion in Mouth

By NEA Service
EST. HAM, England,
 Nov. 27.—While a youth was under anesthetic to be operated on for a fractured jaw, an explosion occurred in his mouth, killing him instantly.

Dr. J. Keith Davidson said warm air from a syringe had to be used to keep the teeth dry while an anesthetic, ether and oxygen, was being applied. The explosion must have resulted from the mixture of the vapors.

Wives come to pay funds for the support of their husbands' first or perhaps second wives. Very often the children are sent to collect their own support money.

Mrs. Flood said she was amused recently when a woman informed her that her divorced husband had died and she wondered if he would pay her any more support.

Many accounts are handled through the mail. Several hundreds of dollars are brought into the office each week from all parts of the country, Mrs. Flood said.

INDUSTRIES AND ARMY WORK ON PREPAREDNESS

Problem of Maintaining War Ammunitions Is Difficult.

By United Press
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Commercial manufacturers throughout the United States are giving almost universal cooperation to the Army's peace-time plans for utilization of industry in time of war, according to the annual report of Major-General C. C. Williams, Chief of Army Ordnance, made public here today.

"Industries are taking a vital interest in the work of industrial preparedness," Williams says. "They are assisting in the army procurement plans even to the extent of expending considerable sums of their own money in the preparation of factory plans for emergency production."

"The problem of maintaining the authorized war reserve of ammunition, however, is becoming more difficult as the stocks on hand increase in age. A constant inspection is made of materials and a study of the records reveals some serious defects. Some are due to hurried war design or hurried war production, while others are due to deterioration of the explosive elements."

Williams called attention to his former pleas for funds to provide repairs for arsenals and declared that sufficient funds should be appropriated to permit reasonable maintenance of arsenals which are suffering deterioration through lack of care.

MOVE ANCIENT HOUSE
 LONDON—The remaining portions of Warwick priory have been sold to an American, a report here says. The buildings will be taken down stone by stone and carried to the United States.

It is estimated that more than 35,000 Americans visiting in Europe have flown across the English channel in airplanes rather than make the rough passage by boat.
